PREFACE

The Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) is an independent, federal grant-making government agency whose mission is to improve lives, strengthen communities, and foster civic participation through service and volunteering. For 25 years, CNCS—through its programs: Senior Corps, AmeriCorps, and Volunteer Generation Fund (VGF)—has helped to engage millions of citizens in meeting community and national challenges through service and volunteer action. CNCS provides grants to national and local nonprofits, schools, government agencies, faith-based and other community organizations and other groups committed to strengthening their communities through volunteering.

This Foster Grandparent Program Operations Handbook (Handbook) provides ideas and suggestions for effective practices in operating and managing many aspects of local FGP projects. It is a technical assistance document and not a compliance guide. Many of the suggestions refer to specific sections of the federal regulations that govern FGP, but the Handbook does not address all issues covered in the regulations. Sponsors and project directors are required to follow the FGP Federal Regulations, published in Title 45, Chapter XXV, Part 2552, of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). Sponsors and project directors with concerns or questions with respect to compliance should first consult the federal regulations, the terms and conditions of the grant award, and, if necessary, contact the appropriate CNCS program officer or portfolio manager.

1 INTRODUCTION AND OVERVIEW

1.1 PURPOSE OF HANDBOOK

This Handbook has been developed for the use of sponsors of FGP (Foster Grandparent Program) projects, including executive directors or their designees, FGP project directors and other project staff, FGP advisory council members, and others involved in managing local projects.

For further guidance on fiscal, programmatic, budgetary, and administrative matters, sponsors and project directors should consult the FGP Program Regulations, the Terms and Conditions of the sponsor's Notice of Grant Award (NGA), or their CNCS program officer/portfolio manager.

If there is a conflict between the contents of this Handbook and the federal regulations or the Terms and Conditions of the NGA, the regulations governing the grant or the Terms and Conditions of the NGA are the controlling authority.

1.2 HANDBOOK DESIGN

The Handbook is organized into a series of chapters that are designed to provide FGP sponsors and project staff with ideas and suggestions for operating their FGP projects. At the end of many of the chapters, a series of Effective Practices is presented that may help a sponsor implement a program locally. It is expected that sponsors and project directors will use these ideas to stimulate their own creative thinking and adapt the suggestions to meet their own local needs.

Further, many parts of the Handbook refer to specific sections of the regulations that govern FGP in the FGP Program Regulations, but the Handbook in no way replaces these regulations. Sponsors who want to clarify official policies should refer to the Terms and Conditions listed in the Notice of Grant Award (NGA) and any official policy guidance issued by CNCS.

This handbook will be updated periodically. Suggestions for revisions should be directed to SeniorCorpsHandbooks@cns.gov.

1.3 CNCS OVERVIEW

In 1993, the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) was established under the National and Community Service Trust Act of 1993 to connect Americans of all ages and backgrounds with opportunities to give back to their communities and their nation. It merged the work and staffs of two predecessor agencies, ACTION and the Commission on National and Community Service.

At its inception, CNCS was directed to manage three main programs:

- Senior Corps, which incorporated the Foster Grandparent, Senior Companion and RSVP programs
- AmeriCorps, which incorporated the longstanding VISTA program, the new National Civilian Community Corps program, and the full-time demonstration program that had been established under the National and Community Service Act of 1990
- Learn and Serve America, formerly known as Serve America.

Today CNCS serves more than 5 million individuals of all ages and backgrounds help meet local needs through a wide array of service opportunities. These include projects in six priority areas: disaster services, economic opportunity, education, environmental stewardship, healthy futures, and veterans and military families through CNCS's core programs: AmeriCorps and Senior Corps.

CNCS is part of our nation's history of commitment to building a culture of citizenship, service, and responsibility. For more information on the history of CNCS see the National Service Timeline. See Appendix A.7 for common acronyms.

1.3.1 CNCS STRATEGIC PLAN

The CNCS Strategic Plan provides a roadmap for using national service to address critical challenges facing our communities and our nation. It builds on the strong foundation of national service that has developed over the past decades and the vision set forth in the bipartisan Edward M. Kennedy Serve America Act of 2009. CNCS's five-year Strategic Plan leverages the strength of grantees, participants, programs, state service commissions and the American public to build a network of programs that offer effective solutions in the six priority areas: Disaster Services, Economic Opportunity, Education, Environmental Stewardship, Healthy Futures, and Veterans and Military Families. Detailed information on the current Strategic Plan can be found on the CNCS website.

1.3.2 SENIOR CORPS

Each year Senior Corps taps the skills, talents, and experience of persons age 55 and older to meet a wide range of community challenges through three programs: RSVP, the Foster Grandparent Program, and the Senior Companion Program. RSVP volunteers recruit and manage other volunteers, participate in environmental projects, mentor and tutor children, deliver meals to the homebound and respond to natural disasters, among many other activities. Foster Grandparents serve one-on-one as tutors and mentors to young people with special or exceptional needs. Senior Companions help adults maintain independence in their homes.

Through grants and other resources—including the energy and efforts of citizens age 55 and over—Senior Corps helps meet the needs and challenges of America's communities.

➤ RSVP

Since 1971, RSVP, one of the largest volunteer efforts in the nation for people 55 and over, has matched older adults who are willing to help with local organizations on the front lines of meeting community needs. RSVP projects link the skills of the volunteers with the identified needs of the community. RSVP volunteers do not receive any monetary incentive or stipend, but the RSVP project may reimburse volunteers for certain out-of-pocket costs associated with their service activities. In addition, RSVP volunteers receive accident, personal liability, and excess automobile liability insurance as well as community recognition.

➤ Foster Grandparent Program

Since 1965, the Foster Grandparent Program has provided one-on-one mentoring, nurturing, and support to children with special or exceptional needs, or who are in circumstances that limit their academic, social, or emotional development. Foster Grandparents serve from 5 to 40 hours a week and receive hourly stipends. Foster Grandparents must be age 55 or older and meet established income eligibility guidelines. In addition to the stipend, they receive accident, personal liability, and excess automobile liability insurance; assistance with the cost of transportation; recognition; and, as feasible, meals during their assignments.

➤ Senior Companion Program

Since 1974, Senior Companions have made a difference by providing assistance and friendship to adults who have difficulty with daily living tasks, such as shopping or paying bills. Their assistance helps these adults retain their dignity and remain independent in their homes rather than having to move to more costly institutional care. Senior Companions serve from 5 to 40 hours a week and receive hourly stipends. They must be age 55 or older and meet established income eligibility guidelines. In addition to the stipend, they receive accident, personal liability, excess automobile liability insurance coverage; assistance with the cost of transportation; recognition; and, as feasible, meals during their assignments.

1.3.3 FGP: Purpose and Goals

➤ Purpose

Under the authority of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act, CNCS provides grants to qualified agencies and organizations for to engage persons 55 and older in volunteer service by serving children and youth in their communities.

➤ Goals

Foster Grandparents are role models, mentors, and friends to children with special and exceptional needs, or who are in circumstances that limit their academic, social or emotional development. Achievement of FGP's purpose is facilitated by the coordination of the resources of CNCS, the FGP sponsor, and the community to fulfill the following goals of FGP:

- 1) Develop opportunities for older people willing to share their experience, abilities, and skills for the betterment of their community and themselves to serve children and youth in their communities.
- 2) Ensure that volunteer assignments are consistent with the interests and abilities of the volunteers and the needs of the community served.
- 3) Ensure that volunteers are provided needed orientation, in-service instruction, individual support and supervision, and recognition for their volunteer service.
- 4) Provide reasonable opportunity for community and volunteer involvement and support in development, operation, and appraisal of the FGP project.
- 5) Develop local support to supplement available federal sources and ensure that program expenditures are incurred at the lowest possible cost consistent with the effective operation of the project, as required by CNCS's legislation.
- 6) Cooperate with agencies and organizations involved in the fields of aging and volunteerism.
- 7) Develop a sound, locally controlled senior volunteer program with continuing community support.

1.3.4 HISTORY OF FGP

The 1960 White House Conference on Aging highlighted the need for all older people to stay active which could be done through service to their country. The conference led to the passage of the Older Americans Act of 1965 under which several pilot demonstration programs were initiated, including the Foster Grandparent Program, financed by the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) and administered by the Administration on Aging (AoA).

In August of 1965, under AoA, the program was launched nationally with 21 projects located throughout the United States whose goals were to engage people over age 60 who have some income limitation, with opportunities to provide one-to-one love and attention to children in institutional group settings while providing the older person with a sense of contribution, purpose, and a small stipend to their poverty-level income, enabling them to participate without cost to themselves.

The program quickly demonstrated that these older Americans were not only willing to share their time but had a deep desire to help others and could make a lasting, positive impact on their community. Over the years, the Foster Grandparent Program evolved to include supporting children in public schools and other settings.

In 1971 President Nixon created the ACTION agency to provide coordination of all government sponsored volunteer programs and in 1993, the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) was established, merging the work and staffs of two agencies: ACTION; and the Commission on National and Community Service. The CNCS mission was to connect Americans of all ages and backgrounds with opportunities to give back to their communities and their nation.

On April 21, 2009, President Barack Obama signed the Edward M. Kennedy Serve America Act, which reauthorized and expanded national service programs administered by the Corporation for National and Community Service. It also lowered the age eligibility from 60 to 55 and increased income eligibility to 200% of the poverty level. The Act also authorized FGP volunteers to expand service to children “having special or exceptional needs or with conditions or circumstances identified as limiting their academic, social, or economic development.”

On January 31, 2019, updated program regulations became effective for all three Senior Corps programs. The regulations updated and eliminated many regulations that had become outdated and burdensome within the context of current programming. For the Senior Companion Program, most notably, the regulations changed the volunteer service hour requirement to at least five (5) hours weekly or 260 hours annually and reduced the minimum requirement of ongoing in-service training annually from 40 hours to 24 hours.

1.3.5 AMERICORPS

Since its founding in 1994, AmeriCorps engages Americans in intensive service at nonprofits, schools, public agencies, and community and faith-based groups across the country tackling pressing problems and mobilizing millions of volunteers for the organizations they serve through three programs: AmeriCorps State and National , AmeriCorps VISTA, and AmeriCorps NCCC (National Civilian Community Corps). AmeriCorps members recruit, train, and supervise community volunteers, tutor and mentor youth, build affordable housing, teach computer skills, clean parks and streams, run after-school programs, help communities respond to disasters, and build the capacity of nonprofit groups to become self-sustaining, among many other activities. In exchange for a term of service, members earn a living allowance and a Segal AmeriCorps Education Award that can be used to pay for college or graduate school, or to pay back qualified student loans.

1.4 RESOURCES OF CNCS

1.4.1 Office of the Inspector General (OIG)

The OIG is an independent and objective office established to help improve CNCS's programs and operations, including the Senior Corps. It has the responsibility of keeping the Corporation's CEO and the Congress informed about any problems and deficiencies relating to CNCS programs and operations. The OIG carries out this role by conducting and supervising audits and investigations that promote economy and efficiency, as well as prevent and detect fraud, waste, and abuse in CNCS's programs. The OIG also coordinates CNCS's relationship on these types of matters with other organizations, including Federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies.

When to Contact the OIG: The OIG should be promptly contacted whenever information is discovered that indicates that there has been waste, fraud, abuse, or any violation of criminal law at a program or at a sub-recipient.

Contacting the OIG

The OIG will accept confidential referrals of fraud, waste, and abuse in Senior Corps or other Corporation programs.

Written notifications should be submitted to:

1.4.2 Office of External Affairs

1.4.2.1 Major Functions

The Office of External Affairs (OEA) coordinates communications, branding, and outreach and engagement efforts for CNCS and its programs. The staff works closely with other offices and departments to enhance and support efforts to reach out to external audiences. It serves as a resource for CNCS grantees to help them to amplify their own stories.

OEA maintains a "one-stop shop" for grantee communication needs, which, among other items includes:

- A Communications Toolkit, including templates;
- The CNCS Branding Guide
- An event registration link for you to easily share any and all events you host
- A link to submit photos;

For ease of discovery, you can reach these pages using the domain names SeniorCorps.gov and AmeriCorps.gov. The pages are designed to help customers, including program grantees and other stakeholders, get the information they need as easily and quickly as possible so they can focus their energies on serving community needs.

These sites recognize the power of the national service network through stories from service participants, news from the field, program spotlights and best practices. Other features include:

- Search function across all sites
- Phone directory of CNCS staff
- Stories of service
- Latest news & blogs from the field
- Photo library
- Best practices
- Program spotlights
- Interactive guides for finding the “Right Program” (for organizations and individuals)

1.4.2.3 Partnerships and Program Support

OEA develops and manages partnerships and alliances that strengthen the impact and broaden the reach of national service. It is authorized to solicit and accept private donations which support CNCS programs and initiatives. Additionally, OEA takes the lead in producing many events connected to the agency's signature projects such as the Martin Luther King, Jr. Day of Service, Senior Corps Week, the September 11th National Day of Service and Remembrance, National Service Recognition Day, and AmeriCorps Week.

In 2015, the Office of External Affairs developed an annual engagement calendar that promotes monthly activities, events and media related to our programmatic focus areas and partnerships that make service and social innovation possible.

National and Community Service Initiatives

CNCS encourages participation in community-wide service activities. OEA works with CNCS programs to support both our signature projects such as MLK Day of Service, as well as other national service initiatives like the September 11th National Day of Service and Remembrance, National Service Recognition Day, Opening Day for National Service, Veterans Corps, and Senior Corps, AmeriCorps, and SIF Weeks. These annual national service activities provide opportunities to reach out to both traditional service partners and grantees and organizations with which projects might like to form new partnerships.

- Martin Luther King, Jr. Day is a day of service that reflects Dr. King's life and teaching-- bringing people together around a common bond of service to others. Responding to a 1994 Congressional charge, the Corporation engages Americans across the country to celebrate the King Holiday in a way that reflects his proposition that "everybody can be great because everybody can serve." National service grantees lead communities in making it a day on, not a day off and answering Dr. King's important question, "What are you doing for others?" In keeping with Dr. King's teachings, CNCS promotes service that leads to better economic justice for all. CNCS provides grants to support service projects that reflect Dr. King's life and teaching.
- Senior Corps Week is an annual recognition week designed to salute volunteers from Foster Grandparent, Senior Companion and RSVP programs, recognize community partners, and communicate the impact of and on the lives of those who serve and who are served. Senior Corps Week is the ideal time to promote the continuing contributions of older adults to communities.
- September 11th National Day of Service and Remembrance is the culmination of efforts originally launched in 2002 by the 9/11 nonprofit MyGoodDeed with wide support by the 9/11 community and leading national service organizations. This effort first established the inspiring tradition of engaging in charitable service on 9/11 as an annual and forward-looking tribute to the 9/11 victims, survivors, and those who rose up in service in response to the attacks.
- National Service Recognition Day is an annual recognition where mayors, county, and tribal officials hold public events to highlight the value of national service to their cities and counties. This initiative is held in collaboration with the National League of Cities, National Association of Counties and Cities of Service.
- AmeriCorps Week is an annual recognition week designed to bring more Americans into service, thank AmeriCorps members and alumni for their powerful impact, and thank the community partners that help to make service possible. AmeriCorps Week is an ideal time to promote the depth and breadth of the national service family. In 2016, AmeriCorps will enroll its one millionth member.

Training and Technical Assistance

The Knowledge Network at is CNCS's "one-stop shopping" site for tools, training, and information about volunteering and national service. The Knowledge Network provides quick and easy access to training and technical assistance resources for national service programs.

Following is a summary of available features on the Knowledge Network:

- Senior Corps Resources

This landing page provides access to the most up-to-date training and technical assistance materials developed for FGP, SCP and RSVP programs.

- National Service Criminal History Checks

Under the National and Community Service Act of 1990, as amended by the Serve America Act (SAA), all grantees must conduct National Service Criminal History Checks. Foster Grandparent and Senior Companion projects are required to conduct checks on participants and project employees. RSVP's are required to conduct checks on project employees. In addition, grantees are required to maintain specific documentation verifying successful completion and adjudication of criminal history checks.

This landing page provides an exhaustive list of requirements, guidance and resources aimed at all CNCS programs including FGP, SCP and RSVP.

- Financial Management Resources

Organizations need to handle funds wisely. This may include developing written policies and procedures, internal controls, and budget controls. CNCS grantees also need to be familiar with documenting in-kind donations, time and activity reporting, generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP), CNCS regulations, and OMB circulars. Some of our most relevant resources related to this topic can be found on this page.

- Performance Measurement

CNCS' Performance Measurement framework provides a common focal point for CNCS's work across all programs and initiatives. CNCS has a focused set of agency-wide measures derived from the 2011-2015 Strategic Plan and each Senior Corps program contributes to them. This page provides access to common core curricula as well as to each program's specific measures, requirements, and associated resources.

- Litmos

Litmos is CNCS' online learning management system. It contains dozens of interactive online courses for Senior Corps grantees. It also contains recordings of all live webinars offered by Senior Corps. Course topics include financial management, performance measurement, evidence-based programming, approaches to tutoring and mentoring, independent living, responding to the opioid epidemic and much more. To sign up for an account:

1. Visit this page in any web browser: <https://cncsonlinecourses.litmos.com/self-signup/>.
2. Enter the required information.
3. In the Code field, enter: SC-FGP if you represent a Foster Grandparent Program, SC-RSVP if you represent an RSVP Program or SC-SCP if you represent a Senior Companion Program
4. Click "Register."
5. If you are affiliated with two different Senior Corps programs (for example, if your sponsor has both an RSVP Program and a Foster Grandparent Program), enter only one code at first. After you hit "Register" the first time, visit <https://cncsonlinecourses.litmos.com/self-signup/> again, fill out the form in full, and enter the code for the second program only. Use the same email address both times to avoid duplicating your account.

6. You're in! Consider taking a minute to view the Senior Corps Litmos Orientation before moving on. You can come back at any time to explore more and take any courses that interest you.

- New Project Curricula

Senior Corps has created two in-depth curricula to aid Foster Grandparent programs that are new to Senior Corps, both of which can be found in Litmos. They offer an interactive introduction to everything you need to know to begin working with Senior Corps, and include activities to help you get to know your grant, CNCS and the resources available to you in more depth. They were originally created for organizations that received their first Senior Corps grant, but much of the content is relevant to any individual who has joined a Senior Corps program, even if it has been in existence for some time.

You can take the curricula as a whole, or just use individual modules to brush up on specific topics. Be sure to watch the introductory videos to learn more about how you can make the most of them:

- The FGP New Project Curriculum introduces you to the basic requirements of running a Senior Corps grant, helps you understand how those requirements and strategies apply to your specific grant, and points you to resources and tools you can use to make your job easier.
- The FGP Financial Management Curriculum introduces you to the basic financial and accounting requirements and strategies for running a Senior Corps grant, helps you understand how those requirements and strategies apply to your specific grant, and points you to resources and tools you can use to make financial management easier.

Email serviceresources@cns.gov for Litmos technical support.

CNCS Research and Evaluation

The Office of Research and Evaluation (R&E) advances the mission of CNCS by building knowledge about the effectiveness of national service, social innovation, civic engagement, and volunteering as solutions to community needs. R&E also works to improve the decision-making of CNCS, its grantees, and the field through the use of scientific research methods. This is accomplished by supporting CNCS grantees, offices, and programs in the measurement of performance and results, embedding evidence throughout the development and implementation of their work, and shaping key policy decisions using credible data.

Research efforts supported by R&E include:

- The Volunteering and Civic Life in America report is issued by CNCS and the National Conference on Citizenship and shows that service to others continues to be a priority for millions of Americans.
- Evidence Exchange: a digital repository of research, evaluation reports, and data focusing on national service, social innovation, civic engagement, and volunteering. The purpose of this repository is to provide our grantees, our partners and, most importantly, communities across America easy access to this information. Senior Corps specific reports and reports on issues relevant to Senior Corps are available.
- Evaluation Resources: Evaluation is the use of social science research methods to assess a program's design, implementation, and effectiveness. It is a tool that helps programs continuously improve their work and demonstrate what they are accomplishing in communities. This page contains a number of resources to assist your program as it moves through each stage of the evaluation process.

The Electronic Grants System

The electronic grants system is an online system designed to automate the entire grants and project management process from application to closeout. It serves as the official system of record and maintains the Notice of Grant Awards which include the terms and conditions of the grant award.

Sponsors use the electronic grants system to:

- ✓ Submit and track grant applications including certifications and assurances, amendments, continuations and renewals
- ✓ Submit Federal Financial Reports, Project Progress Reports and other required reports

CNCS Program officers and Portfolio Managers use the electronic grants system to:

- ✓ Review applications and reports,
- ✓ Award and manage grants efficiently and effectively.

The electronic grants system Help Desk can be reached at:

1.4.3 The Federal Register

Senior Corps programs are governed by law and administrative rules or regulations. Making and amending government regulations is controlled by the White House's Office of Management and Budget. Notices of proposed regulations must be published in the Federal Register for public comment.

Published every Federal working day, the Federal Register is the official gazette of the United States Government. It provides legal notice of administrative rules and notices and Presidential documents in a comprehensive, uniform manner. Visit the Federal Register for free online access to its publications.

Code of Federal Regulations

The Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) is the codification of the general and permanent rules published in the Federal Register by the executive departments and agencies of the Federal Government. It is divided into 50 titles that represent broad subject areas of federal regulation. Each volume of the CFR annual edition is updated once each calendar year. The 50 subject matter titles contain one or more individual volumes, which are updated once each calendar year, on a staggered basis.

Each title is divided into chapters, which usually bear the name of the issuing agency. Each chapter is further subdivided into parts that cover specific regulatory areas. Large parts may be subdivided into subparts. All parts are organized in sections, and most citations in the CFR are provided at the section level (such as 45 CFR 2552.21). A list of agencies and where they appear in the CFR may be found in Appendix C of the U.S. Government Manual. CNCS is found in Title 45, Chapters XII and XXV. The regulations governing FGP are in Chapter XXV, Part 2552, which is typically cited as “45 CFR 2552.”

The online CFR or “eCFR” provides the public with enhanced access to Government information and is a convenient way to access the latest version of the program regulations incorporating all amendments. In the eCFR, amended sections are identified with the date of their publication and a reference to the volume of the Federal Register where they were published.

Electronic Code of Federal Regulations – the eCFR

The eCFR is a current, daily updated version of the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). The eCFR is a convenient way to access the latest version of the regulations incorporating all amendments. Regulations cited in this Handbook are linked to the eCFR.

2 PROJECT OPERATIONS

2.1 ELIGIBILITY, AWARDS, AND SPONSORSHIP

2.1.1 Sponsor Eligibility

The CNCS awards federal FGP grants to public agencies, Indian Tribes, and secular and faith-based private non-profit organizations in the United States, that have authority to accept and the capacity to administer FGP projects.

2.1.2 Solicitation of Proposals

When federal FGP grants are available CNCS conducts a grant competition. A Notice of Funds Availability (NOFA) is issued when funding for a grant competition has been appropriated by Congress (or a Notice of Funding Opportunities (NOFO) is issued when funding for a grant competition is anticipated but not yet available). The NOFA or NOFO may also be referred to as the “Notice” in application related instructions. Any eligible agency or organization may apply for an FGP grant. Notices are posted at CNCS Funding Opportunities & Resources and at the Funding Opportunities on CNCS website NationalService.gov. Notices will be shared broadly through national and local networks.

2.1.3 Submission of a Grant Application

Grant applications are submitted in the CNCS electronic grants system. Applications are submitted following the Notice instructions and using the forms included with the Invitation to Apply and Notice on the Funding Opportunities webpage. The application must be submitted by a representative of the sponsor who is authorized by its governing body to certify that all data in the application are true and correct, the application has been duly authorized by the governing body of the applicant, and the applicant will comply with the Assurances submitted with the application, if the assistance is awarded. (See Grant Terms & Conditions webpage to review the Assurances and Certifications.)

2.1.4 “Self-Sponsored” Projects

In some situations, project staff, advisory councils, boards, or other interested persons, have incorporated as an independent non-profit organization and successfully competed to become a sponsor. These so-called “self-sponsored” projects must meet all the administrative and programmatic requirements associated with sponsorship addressed in the program regulations. CNCS neither encourages nor discourages self-sponsorship but recommends that groups considering this option fully explore the advantages and disadvantages applicable to their situation and consult with other organizations who have taken this step. Contact your CNCS program officer/portfolio manager for further information.

2.2 SPONSOR RESPONSIBILITIES

2.2.1 Regulations Requirements

The sponsor is legally responsible for fulfilling all project management responsibilities necessary to accomplish the purposes of the program and may not delegate or contract these responsibilities to another entity. Sponsor responsibilities are listed in 45 CFR 2552 Subpart B of the FGP regulations. A few key responsibilities are listed here:

- 1) Focus Foster Grandparent resources on critical problems that affect children with special or exceptional needs, or children in circumstances that limit their academic, social, or emotional development within the project service area and in compliance with CNCS performance measure requirements.
- 2) Ensure that National Service Criminal History Checks are conducted according to CNCS's requirements and the sponsor's written policy for every Foster Grandparent and covered staff (see National Criminal Checks Resources webpage and Chapter 8 for further details).
- 3) Assess, in collaboration with other community organizations or through utilization of an existing assessment, the needs of the client population in the community and develop strategies to respond to those needs using Foster Grandparent resources.
- 4) Develop and manage one or more volunteer stations to provide placement opportunities that appeal to persons age 55 and over by:
 - a) Ensuring that a volunteer station is a public agency, Indian Tribe, or non-profit private organization, whether secular or faith-based, or an eligible proprietary health care agency, that has the capacity to serve as a volunteer station. Proprietary health care organizations are for-profit health care organizations that serves one or more vulnerable populations (45 CFR 2552.12). CNCS defines vulnerable populations in its grant terms and conditions to include children age 17 or younger, persons age 60 and older, and/or individuals with disabilities. Individuals with disabilities are defined as having a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities, has a record of such impairment, or is regarded as having such impairment. Refer to Chapter 6 for more information about volunteers at health care agencies and volunteer stations.
 - b) Ensuring the placement of FGP volunteers is governed by a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) between the sponsor and each volunteer station. (See Preparation of the Memorandum of Understanding in Chapter 6, for more information.)
 - c) Complying with and ensuring that all volunteer stations comply with all applicable civil rights laws and regulations, including non-discrimination based on disability and providing reasonable accommodation where appropriate. (See Appendix A.2, Primer on Civil Rights Compliance.)
 - d) Developing service opportunities to support locally-identified needs of eligible children in a way that considers the skills and experiences of Foster Grandparents and meets the performance outputs and outcomes approved in the grant application.
- 5) Make special efforts to recruit and place into FGP volunteer service individuals from diverse races, ethnicities, sexual orientations, or degrees of English language proficiency, Veterans and military family members, persons with disabilities, and hard-to-reach populations and groups in the community which are underrepresented in the project. The sponsor should stress the recruitment and enrollment of persons not already volunteering.

- 6) Provide FGP volunteers with:
 - a) Assignments that show direct and demonstrable benefits to the children, the community served, the Foster Grandparents, and the volunteer station;
 - b) Required cost reimbursements specified in 45 CFR 2552.46, including insurance, transportation, and recognition of their service, and the elective cost reimbursements of meals, uniforms, and physical exams.
 - c) A minimum of 20 hours of pre-service orientation and at least 24 hours annually of in-service training (45 CFR 2552.23(f)).
- 7) Secure community participation in local project operation by establishing an advisory council. (See Chapter 4, Community Participation, for additional information.)
- 8) Provide levels of staffing and resources appropriate to accomplish the purposes of the project and carry out its project management responsibilities.
 - a) Employ a full-time project director (except as otherwise negotiated with CNCS) to accomplish program objectives and manage the functions and activities delegated to project staff for Senior Corps program(s) within its control (45 CFR 2552.25(c)). (See Chapter 5, Project Staff, for more information).
 - b) Establish recordkeeping and reporting systems in compliance with CNCS requirements that ensure quality of program and fiscal operations, facilitate timely and accurate submission of required reports, and cooperate with CNCS evaluation and data collection efforts.
 - c) Conduct criminal history checks on all grant-funded staff, in accordance with the requirements in 45 CFR 2540.200–207.
 - d) Consider all project staff as sponsor employees subject to its personnel policies and procedures (45 CFR 2552.25(d)).
 - e) Compensate project staff at a level that is comparable with similar staff positions in the sponsor organization and/or project service area, as is practicable (45 CFR 2552.25(e)).
 - f) Establish risk management policies and procedures covering project and Foster Grandparent activities. This includes but is not limited to policies and procedures on criminal history checks of staff and volunteers, and the provision of appropriate insurance coverage for Foster Grandparents, vehicles, and other properties used in the project.
 - g) Establish written service policies for Foster Grandparent volunteers that include but are not limited to annual and sick leave, holidays, service schedules, termination, appeal procedures, meal and transportation reimbursements and document that volunteers have received program policies.
 - h) Conduct an annual appraisal of volunteers' performance and annual review of their income eligibility.

- i) Ensure that appropriate liability insurance is maintained for owned, non-owned, or hired vehicles used in the project.
 - j) Assume full responsibility for securing maximum and continuing community financial and in-kind support to operate the project successfully.
- 9) Ensure that the official sponsor and project information in CNCS electronic grants system is accurate, including the legal names of the sponsor organization and the project; the names of the sponsor's authorized representative and the project director; and their respective post office addresses, e-mail addresses, and phone numbers.
- 10) Encourage the most efficient and effective use of Foster Grandparents by coordinating project services and activities with related national, state and local programs, including other CNCS programs.

2.2.2 Fund Raising Limitations – Uniform Guidance

The sponsor assumes full responsibility for securing maximum and continuing community financial and in-kind support to operate the project successfully. Certain government-wide requirements apply to fund raising under FGP grants.

Senior Corps sponsors must follow all applicable OMB Cost Principles, as stated in the Terms and Conditions of your grant award.

All FGP grant awards are subject to the Uniform Administrative Requirements, OMB Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards located at 2 CFR Part 200 and CNCS's implementing regulation at 2 CFR Part 2205 (hereinafter, the Uniform Guidance). Award recipients must read, understand, and implement these requirements.

2.2.3 Relinquishment

If an FGP sponsor determines they are no longer able to administer the project they should contact their program officer/portfolio manager as soon as possible. The program officer/portfolio manager will work with the sponsor for an orderly relinquishment and close-out of the grant.

To begin the relinquishment process the sponsor will be asked to send a letter to their CNCS program officer/portfolio manager formally giving notice of their decision to relinquish the grant and the effective date of the relinquishment. The CNCS program officer/portfolio manager will forward the letter to the Director of Senior Corps and the project's grant officer. The program officer/portfolio manager will provide the sponsor with template letters to send to volunteers, volunteer stations, and advisory council members. The program officer/portfolio manager will set-up a meeting with the sponsor and grants officer to review the status of the grant funds for close-out. The project will be responsible to complete final project and financial reports.

2.2.4 Subsequent Requirements

The sponsor must also abide by any subsequent laws, Executive Orders, or relevant regulatory directives, including special conditions that may be prescribed for the project. The sponsor may establish additional policies not covered by, and not contradictory to, CNCS policies.

2.3 SPECIAL LIMITATIONS INCLUDING PROHIBITED ACTIVITIES

The following are special limitations, including prohibited activities, to which FGP sponsors and projects are subject. Project sponsors must have written policies in place to ensure compliance with the list below. In the event of a question as to the application of the following limitations, contact the appropriate CNCS program officer/portfolio manager.

2.3.1 Political Activities [45 CFR 2552.121\(a\)] and [45 CFR 1226]

- 1) No part of any grant may be used to finance, directly or indirectly, any activity to influence the outcome of any election to public office, or any voter registration activity.
- 2) No project may be conducted in a manner involving the use of funds; the provision of services, space, or facilities; or the employment or assignment of personnel in a manner that identifies the project with:
 - a) Any partisan or nonpartisan political activity associated with a candidate, or contending faction or group, in an election; or
 - b) Any activity to provide voters or prospective voters with transportation to the polls or similar assistance in connection with any such election; or
 - c) Any voter registration activity except that voter registration applications and nonpartisan voter registration information may be made available to the public at the premises of the sponsor. But in making registration applications and nonpartisan voter registration information available, employees of the sponsor and volunteers may not express preferences or seek to influence decisions concerning any candidate, political party, election issue, or voting decision.
- 3) No FGP volunteer or employee of a sponsor or volunteer station may take any action, when serving in such capacity, with respect to a partisan or nonpartisan political activity that would result in the identification or apparent identification of FGP with such activity.
- 4) The sponsor may not use grant funds for any activity that influences the passage or defeat of legislation or proposals by initiative petition. In other words, there is a prohibition against using FGP grant funds for lobbying activities.
- 5) Prohibitions on Electoral and Lobbying Activities are fully set forth in 45 CFR 1226. See CNCS's Frequently Asked Questions on Lobbying and Partisan Political Activity for more information.

2.3.2 Restrictions on State or Local Government Employees [5 U.S.C. 1501, 1502 & 1503]

If the sponsor is a state or local government agency with a grant from CNCS, certain restrictions contained in Chapter 15 of Title 5 of the United States Code are applicable to persons who are principally employed in activities associated with the project. The restrictions are not applicable to employees of educational or research institutions. Employees subject to these restrictions may not:

- 1) Use their official authority or influence for the purpose of interfering with or affecting the result of an election or nomination for office; or

- 2) Directly or indirectly coerce, attempt to coerce, command, or advise a state or local officer or employee to pay, lend, or contribute anything of value to a party, committee, organization, agency, or person for political purposes; or
- 3) Be a candidate for elective office, except in a nonpartisan election. (“Nonpartisan election” means an election in which none of the candidates is to be nominated or elected as representing a political party any of whose candidates for Presidential elector received votes in the last preceding election at which Presidential electors were selected.)

2.3.3 Religious Activities [45 CFR 2552.121(g)]

- 1) FGP volunteers and project staff funded by CNCS may not give religious instruction, conduct worship services, or engage in any form of proselytization as part of their duties.
- 2) A sponsor or volunteer station may retain its independence and may continue to carry out its mission, including the definition, development, practice, and expression of its religious beliefs, provided that it does not use CNCS funds to support any inherently religious activities, such as worship, religious instruction, or proselytization, as part of the programs or services funded. If an organization conducts such activities, the activities must be offered separately, in time or location, from the programs or services funded under FGP.

2.3.4 Non-Discrimination [45 CFR 2552.121(f)]

For purposes of this regulation, any program, project, or activity to which CNCS supported volunteers are assigned is deemed to be receiving federal financial assistance. (See Appendix A.2, Primer on Civil Rights Compliance, for more information.)

- 1) A sponsor or sponsor employee may not discriminate against an FGP volunteer, or with respect to any activity or program, on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, age, religion, sexual orientation, disability, gender identity or expression, political affiliation, marital or parental status, or military service.
- 2) Sponsors are encouraged to take affirmative action to overcome the effects of prior discrimination. Even in the absence of prior discrimination, a sponsor may take affirmative action to overcome conditions which resulted in limited participation.

2.3.5 Labor and Anti-Labor Activity [45 CFR 2552.121(d)]

No grant funds may be directly or indirectly used to finance labor or anti-labor organization or related activity.

2.3.6 Non-Displacement of Employed Workers and Non-Impairment of Contracts for Service [45 CFR 2552.121(b) and 45 CFR 1216]

An FGP volunteer may not perform any service or duty or engage in any activity which would otherwise be performed by an employed worker or which would supplant the hiring of or result in the displacement of employed workers, or impair existing contracts for service. See 45 CFR 1216.1.1 – 1216.1.4 Non Displacement of Employed Workers and Non-Impairment of Contracts for Service for the CNCS regulations on this subject. These regulations list certain exceptions.

2.3.7 Prohibition on Fee-for-Service [45 CFR 2552.121\(c\)]

Under no circumstances may an FGP volunteer receive a fee for service from service recipients, their legal guardian, members of their family, or friends. No person, organization, or agency may request or receive any compensation for services of FGP volunteers.

As set forth in Section 404(c) of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973 (DVSA), there is a general prohibition against grantees and volunteer stations requesting or receiving any compensation for the services of SCP, FGP, or RSVP volunteers. This prohibition is sometimes referred to as the “fee-for-service” prohibition. Section 404(c) provides the following:

(c) Compensation of supervising agencies or organizations

No agency or organization to which volunteers are assigned hereunder, or which operates or supervises any volunteer program hereunder, shall request or receive any compensation from such volunteers or from beneficiaries for services of volunteers supervised by such agency or organization.

In some cases, determining whether a payment requested or received by a grantee or volunteer station is permissible in light of the prohibition is relatively straightforward. In other cases, however, making determinations as to whether the arrangement is permissible in light of the prohibition requires a more in-depth review, including an assessment by CNCS. More Guidance on Prohibition of Fee-for-Service Activities, including examples can be found in Appendix A.12. If you have questions about fee-for-service contact your CNCS program officer/portfolio manager.

2.3.8 Nepotism [45 CFR 2552.121\(h\)]

Persons selected for project staff positions may not be related by blood or marriage to other project staff, sponsor staff or officers, or members of the sponsor Board of Directors, unless there is written concurrence from the Advisory Council and with notification to CNCS.

2.3.9 Volunteer Status [45 CFR 2552.45]

FGP volunteers are not employees of the sponsor, the volunteer station, CNCS, or the Federal Government.

2.3.10 Fair Labor Standards [45 CFR 2552.121\(e\)]

A sponsor that employs laborers and mechanics for construction, alteration, or repair of facilities must pay wages at prevailing rates as determined by the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the Davis-Bacon Act, as amended, 40 U.S.C. § 276a.

2.4 EFFECTIVE PRACTICES IN PROJECT OPERATIONS

Ensuring that the Sponsoring Organization Takes a Leadership Role

Effective practices include:

- A. The sponsor values the project as an integral part of its organizational vision and operations by:
 - 1. Communicating the importance of the project to its Board, staff, and volunteers;
 - 2. Ensuring that the project has adequate administrative and fiscal support;
 - 3. Playing an active role in promoting the project and its contributions to the community;
 - 4. Meeting regularly with media, political leaders, funders, civic groups, and others to promote awareness of and support for the project; and
 - 5. Maintaining communication with CNCS program officer/portfolio manager and attending state and regional training events where feasible.

- B. The sponsor provides strong project leadership by:
 - 1. Employing a project director who demonstrates strong leadership skills in working with project and sponsor staff, volunteers, volunteer stations, and the project's Advisory Council;
 - 2. Establishing and, with the project director, maintaining strong working relationships with related community agencies, organizations, and leaders;
 - 3. Ensuring that sponsor's leadership and the project director establish and maintain a good working relationship based on clear communication and mutual support;
 - 4. Designating a member of the staff who has clearly defined responsibilities for project oversight and support; and
 - 5. Developing and maintaining clear lines of reporting between project staff and the sponsor representative.

- C. The sponsor has written policies and procedures in place to ensure oversight of the project and compliance with federal rules and regulations that address topics like:
 - 1. National Service Criminal History Checks and special limitations including prohibited activities;
 - 2. Establishing and updating Memoranda of Understanding with sponsor stations;
 - 3. Fiscal management and internal controls related to management of FGP project;
 - 4. Documentation of data management systems related to tracking project outcomes, demographics, and other performance indicators in order to verify and validate data used to meet reporting requirements.

3 PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT AND EVIDENCE-BASED PROGRAMMING

3.1 CNCS PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT INITIATIVE

Older volunteers have a tremendous amount of knowledge, skill, and experience to contribute to our communities through the enriching investment of service. Through the application of performance measurement, we balance the need to implement service projects that are fulfilling to volunteers and beneficial to communities served with the demand to demonstrate results and improve project design.

Honoring the intent and vision of the 2009 Serve America Act, CNCS has established a set of national performance measures. These measures allow all programs to use common terms, definitions, and approaches to measurement and make it possible to tell the story of national service with confidence.

CNCS's national performance measures reflect six programming priorities or focus areas which include: Disaster Services, Economic Opportunity, Education, Environmental Stewardship, Healthy Futures, Veterans and Military Families, and Capacity Building. Senior Corps allows FGP projects to select measures from each of these areas following a performance measurement framework that is detailed in the Notice of Funding Opportunity (NOFO) or Invitation to Apply. This framework is subject to change. Specific measures are identified in the NOFO or Invitation to Apply Appendix B on the Managing Senior Corps Grants web page.

3.1.1 PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT BASICS

Performance measurement is the ongoing, systematic process of tracking your program's outputs and outcomes. Outputs refer to the amount of service provided. They measure the completion of activities and document the fact that individuals received services, products were created, or programs were developed. Outcomes reflect the changes or benefits that occur. Outcomes can reflect changes in individuals, organizations, communities, or the environment. This may include changes in attitudes, knowledge, behavior, or condition.

Why measure performance?

One reason is accountability. Performance measurement satisfies the need of funders and stakeholders (including CNCS participants, board members, community members, staff and clients, and taxpayers) to see that the program or project is getting results. Performance measurement helps you communicate achievements in a way that funders and stakeholders will find meaningful and compelling.

Another reason to measure performance is to determine if the change you thought would happen with your intervention is actually occurring. Performance measurement is a systematic way to collect reliable information about the intervention's implementation and progress toward outcomes.

You can also use performance measurement data to spot and correct problems. Are you reaching the population you intended? Do some people require more or less intensive service to show a positive outcome? Even when an intervention is implemented exactly as planned, performance measurement can help you find ways to strengthen the intervention to make it more effective.

Foster Grandparent Program Operations Handbook Chapter 3: Performance Measurement and Evidence-Based Programming

Performance measurement is a way to get feedback so you know if your intervention is making the expected difference, and helps you decide how to make the most effective use of your limited resources. Performance measurement also allows you the opportunity to promote the excellence of your program.

3.1.2 THEORY OF CHANGE

A Theory of Change is used in performance measurement as a way to describe why a change is expected to happen given a particular set of circumstances. It helps you map out why a specific series of service activities or intervention will lead to expected outcomes.

A theory of change has three main elements:

- Community need
- Intended outcome
- Specific intervention or set of service activities

As you develop a theory of change for an issue that your program will address, you identify where you are now, as well as the change for which you are programming. You will choose certain activities and define the amount of service required to bring about the desired outcomes.

A strong theory of change presents statistics to document the community need and includes evidence that supports the cause and effect relationship between the intervention and outcome.

3.1.3 PERFORMANCE MEASURE WORK PLANS

Performance measure work plans are used by Senior Corps grantees to explain the design of their programs and the goals they expect to reach.

All existing Senior Corps grantees as well as applicants for new funding identify performance measures in work plans in their grant applications. For the specific requirements, see the instructions for the grant application on the Managing Senior Corps Grants web page.

The elements of the work plan are:

Community Need. This is the priority community issue or problem that the Senior Corps volunteers' service activities will address. The need should be measurable and include current and reliable sources to establish the compelling nature of the need. The need should be described in enough detail to convey its importance, the consequences of it going unmet, and why Senior Corps volunteers can be an effective resource to meet it. It should be described in a way that is clear to people unfamiliar with your community.

Service Activity. The service activity is the task that the volunteers will perform. The service activity is selected from a menu of pre-defined options.

Service Activity Description. The service activity description should indicate how much service is necessary to achieve the output and outcome selected. It should include who the beneficiaries are, and what the Senior Corps volunteers will be doing with them. It should outline how often Senior Corps volunteers will provide the service, for how long, and where the service will take place.

Output. These are the immediate results or products of the services provided by the Senior Corps volunteers. Accomplishments tell what was done in some quantified fashion. They include the number of persons helped, the amount of something that was created, the number of times an activity was performed, and the extent to which a program or service was expanded.

Output Instrument. This is the tool that will be used for data collection. The instrument is selected from a menu of pre-defined options.

Output Instrument Description. The instrument description provides an outline of the data collection plan and schedule. It should include a brief description of who will collect the data, from whom, and when it will be collected.

Targets

Output and Outcome targets:

These targets are the numbers that you anticipate achieving in the third year of the performance period. For example, if you think your volunteers will serve 100 seniors in the first year, 150 seniors in the second year, and 200 seniors in the third year of the performance period as the work plan is implemented over the course of the performance of the 3-year grant, you would enter 200 as your target.

Unduplicated volunteer targets:

This is the proposed number of volunteers who will be performing each service activity. Each volunteer can only be counted once when assigned to a service activity.

The volunteer should be counted in the area where he/she will make the most impact – in terms of the type of service or in terms of the scope of service, such as the most number of hours served. Individual volunteers should not be counted towards multiple service areas.

Total volunteer targets:

The total number of volunteers engaged in the activities, if you were to assign all of them according to each activity, will be entered in this section. In this way, volunteers can be counted more than once – for example, if the same volunteer does two different types of activities such as meal delivery AND companionship, you can account for all assignments in this field.

Foster Grandparent Program Operations Handbook Chapter 3: Performance Measurement and Evidence-Based Programming

Outcome. These are the measurable changes in the community, persons served, or agency that occurred as a result of the service activity. Impacts or outcomes are measures of effectiveness of the program in the community or with those served, or they are measures of cost-effectiveness which show how much money or other resources the service activity saved in the community.

Outcome Instrument. This is the tool that will be used for data collection. The Instrument is selected from a menu of pre-defined options.

Outcome Instrument Description. The instrument description provides an outline of the data collection plan and schedule. It should include a brief description of who will collect the data, from whom, and when it will be collected.

3.1.4 IMPLEMENTING PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT WORK PLANS

To implement performance measures work plans, see the instructions for completing work plans and identifying performance measures found in the Senior Corps Grant Application. Additional guidance, measurement instruments, and other resources are available on the CNCS Knowledge Network. For questions, contact your CNCS program officer/portfolio manager.

Projects are held accountable for their actual performance against specified targets. With respect to each performance measure, grantees will be expected to:

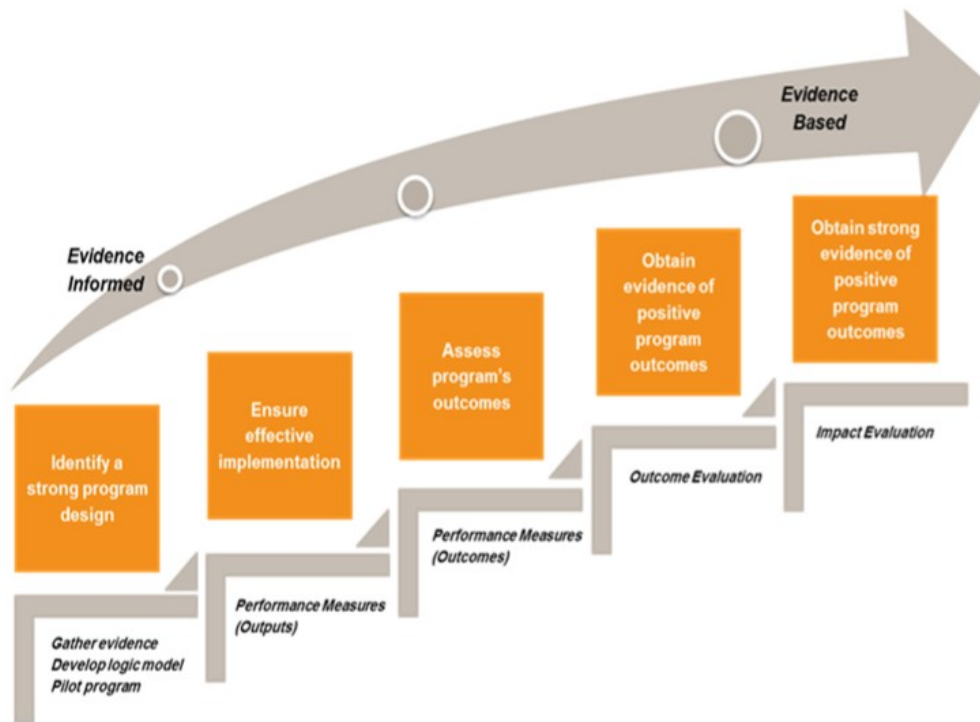

- 1) Report on progress achieved;
- 2) Make the underlying documentation of performance available for review; and
- 3) Report on any operational changes and project improvements that resulted from information learned from the performance data.

Experience has shown that clear expectations with stations greatly enhance grantees' ability to effectively collect the data that allows for performance measurement. Such expectations are often documented in the Memorandum of Understanding or a data sharing agreement. A sample data sharing agreement is available in Appendix A.13.

3.2 EVIDENCE BASED PROGRAMMING

Federal agencies, educational institutions, non-profits, and others often discuss the evidence behind program models in an attempt to understand what works and what does not. Senior Corps is joining this national conversation.

Our programs have long used evidence to support their understanding of whether the service provided is having its intended effect. Now, we seek a deeper understanding of the evidence that supports our program models recognizing that programs may have supporting evidence that exists along a continuum.

Evidence Continuum

3.2.1 Key Terms

Evidence-informed program. A program design based on academic research or program evaluations is properly referred to as evidence informed. For example, a program developer might use research on the development of reading skills or the physical activities that increase bone density to develop a program.

Evidence-based program. The term “evidence-based program,” in general, refers to a set of activities and practices supported by a theory of change tested through rigorous program evaluations. These evaluations have demonstrated a causal relationship between program activities and specified outcomes, typically through one or more quasi-experimental or experimental field tests.

Evidence-based program model. A program model is a set of activities and practices supported by an explicit theory of change, resulting in specified outcomes. The specificity of essential elements in an evidence-based program model varies. However, evidence-based program models should address:

- Amount of contact or service over a period of time (“dosage”)
- Characteristics of service recipients/communities served
- Methods of quality assurance
- Training of professional staff and supporting volunteers
- Standard procedures or curriculum
- Monitoring for fidelity to program model

Replication. Replicating an evidence-based program with fidelity to the model means that essential elements of the service activity has been implemented as described in the evidence-based program model and that adaptations are relatively minor.

For an explanation of how evidence based programming aligns with CNCS efforts to ensure volunteers are engaged in work that has an impact on volunteers and their communities (including evidence-informed programming, performance measurement, and evaluation) see the Evidence Exchange and Managing Senior Corps Grants web pages.

3.2.2 Evidence-Based Programs and Registries

Senior Corps maintains a list of evidence-based programs and registries of both programs and research that may be relevant to its grantees in Appendix A.11 to this handbook. This list is not necessarily comprehensive and Senior Corps will add additional programs and registries to this list as it becomes aware of them. If you would like to inform Senior Corps of a potential addition to this list, email SeniorCorpsHandbooks@cns.gov.

4 COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION

4.1 LOCAL OWNERSHIP

FGP projects are community-based projects supported by federal funds for the dual purpose of engaging persons 55 and older in volunteer service to meet critical community needs; and to provide a high quality experience that will enrich the lives of volunteers. In order to accomplish this, Senior Corps programs have a responsibility to partner with organizations in the local community to:

- Build public awareness of and support for the program within the community;
- Recruit and place volunteers to enhance the capacity of organizations and institutions within the community;
- Work to integrate senior service into the activities of other service programs within the community;
- Work toward common goals in local communities, complementing and reinforcing each other's contributions through activities related to Days of Service, Strategic Initiatives, and other local service initiatives.

Community participation is generated by individuals, groups, organizations and other national service programs. A project can garner community support through volunteer stations, local funding sources, civic and service clubs, the media, friends and family of volunteers and those with whom they work, other programs of the sponsor, schools, private non-profits, businesses, community leaders, and others who value the activities, accomplishments and impacts of the project and the volunteers.

4.2 FGP ADVISORY COUNCIL

4.2.1 Program Requirement

The scope and extent of participation by the many entities that make up a community will vary considerably from project to project. However, all projects can benefit from the involvement of a focused and sustained core group that provides perspective and active assistance from the service area. The sponsor determines how this core group participation shall be secured, consistent with the provisions of the program regulations. [\[45 CFR 2552.24\]](#) For the sake of easy reference, this core group is referred to as the advisory council. If the sponsor has a board that meets the purposes and requirements of all applicable FGP program regulations (see 45 CFR Part 2552), it is permissible for some or all of the members of that board to also serve on the FGP advisory council, as long as the advisory council is established and operated as entity separate from the sponsor; in other words, the advisory council must not be a part of the sponsor.

4.2.2 Role

Subject to the requirements in the applicable FGP program regulations regarding the purpose and composition of this group, sponsors have flexibility concerning the specific structure and operation of this body. Depending on local community circumstances, the advisory council may be used by the sponsor to:

- Assist in assessing community needs;
- Assist in fund raising and resource development;
- Support the development of a service ethic in the community;
- Advise on volunteer recruitment, retention, and recognition strategies;
- Suggest candidates for project staff positions;
- Link the project with other community service resources, including faith-based organizations;
- Advise on data collection and performance measurement;
- Assess project accomplishments and impact, including progress toward meeting performance measures;
- Assess satisfaction of volunteers and volunteer stations;
- Suggest ways the project can gain increased visibility and recognition in the community; and/or
- Advise on how trends in the community are affecting seniors.

FGP projects should keep thorough records of advisory council participation and structure such as the group's bylaws, current membership, and meeting minutes. Additional resources on Understanding the Roles and Responsibilities of Advisory Councils can be found on the Knowledge Network.

4.2.3 Membership

Remember, an effective advisory council can expand the capacity of the sponsor and project staff. The advisory council must have a membership that includes people [\[45 CFR 2552.24\]](#):

- Knowledgeable of human and social needs of the community;
- Competent in the field of community service and volunteerism;
- Capable of helping the sponsor meet its administrative and program responsibilities including project assessment, fund-raising, publicity, and data reporting requirements;
- With interest in and knowledge of the capability of older adults;
- Who are of a diverse composition that reflects the demographics of the service area.

Additional resources on Building an Effective Advisory Council can be found on the Knowledge Network.

4.2.4 Allowability of Costs

As advisory councils are required by Senior Corps regulations (45 CFR 2552.24(a)), grantees may expend reasonable amounts to support their activities. Such costs should still meet all other aspects of OMB cost principles, including being allowable, allocable, reasonable and necessary, as well as being documented sufficiently.

If you have a question about a specific type of expense, consult your Program officer/portfolio manager or Grants Officer to ensure that it meets these conditions.

5 PROJECT STAFF

5.1 GENERAL PROVISIONS

The project director must be an employee of the sponsor subject to the sponsor's personnel policies and practices. Sponsors may also directly employ project staff to support the project director, as well as consultants and contractors, provided that the sponsor does not delegate or sub-contract responsibility for fulfilling project management requirements. [45 CFR 2552.22 and 45 CFR 2552.25]

Hiring of project personnel must be in compliance with the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, the Domestic Volunteer Service Act, the Serve America Act, other Federal civil rights statutes and regulations, applicable state laws and local ordinances, and sponsor personnel and employment practices.

5.2 STRUCTURE

The program regulations require that the sponsor employ a project director and other staff appropriate to accomplish the purposes of the project. See 45 CFR 2552.25 \(b\) - \(e\) for provisions regarding staffing levels and compensation for staff. The size of each individual project and budget levels will often dictate the number of project staff needed to effectively manage the project.

In structuring the staffing pattern, the following should be considered:

- a) Size of the service area
- b) Number, kind, and location of volunteer stations
- c) Number of volunteers
- d) Geographic distribution of FGP volunteer assignments
- e) Types of Foster Grandparent placements and assignments (more project staff time is sometimes needed to administer and monitor Foster Grandparents with in home assignments)
- f) Specific needs of the children served
- g) Availability of funds
- h) Meeting Performance Measure requirements which involves collecting, storing, and aggregating data
- i) The potential for programs to continue to improve how they build and use evidence, including understanding local community needs, analyzing and acting on performance measurement data, preparing for possible external evaluations, or implementing evidence-based programming
- j) Availability of supplemental state or federally subsidized full- or part-time staff, and FGP or non-FGP volunteer staff

- Senior Corps grantees can collaborate with the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP), authorized by Title V of the Older Americans Act, to jointly engage older adults in several ways, such as:
 - i. Senior Corps and SCSEP grantees can work together to enable their participants to support joint community service projects;
 - ii. SCSEP participants nearing their 4-year limit on participation may be interested in participating in Senior Corps;
 - iii. Senior Corps volunteers, who meet age and income qualifications and seeking paid employment, may be interested in participating in SCSEP.
 - iv. More information about SCSEP grantees see the Senior Community Service Employment Program website.
- Volunteer staff, consistent with the nature and purpose of CNCS volunteer programs, are persons with management experience and others with experience in office operations, who may be deployed to strengthen and expand the operations of FGP projects.
- Non-FGP volunteers can be budgeted as in-kind contributions for necessary project operational functions.

5.3 PERSONNEL POLICIES FOR PROJECT STAFF

The applicable FGP program regulations require that project staff be covered by sponsor personnel policies [45 CFR 2552.25(d)]. At a minimum, policies should address salaries and fringe benefits, probationary periods of service, national service criminal history checks, suspensions, resignations, hours of employment, vacations, sick leave, holidays, terminations, and grievance procedures.

- 1) The sponsor shall compensate project staff at a level that is comparable with similar positions in the sponsor organization and/or the project service area, as is practicable [45 CFR 2552.25(e)].
- 2) The sponsor should prepare a job description for each project staff position to promote the recruitment of qualified applicants and to specify each position's authority and responsibility. It is recommended that an annual performance evaluation be completed for all staff.
- 3) It is critical that Senior Corps sponsors make National Service Criminal History Checks (NSCHC) a priority when hiring project staff. Grantees that do not comply with the NSCHC requirements may be subject to cost disallowance. Please read this section and the Criminal History Check Resources webpage carefully to be sure your policies and your implementation procedures are in compliance with the requirement. Grantees should contact their CNCS program officer/portfolio manager for NSCHC questions or requirement clarification.

5.3.1 NSCHC Overview

Under the National and Community Service Act of 1990, as amended by the Serve America Act of 2009, all CNCS grantees must conduct NSCHC on grant-funded staff and national service participants that receive a salary, national service education award, living allowance, or stipend under CNCS grants. Individuals in these positions must undergo the process in a timely manner, or the noncompliant grantee may be subject to cost disallowance. Certain parts of the process need to occur prior to charging any staff time to a CNCS grant. Therefore, it is critical to comply with the NSCHC requirements on time, every time.

The Code of Federal Regulations outlines the Nationals Service Criminal History Check rules and regulations in full at 45 CFR 2540.200–207. Additional information on NSCHC, including the required annual NSCHC e-course, an FAQ document, and links to technical assistance resources can be found on the Criminal History Check Resources webpage.

These requirements are statutory minimums, and individual grantees can, and often should, supplement these with additional safeguards for vulnerable populations, such as additional screening mechanisms, additional eligibility criteria, a code of conduct, training for staff and volunteers, and a clear system for reporting and handling reports of any harm or potential harm to vulnerable populations resulting from their program. Contact your CNCS program officer/portfolio manager for more resources on ways to protect your program’s vulnerable beneficiaries.

5.3.2 NSCHC Enforcement

Grantees that do not comply with the NSCHC requirements may be subject to cost disallowance. More information on cost disallowance can be found in the NSCHC Enforcement Guide. Grantees that self-report non-compliance to a monitoring official prior to any written notice of future oversight or monitoring activity (such as IPERA sampling, IG audit or investigation, site visit, desk review, etc.) may receive a reduction in their cost disallowance. As a result, it is in an organization’s interest to develop a system for monitoring its own compliance.

5.3.3 NSCHC Resources

See CNCS Knowledge Network/Criminal History Checks for links to the regulations, requirements, and training materials. Video Training, NSCHC eCourse, FAQs, NSCHC Documentation Checklist is especially helpful to Senior Corps grantees.

5.4 PROJECT STAFF ROLES

5.4.1 Project Director

- 1) The sponsor assigns responsibility for the project's daily management to the project director. A project director functions as a working project manager, actively involved with community organizations, FGP volunteers, and volunteer stations. The sponsor should establish procedures for internal review and approval of project director performance in accordance with its standard policies and procedures. The project director may serve as the representative of the sponsor in signing and approving official project documentation, including project reports, memoranda of understanding, and letters of agreement for in-home assignments.
- 2) The project director serves full-time, except as negotiated otherwise with CNCS. A full-time project director may not serve concurrently in another capacity, paid or unpaid, during established working hours. A sponsor may negotiate in writing the employment of a part-time project director with CNCS when it can be demonstrated that such an arrangement will not adversely affect the size, scope, and quality of project operations. The project director may participate in activities to coordinate program resources with those of related local agencies, boards, or organizations. [\[45 CFR 2552.25\(c\)\]](#)

- 3) In the case it becomes necessary to dismiss a project director for cause, sponsors should follow their established personnel policies and procedures. When such action is apparent, (as well as in any other situation where the project director resigns) the sponsor should immediately notify the CNCS program officer/portfolio manager, stating the reason(s) for the action, When necessary, provisions for temporarily continuing operations without a project director should also be submitted to the CNCS State Office in writing.
- 4) Under direction of the sponsor's executive director /CEO or designee, the project director's duties typically include, but are not limited to:
 - a) Assessing volunteer needs of the community and planning and developing all phases of the project operation.
 - b) Selecting, training, supervising, and evaluating project staff.
 - c) Recruiting, orienting, placing, and arranging for assignment of FGP volunteers.
 - d) Providing coordinated pre-service orientation, in-service instruction, and overall supervision of Foster Grandparents with volunteer station professional staff.
 - e) Incorporating performance measurement principles and practices in program development, volunteer placement, and project assessment.
 - f) Maintaining appropriate fiscal and program records and preparing reports.
 - g) Developing and maintaining close coordination with volunteer stations.
 - h) Enhancing the total project effort through active involvement with community organizations, other national service programs, and other senior and volunteer programs.
 - i) Keeping FGP advisory council members informed and soliciting their advice on matters affecting project operation; providing staff assistance to the advisory council.
 - j) Working in cooperation with sponsor staff, advisory council members, and volunteer station staff to obtain resources for the project.
 - k) Providing information and support to FGP volunteers.
 - l) Appraising Foster Grandparent performance.
 - m) Assessing appropriateness and performance of volunteer stations.
 - n) Attending training conferences conducted or authorized by CNCS.
 - o) Preparing and submitting applications and requests for amendments in the electronic grants system.

See Appendix C.4 for a sample position description for an FGP Project Director

5.4.2 Project Coordinators

When funds allow, and the project director is in need of professional assistance, additional staff may be hired to help coordinate project activities.

Coordinator responsibilities may include, for example:

- 1) Coordinating and monitoring project activities including recruitment, in-service training, supervisory arrangements, and other activities in cooperation with the project director and appropriate volunteer station staff.
- 2) Coordinating Foster Grandparent assignments including assisting volunteer station staff to develop volunteer assignment plans and volunteer activities and monitoring progress toward achieving the expected outcomes and impact specified in assignment plans.
- 3) Enhancing the total project effort through active involvement with community organizations, other national service programs, and other senior and volunteer programs.
- 4) Providing information and support to FGP volunteers.
- 5) Assessing appropriateness and performance of volunteer stations.
- 6) Attending training conferences conducted or authorized by CNCS as funding allows.

5.4.3 VOLUNTEER SUPERVISION

5.4.3.1 Staff Responsibility

- 1) The project staff's general responsibility regarding the supervision of Foster Grandparents is to:
 - a) Ensure that volunteer stations designate a staff member to provide day-to-day supervision of Foster Grandparents while on assignment and that supervision is effective.
 - b) Concur with the volunteer station staff's selection of children for assignment to each Foster Grandparent.
 - c) Ensure maintenance of person-to-person relationships between Foster Grandparents and children to whom they are assigned.
 - d) Provide orientation and regular in-service training to explain policies, enhance skills related to assignments, provide information concerning community services available to low-income older persons, and arrange for group discussion to share experiences and address issues.
- 2) Specific supervisory practices vary from project to project and derive from project oversight obligations identified in the Memorandum of Understanding and in individual volunteer assignment plans.

Examples are:

- a) Clarifying with volunteer stations the arrangements for days and hours of service and the agreed-upon activities defined in the Memorandum of Understanding.
- b) Making periodic site visits to volunteer stations and in-home sites to monitor the satisfaction of the Foster Grandparents with their assignments and the progress of children in reaching established objectives; determining, in coordination with the volunteer station, whether or not the services of the Foster Grandparents are appropriate to the child's needs or whether the volunteer should be reassigned.

5.5 EFFECTIVE PRACTICES FOR BUILDING PROJECT STAFF

Effective practices for creating and sustaining a strong working relationship among the sponsor's executive and fiscal staff, the project director, and other project staff include:

- A. Sponsor leadership and the project director establish and maintain a productive working relationship based on clear communication and mutual support;
- B. The project director has clearly defined responsibilities and written policies and procedures for project operations and support;
- C. The sponsor develops and maintains clear lines of reporting between project staff and the sponsor's executive and fiscal staff;
- D. The sponsor develops a written job description for each project staff position and annually reviews job descriptions for any changes in roles or responsibilities;
- E. The sponsor provides staff with high quality supervision and support to maximize job performance;
- F. The sponsor ensures project staff receive an orientation to the Senior Corps, Foster Grandparent Program, and the project prior to their assuming project responsibilities;
- G. The sponsor provides project staff with opportunities to enhance their understanding of and skills in meeting the needs of the community;
- H. The sponsor encourages project staff to showcase their expertise as national and community service professionals by presenting at conferences, workshops, or community forums;
- I. The sponsor includes project staff in professional development opportunities available to all other agency staff;
- J. The sponsor ensures that each project staff member sets performance goals for his or her work on an annual basis and is evaluated annually on that basis;
- K. The sponsor includes the project director as an integral member of the agency's staff;
- L. The sponsor recognizes the achievements of project staff through specific activities and/or events comparable to other agency staff;
- M. The sponsor seeks ethnic, racial, cultural, and skills diversity in volunteer teams and/or working groups that address project planning, operations, and assessment; and
- N. The sponsor seeks the participation of individuals from diverse ethnic and racial backgrounds and with a variety of skills in project management and decision-making.

6 VOLUNTEER STATIONS

6.1 INTRODUCTION

FGP volunteers are recruited and enrolled by the FGP project and placed with or through volunteer stations. Volunteer stations are encouraged to support FGP by referring prospective volunteers to the project.

6.1.1 Characteristics of Volunteer Stations

A volunteer station is a public agency, secular or faith-based private non-profit organization, or proprietary health care organization that accepts the responsibility for assignment and supervision of FGP volunteers. Each volunteer station must be licensed or otherwise certified, when required, by the appropriate state or local government. Neither informal groups nor private homes qualify as volunteer stations(45 CFR 2552.12).

- A. Proprietary health care organizations are private, for-profit health care organizations that serve one or more vulnerable populations (45 CFR 2552.12). As noted above, licensed proprietary health-care organizations may be volunteer stations. The entity responsible for licensing varies from state to state and may even vary based on the type of health care organization e.g. hospital, nursing home, assisted living facility. If project sponsors are unsure of the licensing body in their state, the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) offers the site healthfinder.gov that has a listing of state agencies on health, which for many states, but not all, will be the entity responsible for health-care organization licensing. Additionally, if sponsors are uncertain of their state's licensing requirements, HHS is a good place to start, as well as the state entity responsible for licensing and regulating health care organizations if known.
- B. All such placements must limit volunteer assignments to those which provide direct and traditional assistance to patients, such as visiting, teaching, counseling, entertaining, etc. Placements must not displace paid employees, must not supplant the hiring of paid employees, and must avoid other staff or clerical assignments which would accrue to the profitability of the proprietary health-care organization.
- C. The Memorandum of Understanding with such volunteer stations must include detailed provisions to ensure compliance with program regulations regarding Non-displacement of Employed Workers and Non-impairment of Contracts for Service [45 CFR 1216.1.1 - 1216.1.4]
- D. Individual private homes may not be volunteer stations. In-home assignments are made only through a volunteer station (see In-Home Assignments in Chapter 7).
- E. Volunteer stations are located within the project's service area as defined in the approved grant application.

Looking to engage a school or school district as a station? The CNCS Superintendent's & Principal's Toolkit can help! Developed to help education leaders understand how they can use national service to achieve their goals, it contains practical examples of how Senior Corps has worked in school settings before and data on its educational impact.

6.1.2 Types of Volunteer Stations

Potential volunteer stations include but are not limited to the following types of agencies or organizations, if they serve eligible children as defined in the FGP regulations(45 CFR 2552.12):

| Examples of Volunteer Stations | |
|--------------------------------|------------------------------|
| Before/After School Programs | Head Start Centers |
| Development Disability Centers | Juvenile Corrections Centers |
| Foster Care Agencies | Charter Schools |
| Elementary Schools | Secondary Schools |

6.1.3 FGP Project or Sponsor as Volunteer Station

The FGP project itself may function as a volunteer station or initiate special volunteer activities provided that CNCS agrees that these activities are in accordance with program objectives outlined in the grant and will not hinder overall project operations [\[45 CFR 2552.61\]](#).

6.1.4 Volunteer Station Cash or In-Kind Support of Volunteers

- 1) In accordance with 45 CFR 2552.121\(c\) an FGP volunteer station may contribute to the financial support of the FGP project. However, this support shall not be a required precondition for a potential station to obtain FGP volunteers. If a volunteer station agrees to provide funds to support additional volunteers or pay for other volunteer support costs, the agreement must be stated in the written Memorandum of Understanding with the station.
- 2) When establishing such support, the best time for a project director to raise the possibility of financial support is when he or she is meeting with a potential station to establish the terms of the MOU. The discussions with the station representative should be clear that any donation is voluntary, not a fee for service, or a requirement of program participation. In addition:
 - The MOU must document the terms established, using language that confirms the donation is voluntary, not a fee for service, or a condition of program participation.
 - There should be no consideration given to cost per volunteer, number of hours served, or number of beneficiaries being served when determining a donation amount. Rather, the commitment to donate funding to the project should be stated in a way that demonstrates community support for the program.
- 3) The sponsor must withdraw services if the station's inability to provide monetary or in-kind support to the project under the Memorandum of Understanding diminishes or jeopardizes the project's financial capabilities to fulfill its obligations. Cash or in-kind support from a station should not be confused with fee-for-service. See Appendix A.12 for more information.

6.1.5 Volunteer Station Roster

A current roster of volunteer stations must be included in the electronic grants management system with each grant renewal or continuation application. Projects will enter the names and addresses of their stations, the names and contact information for the volunteer station supervisors, a various other information for each station. Step-by step instructions for developing and submitting Station Rosters are found on the Managing Senior Corps Grants webpage.

6.2 VOLUNTEER STATION ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

6.2.1 Responsibilities of FGP Volunteer Stations

Individual volunteer assignment plans are required for all Foster Grandparents [45 CFR 2552.72]. Assignment plans are developed by the station in collaboration with the FGP project staff. The assignment plan must be approved and signed by the project staff on behalf of the sponsor, station representative, and the volunteer. If verification of the child's need is included in the assignment plan, the plan must be signed by the appropriate professional. (See Appendix D.1 for a sample Volunteer Assignment Plan.)

1) Development of Volunteer Assignment Plans

The following steps are recommended to develop volunteer assignment plans:

- a) Identify prospective children to be served;
- b) Document the specific need(s) of the child as verified by an appropriate professional;
- c) Describe the activities the Foster Grandparent will perform, the schedule for their performance, and the supervisory relationship between the volunteer and the volunteer station;
- d) Describe the expected results of the Foster Grandparent's activities;
- e) Describe the expected impact on the child of attaining the expected results; and
- f) Format the assignment plan, to show, by their respective signatures, the acceptance of the plan by the Foster Grandparent and approval by project and station staff.

2) Management of Assignment Plans

- a) Volunteer assignment plans should be reviewed periodically to ensure that they remain current and appropriate for the Foster Grandparents and their clients.
- b) Annually, a review of each Foster Grandparent's impact should be performed, which examines:
 - c) The child's needs;
 - d) The service activities performed, adjustments made, and potential areas for improvement;
 - e) Adherence to planned schedule and adjustments made;
 - f) Results or accomplishments achieved; and
 - g) Impact on the child.

6.2.2 Letters of Agreement for In-Home Assignments

Under 45 CFR 2552.62\(d\) volunteer stations that manage assignments in private homes must obtain a Letter of Agreement describing and authorizing the FGP volunteer activities in each home See Chapter 7: FGP Volunteer Assignments for more information on Letters of Agreement for In-Home Assignments.

6.2.3 Volunteer Station Participation in Training Events

- 1) During the initial orientation of volunteers, project staff are encouraged to involve volunteer station staff in the program overview and explanation of services and volunteer activities. This may be accomplished through group presentations in formal classroom exercises and station site visits.
- 2) Project staff are also encouraged to utilize volunteer station staff and other community resource professionals to cooperatively plan and implement monthly in-service training events.
- 3) Foster Grandparent assignments at some volunteer stations may necessitate training over and above the 20 hours of pre-service orientation and at least 24 hours annually of in-service training (45 CFR 2552.23(f)).

6.2.4 Volunteer Station Supervision of Foster Grandparents

Volunteer stations are responsible for the daily supervision of Foster Grandparents on assignment. The quality of supervision or support is the most critical factor, after the assignment itself, in contributing to the success of the Foster Grandparent experience. Supervision should be on going and constructive. The volunteer station supervisor may be a different staff member than the station representative who signs the MOU. Supervision includes:

- 1) Development of individual volunteer assignment plans in collaboration with project staff.
- 2) Providing regular and on site supervision of Foster Grandparent performance on assignments.
- 3) Monitoring of volunteer activities regularly to ensure that Foster Grandparents and children are satisfied with the assignment and, with project staff, determine the continued appropriateness of the assignment.
- 4) Annually completing written volunteer performance appraisals
- 5) Referring Foster Grandparents to project staff for possible reassignment, transfer, or termination.
- 6) Carrying out other responsibilities identified in Memorandum of Understanding, Letters of Agreement, and individual plans.

6.2.5 Volunteer Station Responsibilities Concerning Transportation

Volunteer stations are responsible for arranging Foster Grandparent travel between different assignments with the same station and for associated costs, unless otherwise provided in the Memorandum of Understanding.

6.2.6 Other Volunteer Station Responsibilities

- 1) Assisting in the provision of appropriate volunteer recognition activities.
- 2) Providing for volunteer safety.
- 3) Keeping records and preparing reports required by the sponsor, including:
 - a) Volunteer timesheets.
 - b) Updates and accomplishments relating to the written volunteer assignment plans.
 - c) Data and information to document and report accomplishments and impacts for the children and other data needed for FGP Progress Reports.
 - d) Volunteer performance reports.
 - e) Testimonials and examples of how Foster Grandparents meet the needs and improve the lives of children served as well as of impact on the capabilities of the volunteer station and its staff to carry out the station's mission and/or achieve its goals, objectives, responsibilities to clients, etc.

6.3 PREPARATION OF THE MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

6.3.1 Purpose

The Memorandum of Understanding, which must be negotiated prior to placing volunteers, describes program requirements, working relationships, and mutual responsibilities between the sponsor and the volunteer station. The Memorandum of Understanding includes general conditions applicable to all projects and volunteer stations and special conditions applicable to the local volunteer station. The basic requirements for the Memorandum of Understanding are found in the regulations at 45 CFR 2552.23\(c\) \(2\). (See Appendix C.1 for a sample Memorandum of Understanding.)

6.3.2 Renegotiating and Updating

The Memorandum of Understanding must be reviewed and renegotiated at least every three years. The Memorandum of Understanding may be amended at any time by mutual agreement. The effective date of a new Memorandum of Understanding must be on or after the date the Memorandum of Understanding is signed. Projects are encouraged to require volunteer stations to notify them as soon as any circumstances arise which could affect or require changing the provisions of the Memorandum of Understanding, such as the volunteer station's ability to meet commitments for providing specified contributions toward project costs, changes in the sites where volunteers serve, or other conditions which have a bearing on volunteer assignments.

6.3.3 Content

Each volunteer station must have a Memorandum of Understanding in effect, which ensures the placement of FGP volunteers. The Memorandum of Understanding is a formal arrangement between the sponsoring organization and the volunteer station and in many cases it serves as the primary source of documentation establishing the relationship between entities.

As set forth in 45 CFR 2552.23\(c\) \(2\), the Memorandum of Understanding must:

- 1) Be negotiated prior to placement;
- 2) Specify the mutual responsibilities of the station and sponsor;
- 3) Be renegotiated at least every three years; and
- 4) State that the volunteer station assures it will not discriminate against FGP volunteers or in the operation of its program on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, age, religion, sexual orientation, disability, gender identity or expression, political affiliation, marital or parental status, or military service.

The MOU should be customized to meet the needs of the project and the volunteer stations. See Appendix C.1 for a sample MOU form.

In addition to the above requirements we highly recommend that you include:

- 1) The name, street and e-mail addresses, and telephone and fax numbers of the volunteer station.
- 2) The name of the primary volunteer station staff member responsible for day-to-day supervision of FGP volunteers and a description of supervisory arrangements.

- 3) Volunteer station and sponsor contributions to support FGP volunteers (meals, insurance, transportation, physical examinations (if applicable), uniforms, and recognition) and/or other project costs.
- 4) A data sharing agreement that includes a description of the data needed from the volunteer station to complete the project's performance measures, a schedule for delivery, and a description of who will collect the data. See Appendix A.13 for a sample data sharing agreement.
- 5) An assurance that the volunteer station is a public or non-profit organization or a proprietary health care agency.
- 6) A description of prohibited activities and special limitations (outlined in Chapter 2).
- 7) An agreement that the volunteer station shall provide specific written individual volunteer assignment plans for each volunteer prior to assignment.
- 8) An agreement that the volunteer station shall verify that Foster Grandparents serve only children and youth with special and exceptional needs, or in circumstances that limit their academic, social, or emotional development, who are less than 21 years of age.
- 9) Provision for a Letter of Agreement for in-home assignments. (See Appendix C.10 for more information.)
- 10) Provision for ensuring that the National Service Criminal History Check meets all CNCS requirements is prior to Foster Grandparents beginning their service.
- 11) Provision for the safety of the FGP volunteers while on assignment.
- 12) An assurance that the volunteer station provides reasonable accommodation(s) for persons with disabilities (including those with mobility, hearing, vision, mental and cognitive impairments or addictions and diseases) to participate in programs and activities.
- 13) An agreement that the volunteer station shall provide required reports.

You may also want to include:

- 1) An estimate of the number of Foster Grandparent volunteer assignments projected to be available with or through the volunteer station.
- 2) A brief description of the Foster Grandparent assignment(s).
- 3) A listing of geographic locations/sites, other than private homes, where volunteers will serve through the volunteer station and the number of volunteers placed at each site.
- 4) An estimate of the number of children to be assisted by FGP volunteers.
- 5) The average number of persons the volunteer station serves annually.

6.3.4 MANAGEMENT OF VOLUNTEER STATIONS

- 1) Foster Grandparents may be placed with more than one volunteer station, depending on the need for service and individual Foster Grandparents' capabilities.
- 2) The sponsor should appraise all volunteer stations regularly to determine continued viability. Assessments should include types of clients served, supervision and training provided Foster Grandparents, compliance with program regulations, data collection requirements, and other support.

6.4 EFFECTIVE PRACTICES FOR MANAGING VOLUNTEER STATIONS

I. Effective Practices for Developing Volunteer Stations

The sponsor develops a system of volunteer stations that:

- A. Addresses significant needs of the community as validated by community-accepted studies and reports prepared by government, community groups, or educational institutions ;
- B. Provides a sufficient number of stations that are accessible to individuals with disabilities;
- C. Is manageable in terms of size and complexity to ensure that ongoing interaction, communication, and monitoring of stations are realistic.
- D. Incorporates the abilities, experience, and needs of senior volunteers in their programs and operations.

II. Effective Practices for Communication between the Project and Volunteer Stations

The sponsor establishes clear and effective systems of communication between the project and volunteer stations by:

- A. Conducting an orientation for station staff about the Senior Corps, FGP, and the project prior to the placement of volunteers.
- B. Communicating to the volunteer stations its policies on the terms and conditions of FGP volunteer service; volunteer service termination; and procedures for volunteers to appeal adverse decisions related to volunteer stations.
- C. Providing volunteer stations with ongoing information and/or training about the project, its performance measurement goals, and the role of the volunteer station in meeting those goals.
- D. Developing a checklist, guidance, and/or criteria that identifies factors in selecting volunteer stations.
- E. Developing criteria for the optimal number of volunteers serving at each station.

III. Effective Practices for Working with Volunteer Stations to Achieve Performance Measures

- A. The sponsor and project staff make informed decisions about the community needs to be addressed and the volunteer stations that provide placement opportunities for FGP volunteers. The project:
 - 1. Identifies the needs and priorities that the project will address and the agencies that serve them;
 - 2. Uses data to document the nature and scope of the needs and why they have been selected, and works with volunteer stations on data collection methods;
 - 3. Consults staff, FGP volunteers, the volunteer stations, and the Advisory Council in determining priority community needs on which the project will focus;
 - 4. Works with each volunteer station to determine the service to which FGP volunteers are assigned; and
 - 5. Identifies and communicates its anticipated accomplishments and goals to the volunteer station supervisors.
- B. The project works with volunteer stations to collect data that measures progress in achieving the anticipated performance measurement targets. The project and volunteer stations:

1. Work together to determine the types of data needed to measure progress in achieving its output and outcome targets;
2. Determine, prior to initiating service efforts, the data collection instrument descriptions it will use as the standards for measuring and reporting progress;
3. Collaborate to develop and implement an information system that utilizes existing data whenever possible, produces the information needed to demonstrate outputs and outcomes ; and allows information to be easily retrieved;
4. Consistently and accurately provide the needed data;
5. Use the assessment to adjust service assignments and the project's portfolio of volunteer stations;
6. Work together to use the information related to accomplishments to identify the strengths and weaknesses of the project's programming and to develop specific steps to strengthen volunteer services provided in the community; and
7. Work together to modify volunteer assignments to more effectively meet the identified needs.

7 FGP VOLUNTEER ASSIGNMENTS

7.1 CRITERIA FOR VOLUNTEER ASSIGNMENTS

7.1.1 General Criteria

FGP projects will develop volunteer assignments in alignment with FGP performance measure work plans and outcomes and will do so prior to the recruitment of FGP volunteers. Volunteer assignments should incorporate how the assignment will support performance goals and the service described in the proposed work plans. Assignments serve the dual purpose of providing a high quality experience for volunteers and meeting the critical needs of children and youth served.

7.1.2 Foster Grandparent Assignments

Volunteer station professional staff select the children to be served and prepare a volunteer assignment plan, approved by the FGP project director, for the Foster Grandparents to use as a guide in serving their assigned children. Confidentiality concerning the identity and needs of the specific children served must be respected. For example, the sample assignment plan included as Appendix D.1 suggests that for reasons of confidentiality a pseudonym may be used to identify individual children. All assignments must meet the following criteria:

- 1) Assignments will provide support and/or facilitate access to services and resources that contribute to improved academic, social, or emotional development outcomes for children served.
- 2) Assignments and activities must involve person-to-person supportive relationships with the population served. Each Foster Grandparent must be assigned to individual children in order to develop a personal relationship with each child.
- 3) Assignments should include activities that lead to measurable outcome-based results as noted in the Grant Application Guidelines.
- 4) Assignments may not include administrative support service to the volunteer station.
- 5) Individuals served by Foster Grandparents must be children with special or exceptional needs or children in circumstances that limit their academic, social, or emotional development.
- 6) A Foster Grandparent must serve a minimum of 260 hours annually, or a minimum of 5 hours per week, not to exceed a total of 2,080 hours per year (45 CFR 2552.51).
- 7) Assignments and activities should serve the dual purpose of providing a high-quality experience that will enrich the lives of the volunteers and meet critical community needs that are aligned with national performance measures and provide specific outcomes for the children served.
- 8) Foster Grandparents may assist small groups when, by doing so, they can continue to directly serve the needs of their assigned children. Such as when the assigned child is a part of a small group or when socialization is an outcome objective for the child.
- 9) Volunteer stations provide a written outline of duties or description of individual assignments [45 CFR 2552.12\(y\) and 2552.62]. These should be maintained on file in the FGP office or at the volunteer station and a copy should be given to each volunteer when assigned. Written assignments help to identify and clarify what the volunteer is expected to do and help to avoid misunderstanding. (See Appendix D.1 for a sample FGP volunteer assignment description.)

| Appropriate Assignments | Inappropriate Assignments |
|--|---|
| Encouraging the social and emotional development of disadvantaged young children | Answering telephones in the front office |
| Reading to a child in a Head Start program | Preparing classroom materials or performing other teacher's-aide activities |
| Teaching English to a child for whom it is a second language | Being solely responsible for watching children while a teacher or instructor is otherwise engaged |
| Tutoring disadvantaged youth towards GED completion | Any role that would otherwise be performed by an employed worker |

7.2 SELECTION OF ASSIGNMENTS

- 1) Assignments and terms of service, including the service schedule, should reflect individual Foster Grandparent preferences and skill set along with the needs of children. Project and volunteer station staff should ensure that a range of service opportunities are available to provide a choice of assignments for Foster Grandparents.
- 2) Because Foster Grandparents are a limited resource, assignments should be carefully selected, taking into account outcomes objectives for children with special and exceptional needs, or in circumstances that limit their academic, social, or emotional development, such as their potential to achieve significant improvements in their lives.

7.2.1 In-Home Assignments

7.2.1.1 Careful Planning with Volunteer Stations

In home assignments of Foster Grandparents require planning by the sponsor and by volunteer station professional staff in cooperation with child and parent. Where a Foster Grandparent serves a child in home and within the context of the child's family, volunteer activities must primarily and directly benefit the child.

7.2.1.2 Letters of Agreement for In-Home Assignments

- 1) According to 45 CFR 2552.62\(c\) volunteer stations managing assignments in private homes must develop a Letter of Agreement describing and authorizing the volunteer activities in each home. The requirement for Letters of Agreement must be incorporated in the Memorandum of Understanding
- 2) Letters of Agreement contain a statement authorizing a volunteer assignment in a person's home and designating the activities to be performed. The Agreement also defines arrangements for days and hours of service and the specific plan for the volunteer's supervision. The person to be served (or their legal guardian), the volunteer station, and the sponsor sign the letter of agreement.
- 3) The Letter of Agreement provides a common understanding of what the volunteer will and will not do while on an in-home assignment. Such an agreement is not required for casual or friendly visiting that is not part of a regular, ongoing program of activities organized by a volunteer station. For example, the delivery of meals to a home would normally not require a Letter of Agreement.

- 4) In some cases, projects may work with organizations, such as hospices, which have obtained Letters of Agreement, or equivalent written agreements with their individual clients. In these cases, organizations may sign general letters of agreement covering all of the organization's home-based clients and that identify clients to be served and that specify volunteer activities, rather than obtaining individual letters for each client. The Memorandum of Understanding with the volunteer station must reference any such agreements
- 5) Letters of Agreement for In-Home Assignments may be included in a volunteer's assignment plan if the assignment plan includes all the information above and all required signature. A template assignment plan is included in Appendix D.1 and a template letter of agreement for in-home assignment is included in Appendix C.10. A sponsor may combine these templates to address this situation, if appropriate.

7.2.2 Teleservice

While it is unlikely that Senior Corps projects have service opportunities that lend themselves to teleservice, it is important that any project choosing to include an element of teleservice has a policy in place to guide volunteers and stations. Teleservice is appropriate only when the activity can be meaningfully supervised and the hours verified independently. If a sponsor determines that teleservice is appropriate in unique situations and for a small number of service hours, it must establish a policy that addresses the following:

- Written authorization of teleservice in advance
- Expectations of the communication requirements between supervisors and teleserving volunteers
- Mitigation of the increased risk of time and attendance abuse
- Appropriate supervision including validation of the activities to be performed, and
- Verification of hours claimed.

Sponsors should be aware that their staff may be subject to legal sanctions for erroneously certifying that Senior Corps volunteers have valid service hours for time claimed in teleservice. In addition there are legal and financial penalties for knowingly submitting false claims to the government.

7.3 CHILDREN SERVED BY FOSTER GRANDPARENTS

7.3.1 Age of Children

- 1) Children assigned to Foster Grandparents must be under 21 years of age.
- 2) When a Foster Grandparent is assigned to a child with a disability, the assignment may continue beyond the child's 21st birthday, provided the following conditions specified in 45 CFR 2552.82 are met:
 - a) The Foster Grandparent was assigned to the child before the child reached 21 years of age.

- b) The volunteer station professional staff responsible for the child's care certifies that continued assignment is in the best interest of both the Foster Grandparent and the child.
 - c) The Foster Grandparent, sponsor, volunteer station professional staff, and the child's parent or person legally responsible for the child, agree to the continued assignment.
- 3) In cases where the assigned Foster Grandparent becomes unavailable to serve a particular individual with a disability, the sponsor may select another Foster Grandparent to continue the service.

7.3.2 Selection of Children to be Served

Volunteer station professional staff are responsible for, and project staff must concur in, the selection of individual children to be served by each Foster Grandparent in accordance with the criteria and definitions in the FGP regulations for children with special needs, children having exceptional needs, or children in circumstances that limit their academic, social, or emotional development (45 CFR 2552.12 and 45 CFR 2552.23). In an educational setting, the professional may be an educator, counselor, or other appropriate professional. In a health setting, the professional may be a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, registered nurse or licensed practical nurse, physical therapist, or similar professional. In these and other settings, the primary requirement is that the person evaluating the child's need has had professional training in a field directly related to the child's need.

7.3.2.1 Children having exceptional needs defined

In FGP regulation 45 CFR 2552.12, Children having Exceptional Needs are defined as:

Children who have a developmental disability, such as those who have autism, intellectual disability, cerebral palsy or epilepsy, a visual impairment, speech impairment, hearing impairment, or orthopedic impairment, an emotional or behavioral disorder, a language disorder, a specific learning disability, multiple disabilities, other significant health impairments, or have literacy, math or other educational assistance needs. Before a Foster Grandparent is assigned to the child, existence of a child's exceptional need shall be verified by an appropriate professional, such as a physician, psychiatrist, psychologist, including school psychologists, registered nurse or licensed practical nurse, speech therapist, licensed clinical social worker, or educator.

7.3.2.2 Children with special needs defined

In FGP regulation 45 CFR 2552.12, Children with special needs are defined as:

Children who are abused or neglected; in need of foster care; adjudicated youth; homeless youths; teen-age parents; and children in need of protective intervention in their homes. Existence of a child's special need shall be verified by an appropriate professional before a Foster Grandparent is assigned to the child.

7.4 TERMINATION OF ASSIGNMENTS

- 1) When possible, plans should be made to phase out the Foster Grandparent to child relationship gradually to avoid a sudden disruption. Under the following conditions, discontinuance of a relationship should be arranged with the guidance of volunteer station professional staff when a:
 - a) Child's need for individual attention through a person-to-person relationship diminishes.
 - b) Relationship is no longer satisfying for the Foster Grandparent.
 - c) Child becomes unmanageable in terms of size, strength, or behavior.
 - d) Child reaches age 21 (see above for exception).
 - e) Conflict between the Foster Grandparent and the child's parent is apparent.
- 2) Regardless of the cause of termination of an assignment, the decision must be made jointly by project and volunteer station staff, with input of the Foster Grandparent, if appropriate.
- 3) Sponsors are asked to keep the CNCS program officer/portfolio manager fully informed in cases of terminations, voluntary or otherwise, that have potential legal implications for FGP staff or the project.

7.5 EFFECTIVE PRACTICES IN FGP VOLUNTEER ASSIGNMENTS

I. Effective Practices for Drawing on the Unique Qualities of Volunteers to Meet the Needs of the Community and those Served

The project:

- A. Ensures variety among volunteer stations such that volunteer assignments appeal to a diverse group of volunteers and accommodate varying volunteer skills and interests;
- B. Works with volunteer stations to involve volunteers in developing volunteer assignments;
- C. Routinely notifies volunteers of new volunteer assignments that are developed or become available; and
- D. Ensures that volunteer stations provide volunteer assignments that challenge volunteers to be advocates on behalf of the children they serve and/or their community.
- E. For outcome-based assignments, ensures that the assignment supports the projects performance measure outcomes.

II. Effective Practices for Ensuring the Safety of FGP Volunteers

The project:

- A. Addresses all relevant safety issues, including service conditions at volunteer stations, prior to permitting FGP volunteers to begin their assignments;
- B. Addresses reasonable accommodation to volunteers who are qualified individuals with disabilities according to Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act;
- C. Works closely with volunteer stations to ensure that FGP volunteers are provided with pre-service and ongoing training on safety issues;
- D. Works jointly with volunteer stations to assess, on a regular basis, safety issues related to FGP service; and
- E. Promptly and effectively responds to FGP volunteers' emergencies and complaints and designates a staff person to respond to such concerns.

III. Effective Practices for Communicating with FGP Volunteers

The project clearly communicates with FGP volunteers about their roles and responsibilities by:

- A. Developing a written volunteer assignment description that specifies the needs of the community and the role and activities of the FGP volunteers in delivering the needed services (See Appendix D.1 for an example of an FGP assignment description form.)
- B. Providing volunteers with a handbook that includes project policies and procedures, the conditions and terms of volunteer service, holidays, service schedules, and cost reimbursements;

- C. Ensuring that FGP volunteers know their key contacts and sources of assistance or help during their service, and how to contact them.
- D. Routinely addressing roles and responsibilities of Foster Grandparents during in-service training.

The project encourages volunteer stations to set up a process for appraising and documenting volunteer performance that provides feedback and guidance to each volunteer in key areas such as: reliability, actual progress and outcomes, initiative, and leadership.

8 FGP VOLUNTEERS

8.1 ELIGIBILITY TO BE ENROLLED

8.1.1 Requirements

Foster Grandparents must be 55 years of age or older and be capable of serving children with exceptional or special needs, or children who are in circumstances that limit their academic, social, or emotional development. Foster Grandparents must be able to provide such service without detriment to either themselves or the children served, and be willing to abide by the FGP program requirements. Section 211(a) of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973, as amended; [45 CFR 2552.23]

8.1.2 Non-Discrimination

Eligibility to be an FGP volunteer may not be restricted on the basis of race, color, national origin, gender, age, religion, sexual orientation, disability, gender identity or expression, political affiliation, marital or parental status, or military service [45 CFR 2552.41\(b\)].

8.1.3 Income Eligibility Requirement

To be enrolled and receive a stipend, a Foster Grandparent cannot have an annual income, from all sources, deducting allowable medical expenses, that exceeds the income eligibility guideline for the state in which he or she resides [45 CFR 2552.43]. Current income eligibility levels – including high costs areas – are posted on the Managing Senior Corps Grants website at, Managing Senior Corps Grants; or are available by contacting the appropriate CNCS program officer/portfolio manager.

8.1.4 Non-Stipended Foster Grandparents

Persons aged 55 or older with incomes that exceed eligibility guidelines may be enrolled in FGP projects as non-stipended volunteers [45 CFR 2552.101]. Non-stipended volunteers may serve alongside stipended volunteers and all FGP volunteers must be treated consistently and equitably. In other words, non-stipended FGP volunteers should be able to serve in FGP projects without barriers. Further, CNCS encourages FGP projects to engage non-stipended volunteers in service when opportunities are available and when the regulatory conditions detailed below are met.

The following conditions apply to the service of non-stipended Foster Grandparents [45 CFR 2552.102]:

- Non-stipended Foster Grandparents must not displace or prevent eligible low-income individuals from becoming Foster Grandparents.
- No special privilege or status is granted or created among Foster Grandparents, whether stipended or non-stipended, and equal treatment is required.
- Training, supervision, and other support services and cost reimbursements, other than the stipend, are made available equally to all Foster Grandparents.
- All regulations and requirements applicable to the program apply to all Foster Grandparents.
- Non-stipended Foster Grandparents may contribute the costs they incur in connection with their participation in the program. However, an FGP project may not count such contributions as part of the required non-CNCS support (match) for the grant.*
- For information on cost reimbursements for non-stipended volunteers, see Chapter 9.

* If non-stipended FGP volunteers choose not to accept cost reimbursements from the sponsor e.g. transportation and/or meal reimbursements, they may do so. This forfeiture of cost reimbursements may indirectly contribute to costs to the program. However, it is important to note that any forfeited volunteer cost reimbursements cannot directly be used as required program match.

Sponsors are not required to enroll non-stipended Foster Grandparents in their program. Further, engaging non-stipended Foster Grandparents is not a condition for a sponsor to receive a new or continuation grant (45 CFR 2552.103). Additionally, National Service Criminal History Checks (NSCHC) are not required for non-stipended Foster Grandparents (45 CFR 2540.201). However, projects may opt to conduct checks on non-stipended volunteers for consistency and safety. For more information on the CNCS NSCHC requirements, you may go to <https://www.nationalservice.gov/resources/criminal-history-check> or contact your CNCS program officer/portfolio manager.

8.1.4.1 Role of Non-Stipened Foster Grandparents

Non-stipended volunteers serving in the Foster Grandparent Program must serve in the same roles as stipended volunteers. Non-stipended Foster Grandparent assignments must provide support and/or facilitate access to services and resources that contribute to improved academic, social, or emotional development outcomes for children served. The assignments and activities must involve person-to-person supportive relationships with the children served. Each non-stipended Foster Grandparent must be assigned to individual children and should include activities that lead to measurable outcomes.

8.2 RECRUITMENT OF FOSTER GRANDPARENT VOLUNTEERS

8.2.1 Preparation

- 1) Before FGP volunteers are placed at a station, the sponsor must have a signed Memorandum of Understanding with the volunteer station and have developed, in conjunction with the volunteer station, written assignment descriptions for each FGP volunteer. (See Appendix D.1 for a sample Foster Grandparent assignment description.)
- 2) Recruitment and enrollment of eligible FGP volunteers are project responsibilities and should not be delegated to volunteer stations. However, recruitment assistance for new FGP volunteers to the sponsor, in the form of referrals, may come from the FGP advisory council, volunteer stations, and other FGP volunteers.
- 3) The sponsor should develop a volunteer recruitment plan that takes into account the following, among other considerations:
 - a. Location of “active adult” or retirement communities, senior citizen housing, senior centers, clubs, and other settings where people age 55 and older gather or receive services.
 - b. Local employers of age eligible, or soon to be eligible, employers in both the private and public sectors, as well as independent businesses and trades people.
 - c. Distance (in both miles and time) between the potential FGP volunteer and places of assignment.
 - d. Modes and estimated costs of available public or private transportation.

- 4) Special efforts should be made to recruit and assign members of minority groups, persons with disabilities, and hard-to-reach individuals and groups in the service area which are under-represented in the project. Traditionally more women than men have been involved as Foster Grandparents in the FGP program. Projects are encouraged to be creative in finding ways to attract men to become Foster Grandparents.
- 5) FGP stresses recruitment and enrollment of eligible persons not already volunteering.
- 6) Recruitment or selection of a Foster Grandparent may not be based on any requirement of employment experience or formal education. [45 CFR 2552.41]

8.2.2 Choosing Recruitment Methods

Although direct, face-to-face communication with prospective volunteers is most productive, a variety of recruitment methods may be used to reach either broad audiences or specific populations. The most feasible method may depend on:

- 1) Availability of recruitment resources (the project's website, social media, newspapers, access to radio and television public service time, available staff, outreach volunteers, etc.).
- 2) Community acceptance of volunteer programs and federally funded programs.
- 3) The degree to which communication links exist with seniors, including older members of minority groups, persons with disabilities, and hard-to-reach community members.

8.2.3 Examples of Methods

Recruitment can be done through:

- 1) Contacting potential recruits individually.
- 2) Presently enrolled FGP volunteers.
- 3) Contacting agencies and organizations frequented by older persons, such as senior centers, senior nutrition projects, and retiree organizations such as retired teachers' associations, and retired federal employees' associations.
- 4) Contacting religious and civic groups and other community agencies.
- 5) Contacting other CNCS volunteer programs. (4) Contacting other CNCS-supported programs in your area: <http://www.nationalservice.gov/impact-our-nation/state-profiles>;
- 6) Recruiting persons on waiting lists for the Senior Community Service Employment Program (Title V of the Older Americans Act);
- 7) Making presentations or providing materials for distribution at the types of agencies or organizations mentioned above.
- 8) Advertising through websites, web-based volunteer recruitment systems including AllforGood.org (see below), the sponsoring agency's newsletter, newspaper articles, public service radio or television interviews, or "spot" public announcements, and the use of social media.
- 9) Contacting older persons individually

8.2.4 Targeting Recruitment

Targeting recruitment where there is the best possibility of obtaining the most publicity and results, may result in organizations or locations being included where older persons are presently serving as volunteers. Projects should, however, avoid recruiting volunteers away from organizations where they are already volunteering and thus negatively impacting the project's reputation in the community.

8.2.5 Web-Based Recruitment

8.2.5.1 Project Websites

Increasing numbers of FGP projects have developed appealing websites designed to provide basic information about volunteer opportunities and how to express interest in volunteering.

8.2.5.2 AllforGood.org

All for Good is a free online volunteer recruitment system where projects can register their organizations and post their volunteer opportunities and connect with volunteers to learn about them.

8.2.5.3 Social Networks

A Social Network describes any virtual media that enables users to create public profiles within it and form relationships with other users of that same space who access their profile. Social networking sites can be used to describe community-based websites, online discussion forms, chatrooms and other social spaces online and primarily contain user-generated content. Examples of social networks are Facebook, Twitter and YouTube channels, and others described below:

a) Key Terms

- Blog
 - A website, usually maintained by an individual, with regular entries of commentary, descriptions of events, or other material such as graphics or video, used to communicate information and receive feedback.
- Online Collaborative and Discussion Groups
 - A discussion group format to connect with people, access information, and communicate effectively over email and on the web.
 - You control the members of the discussion group.
 - No hardware or software to buy, install or maintain.
 - Access from anywhere, even from mobile devices.
- Online Volunteer Recruitment Sites
 - Online network that connects volunteers with nonprofit organizations.
 - Resource for volunteers to search for volunteer opportunities in their neighborhood, community, city and nationally.
 - When volunteers see your listing, they simply click on it to directly connect with your organization and get involved.

b) CNCS Social Media Hub includes:

- YouTube
 - YouTube is a video sharing website
 - A channel on YouTube is the home page for an account. It shows the account, the account type, the public videos they've uploaded, and any user information they have entered.

- YouTube channels often display favorite videos from other users, activity streams comments, subscribers, and other social network features.
- You can control the information that appears on your channel.
- Twitter
 - Twitter is an online social networking service that enables users to send and read short 140-character messages called “tweets.”
 - A service for friends, family, and coworkers to communicate and stay connected through the exchange of quick, frequent messages.
 - Tweets may contain photos, videos, and links to other social network sites.
 - Senior Corps Twitter handle: @seniorcorps
 - CNCS Twitter handle: @cnscs

8.2.5.4 Senior Corps Pathfinder

This national tool along with your local recruitment efforts, will help you find great Senior Corps volunteers. On the Senior Corps Pathfinder, interested volunteers begin their search by selecting a state, or by selecting a state and county, to return a list of nearby Senior Corps programs. Program listings include organization name, program name, Senior Corps parent program (e.g. FGP, SCP, RSVP), counties served, and program address. Most importantly, each listing includes contact information for that specific program. This allows prospective volunteers to ask questions, get the information they need, and begin sooner.

Information in the program listings are drawn from what Senior Corps grantees enter into eGrants. The counties listed are associated with active sites in the station roster, as entered by grantees. You can find instructions to update your contact information here.

8.3 SELECTION OF FOSTER GRANDPARENT VOLUNTEERS

8.3.1 Interviewing Potential Foster Grandparents

After expressing an interest in volunteering, potential Foster Grandparent volunteers should be scheduled for interviews with FGP project staff as soon as possible. The initial interview should be private and confidential, allowing adequate time for discussion. These interviews should be conducted in the most efficient manner for FGP staff and the potential volunteer either in person, via phone, or other means such as Skype.

- a) The initial interview is the time to become acquainted with and establish a friendly, mutually supportive relationship with the prospective FGP volunteer.
- b) Interview techniques should relate to project goals and to the background, hobbies, and special interests of applicants.

Suggested interview topics include:

- Roles, assignments, and types of activities.
- Interests of the applicant and motivation to serve.
- Background information on the potential volunteer including work and volunteer history.

- Volunteer cost reimbursements and related responsibilities.
- Income eligibility requirements.
- National Service Criminal History Check requirements (See NSCHC section in this chapter).
- Description of volunteer stations and specific types of assignments currently available.
- Special needs of children to be served.
- Volunteer benefits and responsibilities.
- Availability of support from professional supervisors
- Availability of transportation arrangements.
- Follow-up support, recognition activities, and newsletter offered by FGP.
- Whether the applicant is confident that he or she is able to perform available assignments with, or without, reasonable accommodations.

8.3.2 Determining Income Eligibility

- 1) During or after the interview the prospective Foster Grandparent's income is reviewed for the purpose of establishing eligibility (see Appendix C.6 for a sample income review form). In this review, the project director must ascertain and document the applicant's income from all sources. According to 45 CFR 2552.44, "income" refers to total cash receipts before taxes from all sources, including:
 - a) Money, wages and salaries before any deduction;
 - b) Receipts from self-employment or from a farm or business after deductions for business or farm expenses;
 - c) Regular payments for public assistance, Social Security, Unemployment or Workers Compensation, strike benefits, training stipends, alimony, child support, and military family allotments, or other regular support from an absent family member or someone not living in the household;
 - d) Government employee pensions, private pensions, regular insurance or annuity payments, and 401(k) or other retirement savings plans; and
 - e) Income from dividends, interest, net rents, royalties, or income from estates and trusts.
- 2) For eligibility purposes, income does not refer to the following money receipts:
 - a) Any assets drawn down as withdrawals from a bank, sale of property, house or car, tax refunds, gifts, one-time insurance payments or compensation for injury;
 - b) Non-cash income, such as the bonus value of food and fuel produced and consumed on farms and the imputed value of rent from owner-occupied farm or non-farm housing;
 - c) Regular payments for public assistance including the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP);
 - d) Social Security Disability or any type of disability payment; and

- e) Food or rent received in lieu of wages.
- 3) Maintain a volunteer's initial income eligibility documentation as a grant record. This means it must be maintained until at least three years from the date you submit the final FFR for the project period when the volunteer exits service or three years past the last audit, whichever is later. Chapter 11 on Reports and Recordkeeping for more information.

8.3.3 Income Eligibility Guideline:

- 1) The income eligibility guideline for each state is 200 percent of the poverty line, as set forth in 42 U.S.C. 9902 \(2\).
- 2) Each year, Senior Corps publishes the income eligibility guidelines on the Managing Senior Corps Grants page for easy access. Use the prior year's guideline if the current year is not yet published.
- 3) For new applicants to become stipended Foster Grandparents, annual income must be projected for the following 12 months, based on income at the time of application.
- 4) For Foster Grandparents already serving, annual income is counted for the past 12 months.
- 5) Annual income includes the applicant or enrollee's income and that of his or her spouse, if the spouse lives in the same residence. Sponsors must count the value of shelter, food, and clothing, if provided at no cost to the applicant, enrollee, or spouse.
- 6) Allowable medical expenses are to be deducted from annual income in determining income eligibility. "Allowable medical expenses" are annual out-of-pocket medical expenses for health insurance premiums, health care services, and medications (prescription or over-the-counter) provided to the applicant, enrollee, or spouse which were not and will not be paid by Medicare, Medicaid, other insurance, or other third party, and which do not exceed 50 percent of the applicable CNCS income guideline (45 CFR 2552.43(c)).
 - a) Long term care insurance premiums are considered to be an allowable medical expense.
- 7) Once enrolled, a Foster Grandparent remains eligible to serve and to receive a stipend so long as his or her income does not exceed the prescribed income eligibility guideline by 20 percent. The sponsor must review income eligibility annually [45 CFR 2552.43\(e\)]. (See Appendix C.6 for sample income review form.) To calculate the income eligibility threshold for a currently serving volunteer:
 - a) Lookup the current year's income eligibility guidelines on the Managing Senior Corps Grants page.

- b) Multiply the guideline for your state by 20%
 - c) Add the resulting figure to the guideline to determine the maximum income for stipend eligibility. See the box to the right for an example.
- 8) When more than one eligible member of a household serves as a Foster Grandparent or Senior Companion, both members are entitled to receive a stipend.
- 9) See 45 CFR 2552.43-44 for further details

Example: Income Eligibility for a Serving Volunteer

1. Visit the Managing Senior Corps Grants page for this year's income eligibility guidelines. Find the right guideline for an individual based on his or her state and family size.
2. In 2019, the guideline for all states except Alaska and Hawaii for a family unit of one was $24,980.
3. Multiply that by 20%. 20% of $24,980 is $4,996.
4. Add that to the original guideline. $24,980 + $4,996 is $29,976.

8.3.4 National Service Criminal History Checks

It is critical that Senior Corps sponsors make National Service Criminal History Checks (NSCHC) a priority when hiring project staff and enrolling FGP and SCP volunteers. Grantees that do not comply with the NSCHC requirements may be subject to cost disallowance. Please read this section and the NSCHC webpage carefully to be sure your policies and your implementation procedures are in compliance with the requirement. Grantees should contact their CNCS program officer/portfolio manager for NSCHC questions or requirement clarification.

8.3.5 NSCHC Overview:

Under the National and Community Service Act of 1990, as amended by the Serve America Act of 2009, all CNCS grantees must conduct NSCHC on grant-funded staff and national service participants that receive a salary, national service education award, living allowance, or stipend under CNCS grants. This includes FGP and SCP volunteers. Individuals in these positions must undergo the NSCHC process in a timely manner, or the noncompliant grantee may be subject to cost disallowance. Certain parts of the process must occur prior to charging any staff or volunteer time, to a CNCS grant. Therefore, it is critical to comply with the NSCHC requirements on time, every time.

The Code of Federal Regulations outlines the National Service Criminal History Check rules and regulations in full at 45 CFR 2540.200–207. Additional information on NSCHC, including the required annual NSCHC e-course, an FAQ document, and links to technical assistance resources can be found on the NSCHC webpage.

These NSCHC requirements are statutory minimums, and individual grantees can, and often should, supplement these with additional safeguards for vulnerable populations, such as additional screening mechanisms, additional eligibility criteria, a code of conduct, training for staff and volunteers, and a clear system for reporting and handling reports of any harm or potential harm to vulnerable populations resulting from their program. Contact your CNCS program officer/portfolio manager for more resources on ways to protect your program's vulnerable beneficiaries.

8.3.6 NSCHC Enforcement:

Grantees that do not comply with the NSCHC requirements may be subject to cost disallowance. More information on cost disallowance can be found in the NSCHC Enforcement Guide. Grantees that self-report non-compliance to a monitoring official prior to any written notice of future oversight or monitoring activity (such as IPERA sampling, IG audit or investigation, site visit, desk review, etc.) may receive a reduction in their cost disallowance. As a result, it is in an organization's interest to develop a system for monitoring its own compliance.

8.3.7 NSCHC Resources:

See CNCS Knowledge Network/Criminal History Checks for links to the regulations, requirements, and training materials. Video Training, NSCHC eCourse, FAQs, NSCHC Documentation Checklist is especially helpful to Senior Corps grantees.

Additional information on National Service Criminal History Checks, including the Final Rule, an FAQ document, and links to technical assistance resources, is posted at <https://www.nationalservice.gov/CHCRelatedResources>. Among the available technical assistance resources is the Staff Screening Tool Kit (Third Edition) developed by the Nonprofit Risk Management Center, which is available for download at <https://www.nationalservice.gov/sites/default/files/resource/r3300-staff-screening-tool-kit.pdf>.

8.4 SELECTION OF FGP VOLUNTEERS

8.4.1 Selection Criteria

A full complement of Foster Grandparents should include a variety of personal skills and strengths. Since the project will be expected to plan a variety of assignments at volunteer stations, emphasis will be on matching a potential Foster Grandparent with an already planned, suitable, and available assignment.

- 1) Selection criteria should give priority to eligible older persons who are highly motivated and have the greatest need to serve. Other criteria to consider when selecting Foster Grandparents include:
 - a) Ability to serve 5 to 40 hours a week;
 - b) Willingness to accept professional supervision; and
 - c) Flexibility in accepting assignments, including private homes, wherever most needed.
- 3) Ownership of or access to a private automobile should not be a project-wide requirement but may influence selection in sparsely populated areas or for particular assignments.

8.4.2 Selection Documentation

Grantees must document in writing that (1) the applicant's identity was verified by examining the applicant's government-issued photo identification card and (2) that the required criminal history checks were conducted. Grantees must maintain the results of the criminal history check in a secure location and document in writing that the grantee considered the results in selecting the applicant.

8.4.3 Individuals Ineligible to Serve

- 1) CNCS requirements specify that individuals are ineligible to serve as Foster Grandparents if they are:
 - a) Listed, or required to be listed, on a sex offender registry.
 - b) Convicted of murder as defined and described in 18 U.S.C. § 1111. 3.
 - c) Unwilling to consent to the NSCHC.
 - d) Found to have made a false statement in connection with a program's inquiry concerning the individual's criminal history.
- 2) Grantees may adopt written project policies that include other disqualifying offenses.

8.5 ENROLLMENT OF FOSTER GRANDPARENTS

8.5.1 Enrollment Records

- 1) Once the selection process is completed, the project staff formally enrolls the FGP applicant into the program through the completion of an enrollment form. (See Appendix C.2 for a sample volunteer enrollment form.) Potential Foster Grandparents must sign and date the form. The form should include designation of beneficiaries for insurance purposes and indication of personal automobile liability coverage, if applicable.
- 2) Projects must keep documentation for the NSCHC process for each volunteer. NSOPW must be completed and documented prior to individual beginning service as a Foster Grandparent; documentation showing that the state and FBI checks were initiated prior to individual beginning service; and requirement for accompaniment for individuals with access to vulnerable populations until the project receives state or FBI project results. Please read the NSCHC webpage carefully to be sure your policies and your implementation procedures are in compliance with the requirement.
- 3) Volunteer records should be updated as necessary and at least annually to ensure information is current. (See Appendix C.5 for a sample volunteer information update form. See Appendix C.2 for a sample enrollment checklist.)
- 4) Maintain enrollment records, including original and annual income eligibility reviews until at least three years from the date you submit the final FFR for the project period when the volunteer exits service or three years past the last audit, whichever is later. These records are critical grant records. See Chapter 11 on Reports and Recordkeeping for more information.
- 5) At the time of enrollment, Foster Grandparents may be provided a physical examination or assistance with the cost of a physical examination. See Chapter 9, Volunteer Cost Reimbursements Detailed.

8.5.2 Persons Not Selected to Be Foster Grandparents and Reserve Foster Grandparents

- 1) Eligible persons not selected to serve as Foster Grandparents should be counseled and referred to other community agencies which provide opportunities for older persons, including the Senior Community Service Employment Program, other CNCS programs, and other volunteer organizations.
- 2) Many projects maintain waiting lists or generalized contact lists to stay in touch with individuals who express interest in serving but are either not selected or not able to volunteer at a given time. These lists may be used to socialize new opportunities.
- 3) Sponsors may want to plan for more Foster Grandparents volunteers than the number of volunteer service hours to allow for absences, variation in the number of hours served, and attrition. Local experience will provide a sponsor with a more accurate basis for determining reserves. (See Appendix C.8 for a VSY Calculator).

8.6 ORIENTATION AND TRAINING OF FOSTER GRANDPARENT VOLUNTEERS

8.6.1 Minimum Requirement

The sponsor must provide a minimum of 20 hours of pre-service orientation to Foster Grandparents and at least 24 hours annually of in-service training (45 CFR 2552.23\(f\)).

8.6.2 Examples and Explanation

8.6.2.1 New Volunteers

For each volunteer's first year of service, the sponsor must provide:

- A minimum of 20 hours of pre-service orientation
- A minimum of 24 hours of in-service training annually.

This requirement must be met within a year of the volunteer's enrollment, not necessarily in the program year in which the volunteer enrolled in the program. See below for an example.

Note that both the 20 hours of pre-service orientation and the 24 hours of in-service training are minimums. Sponsors may provide orientation and training that exceeds the minimum requirement to enhance performance of assignments. Stipends may be accrued for all training and orientation activity and cost reimbursements may be provided. For suggestions on content, see Section 8.6.4 on orientation format and content below. Sponsors may also include hours of orientation and training provided by the volunteer station(s) at which the FGP volunteer will serve in this requirement.

Meeting the Requirement for New Volunteers: Example

Hometown FGP provides two or four hours of in-service training every month, except for in June and July. Their project year runs from January through December, in line with the calendar year. Lily joins the program in October and receives the required 20 hours of pre-service orientation before starting service. She then attends two two-hour in-service trainings before the end of the project year.

The next project year begins, and Lily continues to attend monthly in-service trainings and, by the end of October, the sponsor has fulfilled its minimum requirement of at least 24 hours annually of in-service training. It has provided the required 20 hours of pre-service orientation and 24 hours of in-service training in her first year as a Foster Grandparent volunteer, even though this extends across multiple program years. Though the sponsor has met the requirement at this point, she continues to attend in-service trainings regularly. (See table below.)

| New Volunteer Example: Lily | | | | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|-----|-----|-----|-----|-----|------|-----|------|-----|------|------|------------------|
| | Month and Hours of Orientation/Training | | | | | | | | | | | | |

| *Lily attends 20 hours of pre-service orientation. | | | | | | | | | | | | | |
| At this point (October), the sponsor has provided the minimum amount of training and orientation. They have provided 20 hours of pre-service training, plus 24 hours of in-service training between November and October. | | | | | | | | | | | | | |
| In November and December, Lily attends in-service training regularly as any other volunteer, however she does not need to attend every session offered. | | | | | | | | | | | | | |

8.6.2.2 Existing Volunteers

After the volunteer’s first year of service, and for each successive year, the sponsor must provide a minimum of 24 hours of in-service training annually to its volunteers.

As with the orientation requirement, this is a minimum requirement, and sponsors may exceed it. Due to absences, leave or other issues, individual volunteers may not be able to attend all trainings. In fact, it is a good practice to plan to exceed this requirement, so that unexpected cancellations or changes do not result in a sponsor falling short of its minimum requirement. The sponsor should have reasonable policies and procedures in place that describe what constitutes a sufficient training plan for FGP volunteers each year.

This training may be structured in many different ways. You will need to adapt your schedule to match the service activities available to your volunteers and other community factors. See the examples below, which are intended to demonstrate the range of different options available to you, for more information.

Examples

- Hometown FGP values a predictable schedule and finds that attendance is at its largest when the schedule is the same throughout the year. For this reason, it hosts a two-hour in-service training on the same day each month.
- Neighborhood FGP has a partnership with a school that requires volunteers to receive certain information at the beginning of each school year. They also like to recognize outstanding volunteers at an in-service event at the end of each school year. Consequently, they schedule a four-hour in-service training in September and a four-hour in-service training in June. They do not hold a training in December and January, when they find many volunteers are unavailable due to holidays. They hold a two-hour in-service training all other months.

- Township FGP operates in a rural area with harsh winters that complicates transportation. They also work extensively with schools, and so, find that service opportunities are fewer in the summer months. As a result, they focus their training and in-service in summer months, offering four-hour in-service trainings each month over the summer. They do not schedule any for months in winter when transportation is most difficult.
- Hamlet FGP values a regular schedule, like Hometown FGP, but also faces some of the transportation challenges as Township FGP. They concentrate all their training between April and September, with a four-hour training each month. They also include a four-hour training in March and October to ramp up and phase out these training activities. Note that this means they provide more than the minimum requirement, as they may choose to do at their discretion.

8.6.3 Documenting Orientations and Trainings

Best practices related to documenting orientations and in-service trainings to show adherence to the requirement include maintaining the following types of information:

- A calendar of orientation and training events
- An agenda or schedule
- Sign-in sheets
- Receipts for any supplies purchased
- Invoices or in-kind donation forms for any services used, such as if a professional trainer or subject matter expert is used

8.6.4 Orientations: Format and Content

As explained above, sponsors must provide least 20 hours of pre-service orientation to new volunteers prior to service. Sponsors should adapt the format and content of orientations to meet the needs of their community and their program model. There is no one ideal orientation. Effective orientations also include content provided directly by the volunteer station(s) at which the FGP volunteer will serve. The information below offers suggestions and ideas that may be helpful for many different programs.

8.6.4.1 Objectives

An effective orientation:

- Welcomes volunteers to the national service community, helping them understand their connection to CNCS, Senior Corps, other Foster Grandparents and the American people who support their work.
- Provides critical logistical and compliance information about your program to Foster Grandparents and conveys information on project policies, including annual and sick leave, holidays, service schedules, termination, appeal procedures, and cost reimbursements like meals and transportation. Project procedures related to timesheets, insurance, and other administrative details should also be clearly explained.
- Introduces Foster Grandparents to each other and the people and organizations who will support them, including sponsor staff, station staff and others.
- Prepares Foster Grandparents to fill their role, including understanding their potential activities and the special and exceptional needs of the young people they will work with.
- Shares information about available community services that will help Foster Grandparents help themselves and ultimately serve their clients better.

8.6.4.2 Topics and Structure

Develop your orientation with help from sponsor and volunteer station staff, as well as child development and other relevant professionals. Daily group training over a one- to two-week period provides efficient use of community resources and promotes team building among volunteers. Projects have found that a combination of formal orientation and hands-on experience with volunteer stations works well. This gives greater meaning to the orientation and aids new volunteers' adjustment to their assignments. Consider including current Foster Grandparents in the design, execution, and continuous improvement of your orientation.

The specific information you will cover may vary based on your community and project's needs, but most projects tend to cover some combination of the topics listed below in the pre-service component of their orientation. Review the section below on adult learning principles for some ideas on how to make the experience engaging and effective for your learners.

- Introductions: Introduce your new volunteers to each other and to important individuals in your program, such as sponsor and station staff. This can be done in a dedicated session or spaced out through various activities throughout the orientation.
- Welcome to the National Service Community: Help Foster Grandparents recognize their role as part of the nationwide national service community. Consider using some of the videos or other materials on CNCS and Senior Corps available on the CNCS website.
- The Role of the Foster Grandparent: What will the Foster Grandparents do? What are some concrete examples? What activities are appropriate and inappropriate? Consider having current Foster Grandparents share their experience.
- Team-Building Exercises: Have your Foster Grandparents work together to solve problems and build trust, helping create a cohesive, supportive community of volunteers.

- Strategies and Tactics for Working with Young People: You could spend a significant amount of time on this topic and the most relevant activities will depend on the structure of your specific program. This is also a great opportunity to involve teachers or other specialists. Possible items to address include: how to tutor, how to mentor, managing challenging behavior, assertiveness, working with teachers, working in schools and accepting supervision. You could also consider spending time acquainting Foster Grandparents with the specific special needs they might encounter among the children they serve.
- Policies and Procedures: Be sure to address your FGP program’s major rules and logistical systems, such as assignment plans, service policies and appeal procedures, timesheets, reimbursement for meals and transportation, and insurance. Consider spacing out this information out throughout the orientation period and provide opportunities for questions and for volunteers to practice key activities, like completing timesheets. Be sure to include information about prohibited activities. (See Chapter 2 of this Handbook.)
- Code of Conduct, Mandatory Reporting and Child Advocacy: Explain what you expect of your volunteers when they interact with children. See the chapter on “Guidelines on Interactions between Individuals” in the Center for Disease Control’s Preventing Child Sexual Abuse within Youth-Serving Organizations for information on what to consider including. Depending on your state, Foster Grandparents may also have specific responsibilities for reporting known or suspected child abuse. At a minimum, you should prepare them to be able to discuss a child’s physical and mental health with supervisors.
- Support for Foster Grandparents: Introduce your new volunteers to services or information that you can provide them to help with their own needs. Your volunteers will want to feel supported, and this, in turn, will help them remain committed to your program. Remember that orientation is part of the recruitment process – you want to be sure they understand why it’s a good idea to stick with your program.
- Graduation: Recognize your new volunteers for completing the process. This is another great opportunity to involve current Foster Grandparents to help welcome them into the group. Consider presenting them with a certificate or branded gear from your program.

Most programs continue new volunteers’ orientation by pairing them with experienced Foster Grandparents (often called “shadowing”) for a period of time before giving new volunteers their own assignments. This is strongly recommended when possible. This allows new volunteers to see the practical aspects of a program; meet station staff, teachers, and children with a supportive volunteer next to them; and ask additional questions of existing Foster Grandparents.

Consider checking in with the group again after they have some in-service experience to address new questions and hear about their early experiences. Finally, ask for your volunteers’ feedback following the orientation process so you can keep improving.

8.6.5 In-Service Trainings: Format and Content

As with orientations, sponsors should adapt the format and content of in-service trainings to meet the needs of their community and their program model. There is no one ideal set of content for in-service trainings. The information below offers suggestions and ideas that may be helpful for many different programs.

8.6.5.1 Objectives

An effective in-service program:

- Provides Foster Grandparents opportunities to build knowledge and skills that help them effectively serve young people
- Reinforces key project policies, procedures and systems to help Foster Grandparents contribute to an efficient, compliant, responsible program
- Keeps Foster Grandparents engaged and connected to the program
- Gives Foster Grandparents access to information and services that allow them to stay healthy and active
- Recognizes Foster Grandparents for their service
- Meets the needs of Foster Grandparents, as identified by the Foster Grandparents themselves

8.6.5.2 Potential Topics and Structure

For an overview of different ways to allocate and schedule in-service time, see the beginning of this section, which explains the minimum requirement.

Once you have determined your in-service schedule, you can combine multiple topics and approaches for diverse, enriching sessions. Try to include a mix of different types of activities in each. You might, for example, start with 30 minutes of reflection and small group conversations, followed by a more formal hour-long training on a specific topic, followed by a period of activities to practice. You could then close with recognition and reminders. Varying the format and structure of your in-services will incentivize participation and make them more effective.

Some potential topics you could include are:

- Strategies and Tactics for Working with Young People: This could take many different forms depending on your program. If your program tutors, consider training them on tutoring ideas and tactics. If it focuses on mentorship, focus there. Use your stations and other community partners to help provide and contribute content.
- Coaching and Problem-Solving: Have volunteers share success stories or challenges and discuss them with the group. How can your volunteers help each other?
- Resources for Volunteers: Engage community partners who can share resources with your Foster Grandparents to help them with their own needs. This, in turn, will help them be more effective in your program.
- Program Rules and Procedures: It never hurts to remind your volunteers about the details that make your program run. Consider refreshers on key policies or setting time aside to help them with key tasks, like updating important forms.

- Recognition: Build a sense of community and partnership among your FGP volunteers, while also allowing volunteers to model exemplary behavior. Recognize volunteers for accomplishments and milestones and giving them opportunities to recognize each other.

8.6.6 Introduction to Adult Learning Principles

Familiarity with some basic concepts about how adults learn can help make your orientations and trainings as effective as possible. You likely already have some basic knowledge of these, based on your own experiences.

Think about the kind of training that you prefer. It's likely that you learn best when a few things are true:

- You understand why what you're being taught is important
- You have time to apply what you're learning, ask questions and get involved
- You can share your own experience and learn from the experience of others who've dealt with similar challenges
- The style of training provided matches your needs – if you're a visual learner, there are some visuals. If you're an auditory learner, you have a chance to listen.

Your volunteers will appreciate these same tactics in orientation and in-service training. A number of researchers have studied how adults learn and identified a few key principles that allow adults to learn effectively. Though stated in different ways over the years, they can be boiled down to a few key concepts:

- Choice: Adults don't like being told what to do! Most adults are used to choosing their own activities and managing their own experiences. It's uncomfortable to surrender that sense of agency when an adult enters a training space. That discomfort can mean that your learners are thinking about how they don't want to do a certain activity, rather than the information you want to share. Practically, this means offering learners choices in their activities and getting buy-in from learners. Think about tactics like asking learners what they want to get out of a session before it begins and tailoring the session to those ideas. You can also involve learners in the design of your sessions. For example, invite current Foster Grandparents to shape your orientation.
- Relevance: This is closely related to choice. Adults learn best when they clearly understand why it is in their interest to learn certain information. Practically, you can make the objectives of all your sessions and activities clear so that learners understand the "why" behind the "what." Using current Foster Grandparents can be helpful here as well, to point out when specifically a learner might need specific knowledge or skills.
- Experience: Adults – particularly older adults – have a lot to share! They learn best when they have opportunities to share their wisdom. This has other benefits too, of course, in that it allows other learners to gain that knowledge. Though your learners may be new to being Foster Grandparents or a particular topic, chances are that they have some experience with something similar – working with children informally, perhaps working in teams with other older adults, or maybe just relevant life experiences. Practically, this means asking almost as many questions of your learners as they ask of you! Encourage them to share with each other in small groups and in a large group setting, and explicitly acknowledge the expertise they bring to a conversation.
- Application: Adults learn best by practicing what they have learned. Incorporating activities allows learners to apply knowledge themselves and make connections to real-world situations.

Practically, this means offering frequent opportunities for learners to interact with material. Consider including role-playing activities or asking participants how they would react to specific scenarios. Many trainers use a “Learn, Do, Teach” framework, where they explain a concept, have learners apply the concept, and then ask the learners to try to explain the concept to someone else, such as a peer. This principle also means that learning often continues after a formal “training,” when your learners go out into the real world. Consider including time for reflection regularly to reinforce new ideas and concepts.

- Repetition: Adults don’t remember everything they’re told the first time. This is just human nature – in any training, expect your learners to only remember a small portion of the information you share exactly. Practically, this means not only that you should repeat key concepts within a training, but also that you should give learners tools to remind themselves. Referencing handbooks and other tools that learners have after the fact is a great practice for adult learning. Also consider explicitly pointing out the 2-3 most important pieces of information in a session by saying something like, “If you remember nothing else from the past hour, remember...” Reviewing information both at the end of a session and in later follow up activities also helps learners retain more.

There are many resources available online if you would like to learn more about adult learning. The Northwest Center for Public Health Practice has created a very helpful Adult Learning Toolkit that is useful for many topics beyond public health. Facilitating Adult Learning by Dr. Lela Vandenberg offers lots of great practical tips as well.

8.7 SERVICE REQUIREMENTS

The FGP program regulations on service requirements (called “terms of service” in the regulations) are found in 45 CFR 2552.51 through 2552.53.

8.7.1 Weekly Hours Requirement

Foster Grandparents serve a minimum of 260 hours annually, or a minimum of 5 hours per week. A Foster Grandparent may serve a maximum of 2080 hours annually, or a maximum of 40 hours per week. Within these limitations, a sponsor may set service policies consistent with local needs [45 CFR 2552.51].

The sponsor should develop a variety of volunteer stations that afford opportunities for year round placements, nine-month placements, summer placements, and various weekly scheduling requirements. See the box below for suggestions on managing service during the summer, when there may be fewer service opportunities available.

In addition, sponsors may choose to abide by either the hourly or annual minimums. A sponsor must also document how it chooses to meet the requirement above in local policies that define hours of service for volunteers and the sponsor must implement its policies consistently.

8.7.2 Travel Time, Meal Time, Training, Official Meetings, Recognition

Travel time between the Foster Grandparent’s home and place of assignment may not be considered part of the service schedule and is not stipended. Travel time between individual assignments is part of the service schedule. Meal time may be part of the service schedule and is stipended. Additionally, attendance at pre-service orientation, in-service training, FGP advisory council meetings, physicals (if applicable), and recognition events are also considered official project activities or events. Hours served in support of these activities or events count toward the minimum and maximum service requirements and volunteers should receive stipends for them, consistent with sponsor policies and procedures.

8.7.3 Sponsor Service Policies

Service policies must be provided in writing to Foster Grandparents. These policies should include, but are not limited to, probationary periods, criminal history checks, resignations, annual and sick leave, holidays, service schedules, prohibited activity, meal and travel reimbursements, and appeal procedures. The policies should also cover the volunteer's annual performance appraisal and annual income review.

Sponsors should set policies that define leave in accordance with all applicable regulations. When developing leave policies, sponsors should consider applicable rules and regulations that may impact volunteer management, like the hours of service requirement, criminal history check requirements, etc.

8.7.4 Volunteer Separation

A sponsor may separate a volunteer for cause, including but not limited to, extensive or unauthorized absences, misconduct, inability to perform assignments, or having income in excess of the eligibility level. Separation should not occur until the Foster Grandparent is given an opportunity to file a grievance and/or appeal the action in accordance with the sponsor's service policy(45 CFR 2552.53).

FGP Volunteers Serving over the Summer

The term of service requirement stating that volunteers shall serve a minimum of 260 hours annually, or a minimum of 5 hours per week, is defined in regulation at 45 CFR 2552.51. Sponsors that partner extensively with schools that observe a traditional 9 to 10 month school year may find this requirement challenging during the summer when school is not in session. For volunteers who wish to continue service during the summer, sponsors may use a combination of activities to meet this requirement, such as:

- Placements at summer enrichment activities, such as remedial academic programs or day camps
- In-service training: Sponsors may choose to increase hours dedicated to in-service training when opportunities for placement are limited. See Section 8.6 for more information.
- Stipended leave, in line with reasonable sponsor policies and procedures
- Leaves of absence or unpaid leave, again guided by reasonable sponsor policies and procedures. Effective policies and procedures take into account CNCS's requirements regarding breaks of service as they relate to criminal history checks. (See National Service Criminal History Check Resources).

8.8 EFFECTIVE PRACTICES IN MANAGING FOSTER GRANDPARENT VOLUNTEERS

I. Effective Practices to Ensure Satisfaction among FGP Volunteers in Their Service to the Community

The project builds a spirit of commitment among the volunteers by:

- A. Ensuring that FGP volunteers have opportunities to express their concerns, interests, and observations about the project to the staff of the project and the volunteer station;
- B. Involving FGP volunteers in the operation and appraisal of assignments and project operations;
- C. Soliciting comments and/or recommendations from the Foster Grandparents related to their experiences in serving children, and incorporating relevant information into the project as applicable;
- D. Adopting specific strategies to retain a diverse group of FGP volunteers; and
- E. Identifying and promptly addressing any issues or problems that impact the retention of FGP volunteers from a broad range of backgrounds.

II. Effective Practices to Help FGP Volunteers Develop Their Capacity to be Community Leaders and Spokespersons

The project:

- A. Encourages the volunteers to recognize and take pride in the value of their service to the community;
- B. Provides FGP volunteers opportunities to serve in leadership roles and develop leadership skills that enhance their personal lives and the project, such as serving on the Community Advisory Group;
- C. Provides opportunities for FGP volunteers to facilitate training with other FGP volunteers using a standard training format with learning objectives as ways to measure progress;
- D. Involves FGP volunteers in promoting the project to the community, such as through media appearances; and
- E. Acknowledges and values the strengths and skills of FGP volunteers through ensuring that assignments are challenging and match the FGP volunteers' interests and abilities.

III. Effective Practices for Acknowledging the Contributions of FGP Volunteers

The sponsor and project director:

- A. Plan and implement individual and group recognition activities;
- B. Ensure that volunteer stations regularly recognize FGP volunteers as contributors to the stations' ability to deliver services;
- C. Provide at least one annual recognition event for FGP volunteers which has significant community support and involvement;
- D. Recognize, document, and publicize outstanding FGP volunteer achievement;

- E. Consider collaborating with other area Senior Corps programs on recognition efforts; and
- F. Consider non-traditional forms of recognition, especially for culturally diverse and Boomer volunteers.

9 FGP VOLUNTEER COST REIMBURSEMENTS

FGP volunteers are provided with cost reimbursements and other benefits. Within the limits of a project's approved budget, and in accordance with 45 CFR 2552.43 and any written Senior Corps policy guidance to projects, volunteers are provided transportation, meals, accident and liability insurance, physical exam (if applicable), uniforms when appropriate, and recognition activities. Cost reimbursements are budgeted as "Volunteer Expenses," and the two terms may be used interchangeably.

9.1 ADMINISTRATION OF COST REIMBURSEMENTS

Sponsors should establish written cost reimbursement policies and procedures and provide these to each volunteer. Orientations and in-service trainings are ideal times to provide these to volunteers and discuss them. The amount of reimbursement for non-stipend cost reimbursements made to FGP volunteers is determined by the availability of funds and project's written policy regarding reimbursement of volunteer expenses.

9.1.1 Assignment-Related Expenses

Project funds may be used to reimburse volunteers for expenses, including transportation costs, incurred while performing their volunteer assignments, provided that these expenses are described in the Memorandum of Understanding with the volunteer station and there are sufficient funds available to cover these expenses and meet all other requirements identified in the Notice of Grant Award. [\[45 CFR 2552.46\]](#) Otherwise, such expenses are the responsibility of the volunteer station.

9.1.2 Income Disregard Memo

Cost reimbursements are not subject to any tax or charge. Cost reimbursements may not be treated as wages or compensation for the purposes of unemployment insurance, temporary disability, retirement, public assistance, workers' compensation, or similar benefit payments or minimum wage laws. [\[45 CFR 2552.47\]](#) See Guidance from the Office of General Counsel - Income Disregard for a memo discussing the provision of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act that requires, in most cases, government agencies to disregard payments to FGP volunteers when determining their eligibility for assistance and benefits. Please note that this memo need not be updated annually and that, once signed, it is effective unless revoked or superseded. This document was most recently updated in 2018.

9.1.3 Reimbursement Policies

The amount of reimbursement made to FGP volunteers is determined by the availability of funds and project's written policy regarding reimbursement of Volunteer Expenses. The procedure and the limits for volunteers to request reimbursement should be identified in volunteer orientation sessions and project service policies.

9.1.4 Non-Reimbursed Volunteer Expenses

Volunteer Expense items, including transportation to and from their assignments, meals taken during assignments, recognition activities, and recognition items, which are purchased at the volunteers' own expense and not reimbursed by the project to the volunteer, are not allowable as contributions to the non-Federal share of the budget.

9.1.5 Non-CNCS Funded Foster Grandparents

Foster Grandparents whose stipends are funded with non-CNCS resources are entitled to all benefits to which CNCS-funded Foster Grandparents are entitled. [45 CFR 2552.102]

9.1.6 Non-Stipended Foster Grandparents

Sponsors must provide non-stipended Foster Grandparents with all of the cost reimbursements, except for the stipend, that stipended Foster Grandparents receive, as they should be treated equally (45 CFR 2552.102\(c\)). However, statute prevents federal funding or non-federal match from being used to support non-stipended volunteer cost reimbursements such as meals, transportation, and physical examinations (if applicable) (42 U.S.C. 5011(4)). Sponsors should budget locally generated contributions that exceed the required non-federal match in their budget's excess column to pay for non-stipended volunteers' cost reimbursements (42 U.S.C. 5011(4)). If sponsors need more guidance on budgeting for non-stipended volunteers, they should contact their CNCS program officer/portfolio manager.

9.2 VOLUNTEER COST REIMBURSEMENTS DETAILED

9.2.1 Stipend

Foster Grandparents serve from 5 to 40 hours a week. The stipend is a payment to Foster Grandparents to enable them to serve without cost to themselves. [45 CFR 2552.12\(v\)]

The stipend is paid for the hourly service schedule that Foster Grandparents spend with assigned children, for earned leave if applicable, and for attendance at official project events, such as, orientation, in-service training, Advisory Council meetings (as members or official observers), physicals (if applicable), recognition events, and travel time between individual assignments. Travel time between the volunteer's home and place of assignment may not be considered as part of the service schedule and is not stipended. However, travel time between assignments is a part of the service schedule. Meal time may be part of the service schedule and is stipended. See [45 CFR 2552.45\(a\) and 45 CFR 2552.52.]

9.2.2 Transportation

9.2.2.1 General Principles and Practices

- 1) FGP volunteers may receive assistance with the cost of transportation to and from volunteer assignments and official project activities, including orientation, training, physicals, and recognition events. [45 CFR 2552.46]
- 2) It is suggested that the project work with its advisory council to prepare a transportation plan. Such a plan should be sound and reasonable, based on lowest-cost transportation modes, and include scheduling, modes of transportation, criteria for reimbursement, mileage rates, and patterns of transportation.
- 3) Consideration should be given to volunteers who do not own cars or may prefer not to drive and can only participate in the program when other arrangements and modes of transportation are developed.

- 4) Transportation should be considered when deciding where volunteers are assigned. Convenient and less costly transportation is promoted when assignments are developed in areas close to where FGP volunteers live.
- 5) It is important to consider both costs and convenience, as well as volunteer service schedules, in developing a cost-effective travel solution.
- 6) Transportation provided by volunteers that has not been reimbursed to the volunteer cannot be used as a local contribution to the project budget.
- 7) Parking fees for volunteers having to park at a volunteer station or at an official FGP function may be budgeted. Parking costs are allowable as a local in-kind contribution only if they are normally charged.
- 8) FGP volunteers and volunteer station staff are required to sign a statement certifying that transportation costs to be reimbursed to the volunteer were in conjunction with volunteer service and to provide details of the reimbursement. Vouchers are subject to review for compliance monitoring and CNCS audit purposes.
- 9) Projects may incorporate volunteer expense claims on the timesheet form. Costs must be verified by signatures of the volunteer, the volunteer station supervisor, and designated FGP staff. (See Appendix C.3 for a sample Volunteer Timesheet and Mileage Request form.)

9.2.2.2 Reimbursement for Volunteers' Transportation

Volunteer Drivers

- 1) Reimbursement of FGP volunteers who drive their own cars is based on a cost-per-mile rate set by the sponsor via written policy. Volunteers are reimbursed for actual mileage within the limits of available funds and local project reimbursement policy. Volunteers cannot be reimbursed in excess of actual costs, or on a per capita basis, for transporting other volunteers. (See Appendix C.3 for a sample Volunteer Timesheet and Mileage Request form.)
- 2) Mileage reimbursement directly to an FGP volunteer from a volunteer station for transportation from the volunteer's home to the place of assignment and return home is acceptable as local support of the FGP project. Project files should include verification of this contribution for review for compliance monitoring and CNCS audit purposes.
- 3) Mileage reimbursement to FGP volunteers from volunteer stations for providing transportation while on volunteer assignments cannot be used as local support of the FGP project. FGP cannot accept responsibility for the costs of community service provided by volunteer stations and, therefore, cannot be credited for the value of those costs to be used as local budget support.

Car Pool Drivers

Drivers of car pools receive reimbursement for actual mileage based on a cost-per-mile rate. Passengers do not receive reimbursement.

Public Transportation Users

Sponsors should establish procedures, such as a voucher system, for reimbursing volunteers for public transportation expenses, including subways, buses, and other public conveyances. Reimbursements must be based on documentation by the volunteer of actual costs incurred for project-related transportation expenses.

Certification and Documentation

Foster Grandparents and volunteer station staff are required to sign a statement certifying that transportation costs to be reimbursed to the volunteer were in conjunction with volunteer service and to provide details of the reimbursement. Projects may incorporate volunteer expense claims on the timesheet form. Costs must be verified by signatures of the volunteer, the volunteer station supervisor, and designated FGP staff. Vouchers are subject to audit. (See Appendix C.3 for a sample timesheet that incorporates hours of service, mileage, and meal expenses.

Other Transportation Reimbursement Considerations

- 1) The purchase cost, operation, and maintenance of vans, mini-buses, or station wagons may be budgeted only if they provide the most flexible and economical transportation available.
- 2) Project vehicle costs, vehicle driver's salary and fringe benefits, and vehicle insurance are budgeted as travel costs under volunteer expenses in the FGP project grant application.
- 3) Contracted transportation, if it is the most flexible and economical mode, may be budgeted for volunteers.
- 4) Volunteers who do not incur travel expenses (e.g., those who walk to assignments, ride on free public transportation, or are passengers in carpools) do not receive reimbursement.

9.2.3 Meals

Within the limits of available resources and project written policy, FGP volunteers receive assistance with the cost of meals taken during their service schedule. [\[45 CFR 2552.46\(e\)\]](#) Project staff arrange for or assist with the cost of meals for FGP volunteers during orientation and training, and, as feasible, on days when volunteer service is provided.

Project directors should make special efforts to reach an understanding with volunteer stations to provide meals for FGP volunteers. In general, these meals may be used as local support in the budget, provided there is sufficient documentation.

In-Home Meal Options

Meal arrangements become more difficult for volunteers with in-home assignments. Volunteers who plan to eat between assignments may be far removed from nutrition centers and volunteer stations which have meal facilities. Some options are for Foster Grandparents to share a meal with a client, bring their own "brown bag" lunch, or eat at a restaurant and be reimbursed for the cost of their meal. Meals provided by or to clients served are not an allowable budget cost.

Title III of the Older Americans Act

Local congregate nutrition programs, funded under Title III of the Older Americans Act, operate in some public and private non-profit organizations. FGP volunteers over 60 are eligible for meals at congregate meal sites funded under this program. See Paragraph (5) (b) in Section 10.3.2 of this Handbook for more information on when programs funded by a federal agency other than CNCS may be included in a grant's non-federal share.

Reimbursement to Volunteers

The amount of reimbursement to volunteers for meals is normally based on actual expenses, consistent with costing procedures developed by the sponsor rather than a flat daily rate. However, reimbursement of "brown-bag" lunches prepared by FGP volunteers may be based on a flat rate established by the sponsor in written policy. The basis for the rate should be included in the grant application budget narrative. FGP volunteers and volunteer station staff are required to sign a statement certifying that meals to be reimbursed to the volunteer were taken in conjunction with volunteer service and provide details of the reimbursement. Vouchers must be approved by FGP staff and they are subject to review for compliance monitoring and CNCS audit purposes. (See Appendix C.3 for sample forms for volunteers to use to request reimbursement for meals.)

9.2.4 Insurance

The program regulations require FGP volunteers be provided with accident insurance, personal liability insurance, and excess automobile liability insurance [45 CFR 2552.25\(f\)]. The minimum levels of this insurance are specified by CNCS, and may be subject to change from time to time. See Appendix A.10: Senior Corps Minimum Insurance Requirements for minimum coverage levels.

The insurance coverage must be in excess of and noncontributing to any other valid and collectible insurance the volunteers have. In other words, the accident and excess automobile liability coverage are intended to provide higher levels of insurance for volunteers, starting where other insurance coverage for them stops. The CNCS-required insurance is excess insurance not primary insurance. This is also true for personal liability; but volunteers are often not covered by personal liability insurance, in which case the CNCS-required personal liability insurance shall become primary insurance with no deductible conferred to or paid by volunteers.

1) Accident Insurance

Accident insurance covers FGP volunteers for personal injury during travel between their homes and places of assignment, during their volunteer service, during meal periods while serving as a volunteer, and while attending project-sponsored activities, such as recognition activities, orientation, and FGP advisory council meetings.

Protection shall be provided against claims in excess of any benefits or services for medical care or treatment available to the Foster Grandparent from other sources, such as health insurance coverage.

FGP Volunteers and Workers Compensation

FGP volunteers are not employees and are not covered by Federal or state workers compensation insurance.

45 CFR 2552.45

2) Personal Liability Insurance for Volunteers

Protection is provided against claims in excess of protection provided by other insurance. Such protection does not include professional liability coverage. The sponsor must provide third-party protection for volunteers against injury or property damage claims arising out of their volunteer service activities. Some insurance providers refer to this as "volunteer liability insurance." For each sponsoring organization, the amount of protection must meet or exceed the minimum levels of this insurance as specified by CNCS. See Appendix A.10: Senior Corps Minimum Insurance Requirements for minimum coverage levels.

3) Excess Automobile Liability Insurance

To avoid a gap in coverage between that provided by the FGP volunteer's personal vehicle insurance and liability claims in excess of that coverage, the sponsor must provide Excess Automobile Liability Insurance coverage for bodily injury and/or property damage. See Appendix A.10: Senior Corps Minimum Insurance Requirements for minimum coverage levels.

NOTE: It is recommended that projects verify that volunteer drivers have valid licenses and basic liability insurance.

4) Liability Insurance on Personal Vehicles of Volunteers

Automobile liability insurance is a volunteer's personal expense and is not reimbursable to the volunteer by the project. FGP volunteers who use their personal vehicles to drive in connection with project-related activities must keep their automobile liability insurance in effect for their own protection.

The volunteer's personal vehicle liability insurance must equal or exceed the limits of the state Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Law in their state.

Personal Liability vs. Professional Malpractice Insurance

Personal liability insurance does not include, nor is it a substitute for, malpractice insurance which some volunteer stations need for their professional staff and for some volunteers who assist professionals or serve in professional capacities.

9.2.5 Physical Examination

Foster Grandparents may be provided a physical examination or assistance with the cost of a physical examination prior to assignment and periodically thereafter if sponsors elect to provide this benefit. While a physical examination is not required and may not be determinative of a volunteer's ability to serve, it is an allowable grant expense (45 CFR 2552.46\(f\)) (See Appendix C.12 for sample physical form.)

- 1) If physical examinations are provided as a benefit for volunteers, documentation of the exams must also be retained by the sponsor. The documentation must be maintained until at least three years from the date a sponsor submits the final FFR for the project period when the volunteer exits service or three years past the last audit, whichever is later. See Chapter 11 on Reports and Recordkeeping for more information.
- 2) Project staff may negotiate with volunteer stations, local health units, public health departments, or private physicians to provide physical examinations to Foster Grandparents as non-Federal, in-kind project support. It may be explained that CNCS allows such annual examinations as a benefit to the Foster Grandparents.

9.2.6 Uniforms or Smocks

When volunteer stations require FGP volunteers to wear special uniforms or smocks, the cost of uniforms and laundering are an allowable project cost when these expenses are described in the Memorandum of Understanding with the volunteer station, sufficient funds are available to cover these expenses, and all other requirements identified in the Notice of Grant Award are met. Otherwise, volunteer stations are responsible for such costs.

9.2.7 Clothing and Branded Gear

Many Senior Corps grantees want to use clothing to highlight the volunteers' participation in the Senior Corps program. Items like clothing, bags, hats, or other gear with the Senior Corps program names and logos that are not required by the project or volunteer station are considered recognition of service and should be categorized in the recognition budget line item rather than the uniform line item.

9.2.8 Recognition

Appropriate recognition for service is to be provided for FGP volunteers. [\[45 CFR 2552.46\]](#) Recognition covers a wide range of potential costs; any costs charged to this direct benefit to the volunteer must be in accordance with the applicable OMB cost principles and using sound business practices. Any costs charged to recognition should be reasonable and prudent, properly valued, and consistent with the sponsoring organizational accounting practices. Consideration should also be given to the appropriateness of the expenditure. (See Appendix A.1 for Guidance for Recognition Costs.)

- 1) At least annually the sponsor plans and arranges for recognition of volunteers for their service to the community. Recognition often includes large, formal annual events. It may also include informal recognition methods throughout the year. Sponsors may also recognize local individuals and agencies or organizations for significant activities that support project goals.
- 2) CNCS does not supply volunteer recognition materials nor does it require specific recognition materials.
- 3) Informal recognition ought to be ongoing, such as listening to and acting upon recommendations by FGP volunteers, offering honest praise, and providing assignments that are increasingly satisfying.
- 4) Recognition events may consist of special ceremonies, teas, breakfasts, luncheons, and recreational outings at which pins and certificates for stipulated terms of service are awarded.
- 5) The FGP advisory council and volunteer stations are expected to participate in recognition activities. Community contributions in support of recognition activities can enhance the quality of the events. Contributions need not be monetary. Donated space, food, decorations, and transportation should be encouraged. Proper documentation is required to use donations as local support.
- 6) To emphasize the importance of the occasion, CNCS field, regional, and headquarters staff, as well as city and county officials and officers of local organizations may be invited to recognition events.
- 7) Entertainment expenses (e.g. bands, alcohol) are unallowable expenses and cannot be charged to the federal or non-federal share of the budget.

9.3 LEGAL REPRESENTATION

Legal counsel may be retained, and counsel fees, court costs, bail, and other expenses incidental to the defense of an FGP volunteer may be paid, in a criminal, civil, or administrative proceeding when such a proceeding arises directly out of performance of the FGP volunteer's activities. 45 CFR Part 1220 sets forth the circumstances under which CNCS may reimburse for such expenses. Consult the CNCS program officer/portfolio manager for guidance.

10 GRANTS MANAGEMENT

10.1 INTRODUCTION TO GRANTS MANAGEMENT

10.1.1 Basic Requirements

Sponsors must manage grants awarded to them in accordance with all applicable FGP Program Regulations \(45 CFR 2552\), the Notice of Grant Award (NGA) as well as the Terms and Conditions for CNCS grants. Contact the appropriate CNCS program officer/portfolio manager or grant official at CNCS’s Field Financial Management Center for additional technical assistance on fiscal management of an FGP grant.

Financial Management Training

An on-line course, “Key Concepts of Financial Management,” which can be accessed on Litmos here, provides a basic introduction to grants management considerations applicable to all Corporation grantees.

| Topic | Purpose | For all NFE (Non-federal entities) |
|---|---|--|
| Uniform Administrative Requirements | Standards of consistency and uniformity of grants to various institutions | 2 CFR Subtitle A Chapter II 200.300 to 200.345 |
| Cost Principles | Principles for determining the costs of grants and other agreements with non-profit organizations | 2 CFR Subtitle A Chapter II 200.400 to 200.475 |
| Audits | Standards for obtaining consistency and uniformity among Federal agencies for the audits of states, local governments, and non-profit organizations expending Federal awards. | 2 CFR Subtitle A Chapter II 200.500 – 200.520 |

In accordance with Uniform Administrative Requirements, 2 CFR 200.302, Non-Federal Entities (NFE) that receive FGP grant funds are required have financial management systems that provide for the following:

- Identification, in its accounts, of all federal awards received and expended and the federal programs under which they were received.

Terminology Note

A “Grant” is an award of financial assistance that, consistent with 31 U.S.C. 6304, is used to enter a relationship. (2 CFR 182.650)

- Accurate, current, and complete disclosure of the financial results of each federal award or program in accordance with the reporting requirements set forth in 2 CFR 200.327 - Financial reporting and 2 CFR 200.328 - Monitoring and reporting program performance.
- Records that identify adequately the source and application of funds for federally-funded activities

- Effective control over, and accountability for, all funds, property, and other assets.
- Comparison of expenditures with budget amounts for each federal award.
- Written procedures to implement the requirements of 2 CFR 200.305 - Payment.
- Written procedures for determining the allowability of costs in accordance with 2 CFR Part 200 Subpart E—Cost Principles and the terms and conditions of the federal award.

10.1.2 Cost Control and Budget Monitoring

Project support provided under an FGP grant must be furnished at the lowest possible cost consistent with the project's effective operation of the project as described in the FGP Program Regulations. (45 CFR 2552.93\(b\)). Project directors should work with the sponsor's fiscal staff and regularly compare the budget to actual costs.

10.1.3 Budgeting Costs

Project costs for which grant funds are budgeted must be reasonable and justified as being essential to project operation. “Grant funds” refers to both the CNCS share and the required non-federal share of the grant.

- 1) Specific costs are either allowable or unallowable. Only allowable costs may be included in the CNCS share or the grantee share of the budget. Only amounts approved by CNCS may be expended.
- 2) Notices of Grant Award, as well as the FGP Program Regulations (45 CFR 2552.93), incorporate the OMB “OMB Guidance for Grants and Agreements” found at 2 CFR Chapter I, and OMB “OMB Cost Principles” found at 2 CFR Part 200, Subpart E. OMB Cost Principles distinguish between costs that are allowable and costs that are not allowable for all federal grants. Grantees should review 2 CFR Chapters I and II, and refer to specific regulations within 2 CFR Chapters I and II as needed. OMB Cost Principles apply to funds included in the grant as part of the CNCS share and also apply to the required non-federal share. Conversely, the OMB Cost Principles do not apply to funds that are not included in the grant as part of the CNCS share or are not included in the required non-federal share. Also, the OMB Guidance for Grants and Agreements, does not apply to funds budgeted as Excess non-federal or to other sponsor resources outside the grant. Therefore it is recommended that all allowable costs be budgeted in the “CNCS Share” or “Non-CNCS” share of the budget.

Terminology Note

In the electronic grants system, “grantee share” and “applicant share,” are used to refer to the required non-federal share of the grant.

“Local share,” as used in the program regulations, also refers to the required non-federal share.

- 3) Additional requirements in the FGP Program Regulations also determine cost allowability. Below are listed several cost items about which questions commonly are raised. Questions regarding costs not included in the listing below should be referred to the appropriate CNCS program officer/portfolio manager or grant official at the Field Financial Management Center (FFMC).
- a) Equipment or supplies for volunteers on assignment are not allowable, unless these expenses are described in the Memorandum of Understanding with the volunteer station and there are sufficient funds available to cover these expenses and meet all other requirements identified in the Notice of Grant Award [45 CFR 2552.46\(f\)].
 - b) The following insurance costs are not allowable:
 - 1. Public liability insurance for sponsors (except for space that the FGP sponsor occupies that is separate from the main sponsor offices).
 - 2. Primary insurance for volunteers' or project staff's personal vehicles.
 - 3. Health insurance for volunteers.
 - c) Costs for recruitment of personnel and volunteers for the award are allowable, including costs of recruiting hard-to-reach volunteers, such as those belonging to ethnic groups that may not be reachable by standard methods of recruitment.
 - d) Only compensation paid to staff who are engaged in activities that directly support the performance of the award is allowable. Sponsors should familiarize themselves with proper documentation requirements in accordance with the OMB Cost Principles (2 CFR § 200.430 "Compensation – personal services").
 - e) When project staff are employed in the operation of two or more Senior Corps projects, in order to be allowable, their salaries and fringe benefits must be budgeted on a prorated basis in each project's budget, based on the allocation of time to each project. Grantees must document actual time spent on each grant, and only actual time should be reported.
 - f) The costs of National Service Criminal History Checks on Senior Corps volunteers or prospective Senior Corps volunteers are allowable. However, wherever possible, these costs should be paid by volunteer stations. When paid by the project, such costs should be budgeted as Volunteer Support Expenses because these costs are program operating expenses.
 - g) Costs of membership in the Senior Corps or other professional associations are allowable. However, the membership must be attached to the organization (not an individual). An individual can be named on the membership but if the individual leaves, the membership stays with the organization. Additionally, federal/match funds may not be used for a membership to a lobbying organization. If the association/ organization has a lobbying arm, grantees will need to ensure that their membership dues are not used for lobbying purposes. (2 CFR 200.454)

10.1.4 Direct and Indirect Costs

1) Definitions

Direct costs are costs that are readily associated with a particular budget line item. Indirect costs are costs incurred by an organization that are not readily identifiable with a specific award, project, or program, but are necessary to operate the organization and its programs. Indirect costs may also be referred to as facilities and administrative (F&A) costs. Typical examples of indirect costs include depreciation on buildings and equipment, the costs of operating and maintaining facilities, and general administration and expenses, such as the salaries and expenses of executive officers, administrative personnel, and accounting.

2) Cognizant Federal Agency

A “cognizant federal agency” is an agency appointed by the Office of Management and Budget that is responsible for negotiating and approving the indirect cost rates of a grantee on behalf of all federal agencies. Typically the “cognizant” agency is the federal agency from which a grantee receives the majority of its federal support in the form of Direct Grants. When an organization that has no cognizant federal agency proposes indirect costs in a grant application, CNCS may assume the role of providing oversight.

3) Process for Establishing an Indirect Cost Rate

When a grantee does not already have a federally negotiated indirect cost rate (sometimes called a negotiated indirect cost rate agreement, or NICRA) may request one. The grantee may contact IndirectCostRate@cns.gov to initiate this process. Indirect Cost Rate team will confirm CNCS’s status as the cognizant agency for indirect costs and initiate the rate negotiation process.

4) De Minimis rate of Modified Total Direct Costs

Any non-Federal entity that has never received a negotiated indirect cost rate, except for those non-Federal entities described in 2 CFR Appendix VII to Part 200—States and Local Government and Indian Tribe Indirect Cost Proposals, paragraph D.1.b, may elect to charge a de minimis rate of 10% of modified total direct costs (MTDC) which may be used indefinitely. Please contact your grants official for more information.

5) Limitation on Indirect Costs

The base for indirect costs in Senior Corps programs is limited to Volunteer Support Expenses (these are the administrative expenses). Volunteer Expenses (these are the cost reimbursements to the volunteer) are not included in the base for indirect cost rates. Reasonable payroll expenses may be budgeted as direct costs for the payment of volunteer cost reimbursements.

10.2 ROLE OF THE CNCS GRANT OFFICIAL

The acceptance of an assistance award from CNCS creates a legal duty on the part of the grantee to use the available funds or resources in accordance with the terms and conditions of the assistance agreement. An obligation exists on behalf of CNCS to fund the grantee in accordance with the assistance award.

The Grant Official for a given grant is a member of the CNCS's Grants Management staff based at the Field Financial Management Center (FFMC). The Grant Official is the representative of CNCS in financial, budgetary, and administrative matters of Senior Corps. The Grant Official has overall responsibility for the receipt, approval and monitoring of all required financial documents from CNCS grant programs. Only the Grant Official, acting as the agent of the federal government, has the authority to:

- Award a grant.

- Modify the terms of a grant.
- Issue written instructions to the grantee to start or stop work.
- Execute any action which will result in increasing or decreasing the cost to the government.
- Extend or curtail the budget or project period cited in the applicable Notice of Grant Award (NGA).
- In conjunction with the FFMC Director, or his/her designee, propose Management Decisions upon completion of an audit.
- Close-out a grant.

The Grant Official is ultimately responsible for determining the allowability and reasonableness of grant costs proposed or incurred, except in certain circumstances related to the resolution of audit findings. The Program officer/portfolio manager named in the NGA is the representative of the Grant Official for the purpose of monitoring the programmatic performance of the grant and advises the Grant Official on all activities that may adversely affect performance. The Grant Official may accompany and work with the program officer to conduct financial monitoring of the grant. However, grantees should first consult with the Program officer/portfolio manager prior to seeking approvals where the Grant Official has the ultimate approval authority.

Grantees in states that are covered by new CNCS Regional Offices, should contact their Portfolio Managers for financial, budgetary, and administrative matters.

10.3 BUDGET MANAGEMENT

10.3.1 Budget Categories

- 1) Costs are separated according to whether the proposed source of project support is federal or non-federal. In context of the budget, “federal” means “CNCS,” and “non-federal” means “sources other than CNCS” including certain other federal agencies, as authorized by law or by the source of funds.
 - a) “Required non-federal.” (Also known as “Grantee Share” on the budget). This is the part of the total non-federal budget used to meet the non-federal share requirement. Any additional amount that the grantee wants to include as part of the required non-federal share of the total project cost should also be under this category. Costs included under this category must meet all the cost requirements established by CNCS. See the next page for more information on the required non-federal share of the budget.
 - b) “Excess non-federal.” This is the part of the total non-federal budget that is in excess of the non-federal share requirement. This is distinguished from the Excess Column on the budget. The two terms are not synonymous. The “Excess non-federal” is defined as funds over the required share budgeted in the “Grantee Share” column of the budget. Inclusion of excess non-federal costs is not required. If excess non-federal funds are budgeted, they must support the purpose of the project, consistent with the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973. It is generally recommended that as long as costs are allowable, sponsors should budget those costs as part of the required non-federal share so they can be easily reported on the project’s Federal Financial Report.
- 2) Allowable costs separated by source are further differentiated by purpose, that is, whether the funds are to cover costs of Volunteer Expenses or Volunteer Support Expenses.

- a) Section I. Volunteer Support Expenses: This section includes all allowable costs that are needed to administer (support) the volunteer project including the following line items:
- A. Project Personnel Expenses
 - B. Personal Fringe Benefits
 - C. Project Staff Travel
 - D. Equipment
 - E. Supplies
 - F. Contractual and Consultant Services
 - I. Other Volunteer Support Costs
 - a) Criminal History Background Checks
 - J. Indirect Costs
- b) Section II. Volunteer Expenses: This section is a limited category which includes allowable expenses that directly benefit the volunteers:
- A. Stipends
 - B. Other Volunteer Costs
 - Volunteer Travel
 - Meals
 - Insurance
 - Physical examinations
 - Recognition Items and Activities
 - Uniforms

Terminology Note

In the context of Senior Corps project budgeting, the term “Volunteer Expenses is sometimes referred to as “cost reimbursements” or “Volunteer Benefits.”

10.3.2 Budget Criteria

- 1) The FGP sponsor is expected to supplement the CNCS grant with other budget support. The sponsor must raise the amount of non-federal support described in the project funding requirements located in FGP Program Regulations 45 CFR 2552.92\(e\).

- 2) A CNCS grant may be awarded for up to 90 percent of the cost of development and operation of a Foster Grandparent Program project. The sponsor is required to contribute at least 10 percent of the total project cost.
- a. Project support from non-CNCS sources may be in cash or in-kind contributions.
 - b. CNCS-approved in-kind contributions may constitute part or all of the non-federal share requirement. Requirements for in-kind contributions are found in 2 CFR Chapter II Subpart D Section 200.306.
 - c. CNCS may allow exceptions to the non-Federal share requirement (at least 10 percent of the total project cost) in cases of demonstrated need such as:
 - i. Initial difficulties in the development of local funding sources during the first three years of operations;
 - ii. An economic downturn, the occurrence of a natural disaster, or similar events in the service area that severely restrict or reduce sources of local funding support; or
 - iii. The unexpected discontinuation of local support from one or more sources that a project has relied on for a period of years.
- 3) A sponsor proposing to contribute less than the required non-Federal share must provide CNCS with an acceptable written justification for the lower level of support. The justification is submitted for consideration through the CNCS Portfolio Manager or Program Officer. The justification for the waiver should:
- a. be requested prior to the grant award;
 - b. include the grant period the waiver requested for (e.g. 1st year, 2nd year all years) and;
 - c. detail how much of the match needs to be waived (e.g. 5% or all of the match).
- 4) All non-CNCS funding expended for allowable costs will be counted as local support and as a contribution to the sponsor's local support with the following exceptions:
- a. Non-Federal support already committed to meet non-Federal share requirements of any other Federally-assisted project or program may not be budgeted as part of the non-Federal support for FGP. [2 CFR Chapter II, Subpart D, Section 200.306]
 - b. Funds from federal agencies other than CNCS, including federally funded in-kind resources, may not be budgeted as part of the sponsor's local support contribution,

Calculating the Required Non-Federal Share

The required non-federal share for the Foster Grandparent Program is 10% of the total project cost, excluding costs budgeted in the excess column.

Use this formula to determine the required non-federal share for your award:

Required Non-Federal Share =

$$(\text{Federal Share} / 0.9) - \text{Federal Share}$$

For example, a sponsor that receives a federal share of $180,000 would calculate their required non-federal share like this:

Required Non-Federal Share =

$$($180,000 / 0.9) - $180,000 = $20,000$$

except those funds specifically authorized by law. [2 CFR Chapter II, Subpart D, Section 200.306]

- i. There are hundreds of Federal grant programs, each governed by laws and specific regulations and administered by many different departments and agencies. CNCS is not able to provide a list of federal grant programs where funds are authorized by law to be applied to the non-federal share of Senior Corps grants.
 - ii. It is the grantee's responsibility to document that another Federal program's funding is authorized by law to be used as non-federal share for other Federal grant programs.
 - iii. If you have questions concerning whether particular federal grant funds may be budgeted in the non-federal share, identify the source of the grant funds and contact the source of the funds for clarification. Ask for the specific citation or document that allows use of the funds in this way, and maintain that documentation as part of the grant file for reference. A verbal confirmation is generally not sufficient.
- c. Project costs for which the required non-federal funds are budgeted will be acceptable if:
 - a) costs are allowable; b) are reasonable in comparison to other costs; c) benefit the project's operational effectiveness; and d) contribute to achievement of FGP program goals and objectives.
 - d. CNCS grant awards are made for a specified dollar amount, and if the sponsor obligates or expends CNCS funds for costs that exceed the amount of the CNCS award, the costs are not allowable.
 - e. The number of individuals serving as Foster Grandparents may vary from time to time to accomplish the number of budgeted volunteer service years.
 - f. Direct benefit items which are purchased at the volunteer's own expense and reimbursed, are not allowable as contributions to the non-federal share of the budget.

10.3.3 Budget Non-Compliance

10.3.3.1 Required Non-Federal Share

If a sponsor has failed to meet the statutorily required 10 percent non-federal share requirement, at the end of the project period the sponsor must take one of the two following actions:

- a) Reimburse CNCS the full amount of the deficiency, but only if so directed by the Grant Official.
- b) Submit a written request for a waiver to the appropriate CNCS Portfolio Manager or Program Officer. This written request must be submitted with the final Federal Financial Report (FFR) and must include:
 1. Why the requirement was not met
 2. What specific attempts were made to achieve the required non-federal percentage
 3. A plan to provide the required non-federal share in the current grant period, assuming the sponsor has received a new award.

10.3.3.2 Excess Resources

Sponsors are not penalized for failure to achieve the budgeted amount of excess support unless it affects the volunteer cost reimbursements ratio or volunteer service years (VSYS). Failure to meet the total budget, including the excess amount, will be examined in light of the overall effect on the project's accomplishment of its goals and objectives.

10.3.4 Management of Volunteer Service Years (VSYS)

A Foster Grandparent must serve a minimum of 260 hours annually, or a minimum of 5 hours per week, and may serve a maximum of 2080 hours annually, or a maximum of 40 hours per week. This requirement gives project directors considerable flexibility in establishing service schedules that meet volunteer and volunteer station needs. At the same time, it highlights the importance of carefully managing volunteers to meet the project's budgeted VSYS.

10.3.4.1 Counting Foster Grandparents

There are three distinct ways of grouping volunteers for purposes of counting and tracking them for budgetary purposes:

A. Enrolled Volunteers

This is the combined total of Foster Grandparents on both active and inactive volunteer status. The total includes all the federally funded volunteers and non-federally funded volunteer needed to meet the budgeted VSYS. The enrolled total is the figure best used to estimate the number of recognitions that must be budgeted annually.

B. Active Volunteers

This is the total of Foster Grandparents actually serving or who served within the pay period when the count is made. It includes volunteers normally on active service but temporarily on paid leave. The annual average active total, less the average number of persons on leave, is the figure used to estimate the number of volunteer meals, transportation costs, and insurance costs to be budgeted annually

C. Stipended Volunteers

This is the total of active Foster Grandparents who will receive a stipend for services rendered during the pay period when the count is made. Volunteers who are normally active and stipended but who are temporarily on leave are counted as stipended. An annual average stipended total is used to estimate the amount of stipend funds to be budgeted annually.

10.3.4.2 Volunteer Service Year

- 1) CNCS budget procedures use the following standards to express one full volunteer service year or VSY:
 - a) 1,044 hours annually
 - b) 261 days annually (at 4 hours per day)
 - c) 52.2 weeks annually (at 20 hours per week)

- 2) The standardized stipend cost per VSY is calculated by multiplying the number of hours served by the current cost per hour for the stipend (1,044 hours x $3.00 per hour). Each VSY uses $3,132 in stipend funds each year.
- 3) When managing VSYs related to budgetary projections and expenditures, one VSY does not equal one volunteer unless each volunteer serves 1,044 hour per year. You will need to adjust the number of volunteers required to equal a VSY, depending on the number of hours, between the minimum of 5 and maximum of 40, served weekly.
- 4) Volunteer hours should be reported on a cumulative basis in the Federal Financial Report (FFR) over the one-year budget year not the three-year project period. For example, Year 1 may yield 21,028 volunteer hours during the first FFR period, from January until June. From July until December, the second FFR period, 18,972 volunteer hours may be the total. The cumulative total over the Year 1 budget period would be 40,000 hours and that cumulative total is to be reported on the FFR. The beginning balances for Years 2 and 3 should be zero.
- 5) All of an individual's service time plus all stipended leave (as provided for in the sponsor's policies governing earned leave) cannot exceed, in the aggregate, 2088 hours annually. An individual Foster Grandparent may serve up to 2088 hours, or two VSYs, in 12 months. Please review the Senior Corps Guidance on Accrued Unused Leave for FGP & SCP Volunteers to ensure your policies reflect appropriate regulations.

10.3.4.3 Management of Stipend Funds

A sponsor agrees to generate a specific level of volunteer activity when a grant is awarded. This level of volunteer activity is calculated in terms of VSYs as described above and translated onto the budget to fund volunteer stipends.

Full expenditure of stipend funds available should be the goal of budget management. Sponsors submit an application with a plan to mobilize a targeted number of volunteers and reach a targeted number of beneficiaries. To achieve project goals, careful management of stipend expenditures, including leave, is key.

Sponsors should plan to recruit a sufficient number of volunteers to fully expend their budgeted stipends. Sponsors should not expect CNCS to cover an over-expenditure of stipend funds. The VSY calculator provided in Appendix C.8 may help you manage VSYs and stipend expenditures throughout the year.

A. Factors Influencing Expenditure of Stipend Funds

Sponsors should strive to maintain a stable and consistent volunteer base. However, fluctuations in volunteer and recruitment numbers do occur. Sponsors should account and plan for the following in projecting their VSYs:

- 1) Volunteer attrition rates.
- 2) Extended leaves-of-absence.
- 3) Delays in orientation scheduling due to weather and resulting in placement delays.
- 4) Less than full time volunteer opportunities in educational settings.
- 5) Difficulties in recruiting eligible volunteers.

B. Suggestions for Management of Stipend Funds through Management of Stipended Hours.

Successful management of stipended hours and funds requires the development of quarterly or monthly projections that take into account sites that do not offer placements year-round, unstipended absences and attrition rates. (See Appendix C.8 for a VSY Calculator.)

1) Estimate Stipended and Unstipended Absences

Sponsors should estimate the effect volunteer absences will have on the actual total of hours stipended.

i. Stipended Absences

The sponsor's FGP project policies relating to volunteer leave will be a guide for accurately estimating stipended absences. Reviewing volunteer service schedules and interviewing individual volunteers will support accurate estimates as to when Foster Grandparents will take stipended leave. Please review the Senior Corps Guidance on Accrued Unused Leave for FGP & SCP Volunteers to ensure your policies reflect appropriate regulations.

ii. Unstipended Absences

Predictable unpaid absences may occur for individual Foster Grandparents when, for example:

- a) There are school vacations for which the sponsor's leave policy allows no stipend for the Foster Grandparent's time off; or
- b) An individual Foster Grandparent serves an assignment at a less than 12 months per year facility (a variety of institutional and school assignments may fit this pattern).
- c) Unpredictable unstipended absences may result, for example, from a volunteer's exceptionally lengthy illness or personal matters which require emergency attention, which exceed the allowances in the sponsor's leave policy.

2) Compare Planned Hours with Actual Hours

Stipend expenditures may be managed through careful monitoring of hours of service as follows:

Step #1

Determine the total number of hours of Foster Grandparent service planned and budgeted. For example:

For a 60-VSY project, the stipend funds must be at most 60 multiplied by the current annual amount of the stipend, or $166,020.

Find the number of hours funded by multiplying 60 VSYs times 1,044 (hours) for a total of 62,640 hours.

Step #2

Determine the number of hours budgeted per pay period:

Divide the total hours by the number of stipend pay periods annually. The total pay periods will be either 26.1 or 52.2 annually.

If there are 52.2 pay periods, then the total hours (62,640 in this example) divided by 52.2 equals 1,200 hours for which funding is provided each week.

Step #3

Monitor the actual running total of service time plus stipended leave.

Whenever the weekly total of service time plus stipended leave is below the 1,200 weekly allotment of hours, the sponsor has an excess in hours available for paying stipends. Whenever the running total is above the weekly allotment, the sponsor creates a deficit in hours. Reviews conducted each pay period will enable projections to be made as to the rate of expenditure, and cumulative expenditures, in terms of hours.

3) Estimate Annual Reserve of Stipendable Hours

With estimates in hand for hours of stipended and unstipended leave, the sponsor will be able to estimate from the beginning of the budget year whether there will be a net excess in hours funded over actual hours to be stipended based on projections of volunteer service. A net excess may be considered a reserve which the sponsor should plan to draw upon immediately. Adjustments in enrollment to fully utilize the estimated reserve should be made as early as possible in the budget period because these adjustments become increasingly impractical as the budget period progresses.

It is possible, allowable, and encouraged to have more individuals actually serving and stipended at a given time than there are VSYS budgeted, so long as there is an estimated reserve of volunteer service hours available within budget.

10.3.5 Underachievement of Budgeted VSYS

Sometimes a sponsor may find that it is unable to deliver the budgeted level of VSYS approved as part of the grant award. Whatever the cause of the shortfall, the community served by the FGP project is potentially deprived of services that could be provided by FGP volunteers. Underachievement of VSYS also potentially deprives prospective volunteers of opportunities to serve. Further, the sponsor may be ineffectively executing its budget, and the resources dedicated to its grant may be more effectively utilized elsewhere.

10.3.5.1 Budgetary options to remedy underachievement of VSYS

Some options to remedy VSY underachievement are listed below. These options reflect budgetary actions that a sponsor or CNCS may take to address VSY underachievement. The options do not detail programmatic strategies that may be exercised in concert with modifications to the budget. Sponsors should work with their program officer/portfolio manager to develop and implement a full plan to address VSY under-expenditures as soon as a problem is identified.

If a sponsor wishes to take any of the budgetary actions presented below, the sponsor must send a request to their Program officer/portfolio manager that explains:

- The cause of the shortfall
- Your efforts to address the shortfall
- Your plan to rebudget
- Your plan to meet or modify the number of volunteers the project expects to mobilize and the number of beneficiaries the project will serve.

For every $6,500 in annual base federal funding they receive, grantees must continue to program at least one VSY in work plans that result in either National Performance Measure outcomes, or outputs related to the inclusion of individuals with disabilities (if they have historically supported such programming). This maximum cost per VSY is established in the Notice of Intent to Apply used when the grantee most recently renewed its three-year performance period. The sponsor must also comply with all other grant rules and regulations, match requirements, and performance measure requirements.

The budgetary options available include:

A. Temporary or Permanent Request to Rebudget

A sponsor may request to rebudget the grant award so funding can be reallocated to other expenses that can reasonably be expected to reduce or eliminate the VSY shortfall. In some cases, the request may include funding allocated to VSYS in the stipend line item. Typically, rebudget requests involve increased recruitment and recognition efforts.

If a sponsor wishes to reduce the agreed-upon level of VSYS, it must request and receive written CNCS approval to do so, in accordance with federal regulations at 45 CFR 2552.93\(f\). These regulations control anticipated expenditures of and place limitations on the movement of stipend funding. A sponsor may request to temporarily or permanently reduce the grant's VSY level.

B. Temporary or Permanent Request to Return Grant Funding

A sponsor may request to temporarily or permanently return funding from the grant.

A temporary return of grant funding is appropriate when, due to temporary and correctable circumstances, a sponsor anticipates falling short of its budgeted VSY level. A temporary return of grant funding allows a sponsor to request a reduction in funding for the current 12-month budget period. Assuming the cause of the shortfall is remedied, the budget will revert to the grantee's base funding level in the next budget year.

A permanent return of grant funding is appropriate when a sponsor has determined that the maximum number of VSYS it can support will require the grant size to be reduced. This reduction may not result in a grantee programming less than one VSY in work plans that result in either National Performance Measure outcomes, or outputs related to the inclusion of individuals with disabilities (if they have historically supported such programming) for every $6,500 in annual base federal funding they receive.

C. CNCS-Initiated Reduction of Funding

CNCS monitors the VSY levels associated with each grant award using the FFR. When a sponsor does not achieve the minimum VSY level allowed on the grant, CNCS staff must notify a sponsor of its underachievement and engage the sponsor in taking prompt corrective action. When a sponsor continues to underachieve VSY levels, CNCS staff must take action that may ultimately result in a permanent reduction of funding on the grant.

The minimum VSY achievement level for most grants is:

- 37% of the annually budgeted VSYs at the semi-annual reporting period.
- 97% of the annually budgeted VSYs at the annual reporting period.

Grants with 24 or fewer VSYs and grants in their first three-year performance period are not subject to these specific minimums. Grantees at risk of VSY underperformance in these circumstances should contact their CNCS program officer/portfolio manager to develop a case-specific plan. These plans may utilize the same budgetary and non-budgetary remedies described here.

CNCS will send the sponsor a notification of VSY underproduction letter that states what the problem is and offer choices for resolution according to the length of time the grant has not achieved the minimum VSY level. The CNCS program officer/portfolio manager will also work with the sponsor on developing or updating a corrective action plan.

If a sponsor continues to be unable to produce the number of agreed upon VSYs, CNCS may take action that results in a reduction in VSY level. CNCS may also take action that involves a reduction in the federal grant award.

10.4 GRANT AMENDMENTS AND REBUDGETING

During implementation of a grant, a grantee may decide to make adjustments to the approved application. All grant amendments and budget changes should be made and documented into the system of record, but the following changes require prior CNCS approval and amendment of the NGA:

- A change in the scope of service or a substantial change in goals or objectives.
- A change in key personnel specified in the application or federal award.
- A request for a project director at less than full time.
- The creation of a new budget line item where there will be a need for additional funds.
- The transfer of funds budgeted for direct costs to indirect costs.
- The request of a match waiver.
- Extension or reduction of the budget or performance budget period.

If the federal share of a grant is greater than the Simplified Acquisition Threshold amount of $250,000 and the grantee's cumulative changes exceeds 10% of the total budget, the grantee must request prior approval to submit an amendment. CNCS, as the federal awarding agency, cannot permit a transfer that would cause any federal appropriation to be used for purposes other than those consistent with the appropriation. [2 CFR Chapter II, Subpart D, Section 200.308] Grantees should consult with your program officer/portfolio manager regarding budget changes, even if pre-approval is not required.

10.5 ACCESSING GRANT FUNDS AND MANAGING ADVANCES

All Senior Corps grantees are paid through the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) Payment Management Services, abbreviated as PMS. Senior Corps grantees must establish an account with the HHS/PMS that allows them to draw down funds. When a grant is awarded in the electronic grants system, the grant is recorded in CNCS's accounting system and transmitted to PMS which maintains an account for each grant. Grantees draw funds from that account.

10.5.1 Steps in Setting up a PMS account

- 1) Grantees without a PMS account should contact the appropriate Portfolio Manager or Program and Grant Officers. The Grant Official or Portfolio Manager will send the grantee instructions informing the grantee that it needs to fill out an 1199A Direct Deposit Form, which records the agreement of the grantee and its financial institution. The grantee designates the bank that will receive funds for the grantee. Also enclosed in the instruction letter are the other forms and documents the grantee needs to complete and establish their account.
- 2) The grantee forwards the completed forms to the appropriate offices as outlined in the instructions.
- 3) HHS notifies the CNCS of the grantee's assigned suffix and PIN through e-mail, and simultaneously, sends a certified letter to the grantee with the same information.

10.5.2 How grantees request funds through PMS SMARTLINK

Grantees use SMARTLINK to access funds. SMARTLINK is an automated "next day" direct deposit system for the Federal government. Recipients assigned to SMARTLINK use a PC to access the PMS SMARTLINK Request For Funds application, enter their account and drawdown information (e.g. account number and amount requested), and receive a status message detailing their transaction. The transaction is completed online, and funds are direct-deposited into the recipient's account on the next business day.

Funds should only be drawn down for immediate cash needs or on a reimbursement basis. Grantees should develop written policies and procedures for drawdowns so that they are done on a consistent basis and a clear audit trail exists. 2 CFR Chapter II, Subpart D, Section 200.305

At any time, CNCS Grant Officials or Portfolio Managers can log on to the PMS directly or view authorized, disbursed, and advanced amounts in the electronic grants system.

Grantees may:

- Draw down funds on a reimbursement basis;
- Draw down funds that they will be using in the immediate future, usually considered to be within three days of receipt; or
- Maintain advance payment of federal funds in interest bearing accounts unless the following apply: (See "Interest Earned on Advances" below.)
 - a. The grantee receives less than $120,000 in Federal awards annually.
 - b. The account would not earn interest in excess of $500 per year.
 - c. The depository would require an average or minimum balance so high that it would not be feasible within the expected Federal and non-Federal cash resources.
 - d. A banking system prohibits or precludes interest bearing accounts.
- Interest earned amounts up to $500 per year may be retained by the non-Federal entity for administrative expense. Any additional interest earned on Federal advance payments deposited in interest-bearing accounts must be remitted annually to the Department of Health and Human Services Payment Management System (PMS) through an electronic medium using either Automated Clearing House (ACH) network or a Fedwire Funds Service payment.

Please review the help and training for grantees using the PMS.

10.5.3 Federal Cash Transactions Report – PSC 272 A

Grantees report on funds by submitting quarterly Federal Cash Transaction Reports (PSC 272 A Report) directly to PMS. The PSC 272 A Report is an overview of the cash status of the account. It contains data provided by PMS to the recipient and the net disbursement amount as calculated by the recipient. The PSC 272 A Report is similar to a checking reconciliation and is used to report the amount of “Cash on Hand.” HHS monitors this amount and deducts any cash on hand amount from previous payment requests. At the end of the grant performance period, the SF 425 Federal Financial Report MUST reconcile with the PSC 272 A Report and the amount drawn down. If these three numbers are not identical, the grant cannot be closed.

10.5.4 Interest Earned on Advances

Grantees are required to maintain advances of federal funds not used within 3 days in an interest-bearing account. The project will be allowed to retain the first $500.00 of interest per year to cover administrative expenses. Interest earned above this amount must be remitted annually in a check made payable to the U.S. Treasury, to the Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Payment Management, P.O. Box 6021, Rockville, MD 20852.

The Cash Management Improvement Act and regulations (31 CFR Part 205) that established this requirement have some exceptions. The major ones that can impact a Senior Corps grantee are as follows:

- State government grantees do not have to follow this requirement unless required to do so by the Department of Treasury Financial Management Service.
- Indian Tribal Governments are also exempt from this requirement.
- The recipient receives less than $120,000.00 per year from all federal sources.
- The best reasonable available interest-bearing account would not have been expected to earn in excess of $250.00 per year on the federal balance.

10.6 SUSPENSION, TERMINATION, AND DENIAL OF REFUNDING

The rules on grant suspension, termination, and denial of refunding procedures are addressed in the FGP Program Regulations (45 CFR § 2552.34).

10.7 AUDIT REQUIREMENTS

10.7.1 Single Audit

Recipients of federal grant awards are required to have audits performed in accordance with the Single Audit Act Amendments of 1996 (Single Audit Act), as amended. OMB Budget Guidance Audit Requirements, provides guidance on audit requirements pursuant to the Single Audit Act. The Audit Requirements established that grant recipients that expend $750,000 or more of federal funds in a year must have an independent auditor perform a single audit, or a program-specific audit. These audit requirements do not apply to organizations expending less than $750,000 in total federal funds in a given year. When applicable, a single audit requires the sponsor to have an audit of its entire organization conducted by an independent auditor that essentially determines:

- If the organization's financial statements present its and the program's financial position fairly;
- If the institution has the internal control structure to ensure that the program is managing the award in accordance with the applicable federal laws and regulations; and
- That the program has complied with the applicable laws and regulations that may have a direct and material effect on the program's financial statement.

10.7.2 Other Audits

In the case of sponsors whose total federal funding falls below the $750,000 threshold established by the requirements of OMB Post Federal Award Requirements \(2 CFR Chapter II, Part 200, Subpart D\), the sponsor's policies apply. Sponsors are expected to follow generally accepted accounting practices. Sponsors directed by CNCS to conduct an audit must provide copies of any audit report partially or wholly charged to the grant to the CNCS program officer/portfolio manager and the grant official. Grantees need to follow applicable federal, state and local requirements for financial reporting and audits for their type of organization.

Federal Audit Clearinghouse:

Audits performed under the Single Audit Act are to be sent electronically to the Federal Audit Clearinghouse.

The Internet Data Entry System (IDES) is the place to submit the single audit reporting package, including form SF-SAC, to the Federal Audit Clearinghouse (FAC). Single audit submission is required under the Single Audit Act and 2 CFR § 200.512.

10.8 CONCLUSION

Familiarize all staff with FGP Program Regulations, 2 CFR Chapters I and II, specifically OMB Cost Principles and OMB Guidance for Grants and Agreements, to ensure compliance. Keep good documentation that demonstrates that costs are reasonable, necessary, allocable, allowable, and adhere to grant guidelines. Ensure that there is a clear audit trail for all financial reports from accounting system to data submitted. If you have a question, contact your CNCS Portfolio Manager or Program and Grants Officers.

Effective Practices for Securing Non-CNCS Financial and In-Kind Support

The sponsor:

- A. Secures cash or in-kind contributions, amounts that regularly exceed the required non-CNCS support for the project;
- B. Develops and maintains a diversified non-Federal funding base from the private sector, the nonprofit community, and state and local government;
- C. Has a commitment to secure non-CNCS support for the project which is incorporated into the sponsor's resource development plan;
- D. Includes the project as a designated department in annual giving campaigns such as United Way;
- E. Demonstrates the project's role as an extension of its core services by directing opportunities, such as grants, specifically to the project;
- F. Has an established long-range resource development and mobilization program that includes the project as a key program to be supported;
- G. Designates a sponsor staff member to help generate the needed support;
- H. Actively engages its Board in developing non-Federal resources for the project;
- I. Works collaboratively with the project's entity for community participation as dual leaders in mobilizing resources for the project;
- J. Keeps project staff informed of the financial status of the project;
- K. Makes consistent progress toward expansion of the FGP project with other funds;
- L. Learns from other sponsor's models for building successful partnerships and ways of addressing Senior Corps-specific resource development and mobilization challenges;

11 Tips to Help Avoid Common Audit Findings

Audit findings frequently result from missing, incomplete, or insufficient documentation that grant requirements have been met. Following are 11 steps to help avoid the more common audit findings:

1. Make sure current Memorandums of Understanding are on file for all volunteer stations where volunteers are serving (45 CFR 2552.23(2)).
2. Maintain documentation on file, updated annually, that shows that all enrolled volunteers meet the eligibility requirements (Age, Income, NSCHC, etc.) (45 CFR 2552.41 and 45 CFR 2552.42).
3. Ensure there are written assignment descriptions on file for all volunteers (45 CFR 2552.72).
4. Document the eligibility of beneficiaries of volunteer services, preferably in the assignment plan, and maintain these in the volunteer files (45 CFR 2552.81).
5. Retain supporting source documentation for all volunteer local travel reimbursements (45 CFR 2552.46(c)).
6. Ensure all grant funded staff have complete national service criminal history check documentation (45 CFR 2552(j)) and appropriate time tracking documentation kept on file. Time tracking documents should clearly show that any time spent on non-grant or unallowable activities, such as fund raising or working on other sponsor projects, has been appropriately allocated to other sponsor accounts.
7. Ensure your organization's written policies and your implementation procedures for National Service Criminal History Checks are in compliance with the requirement (45 CFR 2552(j)). See Chapter 5 and the Criminal History Check Resources webpage carefully to be sure your written policies and your implementation procedures are in compliance. Ensure that there is clear documentation of how volunteer service hours (45 CFR 2552.51) and other cost reimbursements were tracked (45 CFR 2552.46) and these records are on file.
8. Document receipt and valuation of all in-kind contributions counted toward the required non-Federal share of the grant.
9. Submit all required reports, such as the Federal Financial Reports, Project Progress Reports and make sure they are on time.
10. Document your organization's policies and procedures, including internal financial controls, in a manual or handbook.

11 REPORTS AND RECORDKEEPING

Reporting and recordkeeping are essential functions of project management to ensure proper stewardship of public funds and provide information needed to report to the Congress and Executive Branch of the Federal Government on expenditures, project progress, and accomplishments. General reporting and recordkeeping requirements are discussed in this chapter, but projects should always consult their specific Notice of Grant Award (NGA) Terms and Conditions for the specific requirements of their grant.

11.1 REPORTS

Every recipient of a federal grant is expected to submit reports on the expenditure of all funds identified within the Notice of Grant Award (NGA). The NGA contains standard Terms and Conditions that apply to all grantees, as well as special conditions, as applicable, to a specific grantee. You can print a copy of your NGA from the electronic grants system. Terms and Conditions are available online. For reporting related to federal grant funds drawn down by the grantee, see Chapter 10.

Financial reports provide information to CNCS grant officials, program officers, and portfolio managers about the total dollars expended. Progress Reports provide information about the service the volunteers are performing with respect to the project plan in the approved grant application. See Appendix A.5 for report due dates

11.1.1 Financial Reports

1) Federal Financial Report (FFR), Standard Form (SF) 425

The Federal Financial Report (FFR) is typically due on a semi-annual basis for each grant as specified in the Terms and Conditions referred to in your NGA. Senior Corps grantees submit FFRs in the CNCS grants management system. The FFR is used to report the following transactions: Federal Cash, Federal Expenditures and Unobligated Balance, Recipient Share, and Program Income

Typically, the Terms and Conditions issued with the NGA by CNCS for Senior Corps contain the following conditions regarding Federal Financial Reports:

- a) Grantees report expenditures semi-annually from the start date of the grant on the FFR, OMB Form SF-425, by submitting an electronically signed form in the CNCS grants management system within 30 days of the end of each reporting period, as specified in the Terms and Conditions of the NGA.
- b) FFRs describe expenses on a cumulative basis over the performance period of the grant (3 years).
- c) Projects completing the final year of their grant must submit a final FFR that is cumulative over the entire grant period. This FFR is due 90 days after the close of the grant.

How Many Federal Financial Reports Are There?

Projects submit an “FFR” semi-annually to CNCS through the electronic grants management system. Projects also complete an “FFR” in the PMS system regarding draw down of funds. These are different reports and both are required.

2) Federal Cash Transaction Report, Standard Form 272 (SF 272)

Grantees report on funds by submitting quarterly Federal Cash Transaction Reports (PSC 272 A Report) directly to PMS. The PSC 272 A Report is an overview of the cash status of the account. It contains data provided by PMS to the recipient and the net disbursement amount as calculated by the recipient. The PSC 272 A Report is similar to a checking reconciliation. At the end of the grant performance period, the SF 425 Federal Financial Report MUST reconcile with the PSC 272 A Report and the amount drawn down. If these three numbers are not identical, the grant cannot be closed. Payment Management Services provides answers to Frequently Asked Questions concerning the Payment Management System (see Chapter 10 for How to request funds through PMS SMARTLINK)

References and Reminders

- Keep the CNCS Program officer/portfolio manager apprised of any questions, concerns, issues, or developments related to the grant.
- Use these source documents to review specific requirements and procedures for financial reporting:
 - Notice of Grant Award (NGA) including Terms and Conditions, and any special conditions
 - FGP Federal Regulations [45 CFR 2552]
 - Refer to FFR Instructions and Sample Form for help with the FFR.
- Funds returned to CNCS at the close out of the grant relationship with CNCS or for disallowance of grant costs are to be forwarded to CNCS's collection officer in the FPMC, but only as directed by the grant official. (See Appendix A.3: Guidance for Closing Out Your CNCS Grant)
- Delays in submitting FFRs may cause advance or reimbursement requests to be delayed until the overdue FFR is received.

11.1.2 Progress Reports

1) Project Progress Report Annual and Semiannual

The Progress Report Annual and Project Progress Semiannual are used to ensure FGP grantees address and fulfill legislated program purposes; meet agency program management and grant requirements; track and measure progress to benefit the local project and its contributions to volunteers and the community.

Projects report progress toward meeting the objectives of the project plan which consists of the series of work plans agreed upon in the awarded grant. In addition to project plan reports, narratives in the Progress Report Annual are used to report challenges encountered, partnerships developed, non-federal fund development, volunteer stories, and other accomplishments.

Progress reports are prepared and submitted in the CNCS electronic grants management system after the first six months and at the end of the budget year, unless noted otherwise on the NGA or in the Terms and Conditions for your grant. The due date is no later than 30 days after the end of the reporting period. (See the Managing Senior Corps Grants for the Progress Report Instruction and Appendix A.4 for Progress Report Tips.)

2) Progress Report Supplement

The Progress Report Supplement (PRS) is the annual data collection conducted by CNCS to aggregate the latest numbers and accomplishments of Senior Corps grantees.

The sponsor completes the PRS in the CNCS electronic grants management system in the first quarter of the federal fiscal year (October – December). The report asks the project to provide a statistical profile of the FGP volunteers serving during the 12-month reporting period, including volunteer demographics and project activities.

3) Note: Late submission of financial or progress reports may result in the CNCS placing a temporary hold on grant funds. A temporary hold is implemented if the report is not received by CNCS within 45 calendar days after the established due date. An established due date includes an extended due date, when applicable.

11.2 RECORDKEEPING

As required by 45 CFR 2552.25\(g\), the sponsor must develop recordkeeping and reporting systems in compliance with CNCS requirements that ensure quality of program and fiscal operations and facilitate timely and accurate submission of required reports. The sponsor's records also document compliance with regulatory programmatic and fiscal requirements and must be available to CNCS staff to review on compliance monitoring site visits or in case of audit.

Records, including timesheets and requests for cost reimbursements, may be stored either digitally or in hard copy, given all other necessary conditions for the document in question are met. Necessary conditions include but aren't limited to review and approval by appropriate signatories, records retention requirements, and security requirements.

When signatures are required, an electronic version is permissible when appropriate safeguards are in place to ensure that the signature can only be provided by the person in question. An example of this is an online tracking system where individuals have unique login credentials. Adobe Acrobat forms also have functionalities that allow for unique digital signatures

Records may be subject to state law or local ordinance governing access to records.

11.2.1 Sponsor Records on Volunteer Stations

The project maintains a file on each volunteer station containing:

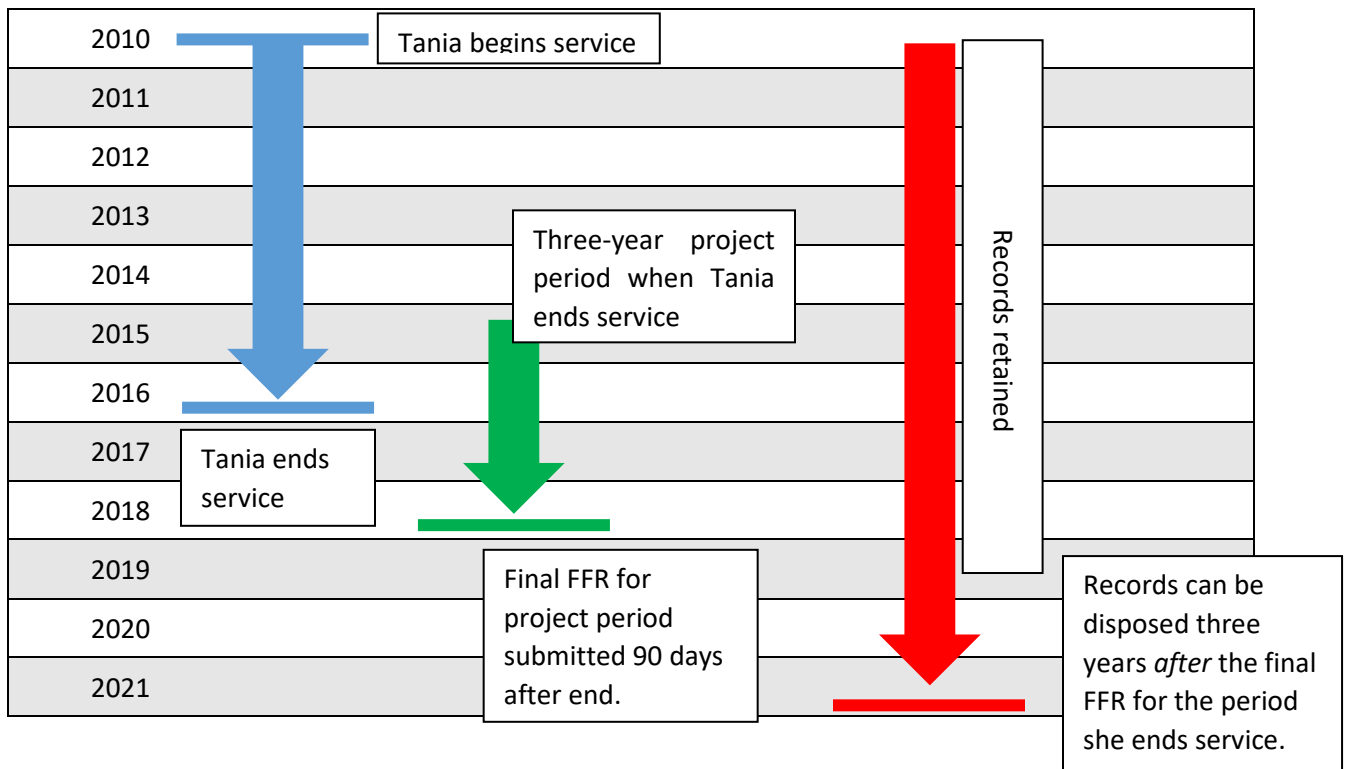

1. A current, signed Memorandum of Understanding. (See Chapter 6 for more information about the MOU)
2. Letters of Agreement, where there are in-home assignments through the volunteer station.
3. A listing by name of the FGP volunteers placed at the volunteer station.

Maintaining Complete Volunteer Files

Maintaining complete volunteer files for the length of time required by law is critical for a sponsor to remain in compliance with federal recordkeeping requirements. See Appendix C.9 for a checklist of everything that you need to maintain in a volunteer file. Among the most important components are the ones that you must complete annually to establish and maintain volunteer eligibility such as documenting income eligibility. You must maintain copies of these key documents for each year a volunteer serves. For example, if a volunteer has served for the past eight years, you should have eight income eligibility reviews in their file.

When can you dispose of these records? With some exceptions, federal recordkeeping requirements require grantees to retain all documents associated with a grant – including volunteer files – for three (3) years from the date you submit the final FFR for the relevant project period (2 CFR 200.333). For volunteers, this means that you should maintain files for at least three years after the FFR associated with the three-year project period when the volunteer leaves service.

For example, suppose Tania begins volunteering with your program in 2010 and continues volunteering until 2016, when she exits your program. Your grant performance period runs from July 1, 2015, through June 30, 2018. You submit your final FFR for that performance period 90 days after the end date of June 30, 2018, which is September 30, 2018. You can dispose of Tania’s files three years after that – September 30, 2021, or after. This means that as late as September 29, 2021, you should still be able to access all of Tania’s files – including her first income eligibility review.

11.2.2 Sponsor Records on Individual Foster Grandparent Volunteers

The project should maintain records for each volunteer containing:

1. An enrollment form signed and dated by the volunteer, including name, address, telephone number and date of birth.
2. A signed Designation of Beneficiary (for insurance purposes).
3. The name of the volunteer station(s) where the FGP volunteer is placed.
4. A copy of the written assignment description for each volunteer or a notation that the volunteer's assignment description is maintained at the volunteer station.
5. The Foster Grandparent's service schedule and verification of actual hours served.
6. A copy of the current written volunteer assignment plan.
7. Documentation of a physical examination if applicable to your project.
8. An income eligibility review for each year a volunteer participates as a Foster Grandparent, including the volunteer's initial income eligibility review from their enrollment, an income eligibility review that has been completed within the past 12 months, and all such annual reviews in between as applicable.
9. The Foster Grandparent's annual performance appraisal.
10. Sponsors are required to have documentation verifying that the required National Service Criminal History checks (NSCHC) were conducted, the results were evaluated, and the sponsor's NSCHC policy is on file and available for CNCS compliance monitoring and for other audit purposes. Confidential files should be secured to protect identity. Grantees that do not have documentation to show compliance with the NSCHC requirements may be subject to cost disallowance. Please read the Criminal History Check Resources webpage carefully to be sure your policies and your implementation procedures are in compliance with the requirement.

See the box on the prior page on maintaining complete volunteer files for more information.

11.2.3 Personally Identifiable Information

All volunteer records are confidential and must be kept in secured files to protect all personally identifiable information (PII). Personal information about volunteers contained on the enrollment form, such as home address, should be disclosed only with the expressed prior written permission of the volunteer.

When you create, collect, use, process, store, maintain, disseminate, disclose, or dispose of PII related to your grant award, you must have policies and procedures in place to manage this information and to guide your response in the event of a breach. You are required to promptly notify individuals who are affected or potentially affected by a breach. You must also promptly notify CNCS of any such breaches. The resources below may help you develop or strengthen your policy or procedures related to responding to a breach.

11.2.4 What Is a Breach?

A breach is the loss of control, compromise, unauthorized disclosure, unauthorized acquisition, or any similar occurrence where (1) a person other than an authorized user accesses or potentially accesses personally identifiable information or (2) an authorized user accesses or potentially accesses personally identifiable information for an other than authorized purpose. Your response to a breach must include notifying CNCS of the breach.

11.2.5 Responding to a Breach

You should establish a policy and procedures that:

1. Explain when and how you will promptly notify potentially affected individuals.
2. Outline when and how you will promptly notify CNCS. You may want to incorporate a breach reporting form similar to the form located here.
3. Satisfy any additional requirements like those issued by state law or those specific to your organization. Resources, like the National Conference of State Legislatures Security Breach Notifications Laws list, may help you identify the privacy notification laws for your state.

The U.S. Department of Education's Privacy Technical Assistance Center also maintains an online toolkit that provides a body of resources and best practices on this subject that you can customize for your needs.

11.2.6 Data Collection and Retention (including Financial Data)

- 1) Periodic Data Collection: Accuracy and timeliness of reports are facilitated by collecting and recording data needed on a regular basis using consistent procedures and tools.
- 2) Keep records of how data was collected: Data reported must be verifiable.
- 3) Retain Records: Data collected, including financial records, must be retained for at least three years from the date the grantee submits the final FFR for the project period or three years past the last audit, whichever is most recent. As volunteer service often extends across multiple grant years, volunteer records must be maintained for at least three years from the date the grantee submits the final FFR for the three-year grant cycle in which the volunteer exited service or three years past the last audit, whichever is later. This is also discussed in more depth in the box on page 92.
- 4) Volunteer Timesheets: Sponsors are required to ensure that timesheets or electronic time and attendance records are maintained that display the actual hours served by each volunteer. To create a system of internal controls, the timesheets or electronic time and attendance records should be signed or validated by the individual volunteer and the responsible volunteer station supervisor. The project supervisor or director may also sign or validate the timesheets or electronic time and attendance records.
- 5) Salary and Wage Documentation: Following is a summary of the requirements for documenting project staff time and attendance from the 2 CFR 200 Grants and Agreements.
 - a. Be supported by a system of internal controls, and incorporated into the official records of the organization.
 - b. Reflect an after-the-fact distribution of the employee's actual work activity for each pay period.

- c. Reflect the total activity of each employee paid from the grant.
 - d. Comply with the established accounting policies and practices of the organization.
 - e. Be signed by the employee or supervisor having firsthand knowledge and certified by an authorized sponsor official.
- 6) National Service Criminal History Checks (NSCHC) for staff: The NSCHC is a screening procedure established by law to protect the beneficiaries of national service. For FGP, the requirements apply to anyone receiving any part of their salary from the FGP grant funds (federal or non-federal share) and all FGP volunteers. Sponsors are required to have documentation verifying that the required checks were made, the results were evaluated, and the sponsor NSCHC policy is on file and available for CNCS compliance monitoring and for other audit purposes. Confidential files should be secured to protect identity. Grantees that do not comply with the NSCHC requirements may be subject to cost disallowance. Please read the NSCHC webpage carefully to be sure your policies and your implementation procedures are in compliance with the requirement. (See Handbook Chapter 5 for more information.)
- 7) In-Kind Contributions: Documentation for in-kind contributions must record donation and valuation of each item. The value of In-kind contributions should be entered into the general ledger and the Federal Financial Report submitted to CNCS.
 - a. To be acceptable as non-federal share (match) all cash and/or in-kind donations must meet the Cost Principles requirement that the cost (donation) must be allowable, reasonable, necessary, and allocable for the performance of the grant award.
 - b. To value an in-kind contribution, fair market value is the standard. Fair market value (FMV) is the price that property would sell for on the open market. It is the price that would be agreed on between a willing buyer and a willing seller, with neither being required to act, and both having reasonable knowledge of the relevant facts. If a donor puts a restriction on the use of donated property, the recipient of the donation must honor that restriction. Finally, the in-kind voucher form signed by the donor should be reviewed to ensure the value is reasonable and comparable with other estimates or bases for value.
 - c. The in-kind voucher justifies the valuation of personal services, material equipment, building, and other non-cash donations. The voucher should include: the name and signature of the donor, the date, the location of the donation, a description of the item/service donated, and the estimated value of the donation. Grantees should acknowledge the contribution with a receipt that includes the name of donor, date and location of donation, a description of item/service, and the estimated value. A copy of the receipt should be kept in sponsor's files. For more information see Appendix A.14: Sample In-Kind Contribution Form and Tutorial: Valuing, Documenting, and Recording In-Kind Match.
- 8) Reimbursement Claims: Documentation for all Volunteer Expenses related to transportation, meals, and/or other costs claimed during the period of volunteer service must for compliance monitoring or audit purposes:

- a. Contain the volunteer’s name, number or other identifying information used by the project.
 - b. Specify the type of expense reimbursement such as mileage or meals.
 - c. Specify the amount to be reimbursed.
 - d. State the reason for reimbursement.
 - e. Include documentation of the expense required by the sponsor.
 - f. Specify the date the expense was incurred.
 - g. Provide a way for the volunteer to certify that the expense was incurred during service hours.
- 9) Projects that use timesheets may incorporate volunteer expense claims on the timesheet form. Costs must be verified by signatures of the volunteer, the volunteer station supervisor, and designated FGP staff. (See Appendix C.3 for a sample timesheet that incorporates hours of service, and mileage expenses.)
- 10) Using FGP Volunteers for Data Collection/Recordkeeping: FGP volunteers can be assigned by project directors to various tasks that involve data collection and recordkeeping (For more information regarding FGP sponsors as volunteer station see Chapter 6)

Reminder

Travel to and from home to the volunteer assignment, and meal times that are not part of the assignment description, are not to be included in hours of service.

11.2.7 Counting and Reporting FGP Volunteers, Performance Measures, and Other Metrics

FGP projects are responsible for having a system that allows them to track all required data accurately and in sufficient detail to meet the requirements of the progress reports, including the Progress Report Supplement

- 1) Reporting requirements for the Progress Reports and the Progress Report Supplement are found in the NGA or the Terms and Conditions for your grant.
- 2) The reported number of volunteers serving and hours served should be approximately equal to or greater than the numbers projected in the budget. CNCS will monitor and verify numbers reported.
- 3) See “Criteria for an Effective FGP Volunteer Service Tracking System” in the following box.

Criteria for an Effective FGP Volunteer Service Tracking System

1. The system is documented in written sponsor policies as the standard used by the FGP project and:
 - (a) Defines and describes the system
 - (b) Identifies tools to be used
 - (c) Identifies allowable persons and authentication method such as hard copy signature or e-mail
 - (d) Specified location of official records
 - (e) Requires storage and retrieval of records – hard copy or electronically
2. The system's reporting tools, such as the following, are consistent with sponsor policy:
 - (a) Hard copy time sheet
 - (b) Hard copy group sign in sheet
 - (c) E-mails relating to a volunteer's hours are sent by an appropriate, authorized person – e.g., the volunteer's supervisor or the volunteer.
 - (d) Electronic group sign-in sheet
 - (e) Telephone report by volunteer supervisor or volunteer with written confirmation consistent with the sponsor policy
 - (f) Fax or Scan
 - (g) Web-based system
3. The system provides assurances that the person reporting the hours is authorized to do so – such as the volunteer or the volunteer station supervisor.
4. If hours are submitted via e-mail by the FGP volunteer or the volunteer station supervisor:
 - (a) Sender uses an e-mail system that requires a recognizable sign-in name that is registered with the sponsor/project as the volunteer.
 - (b) The e-mail is addressed to the person identified by the FGP/sponsor policies as having the authority to accept and view e-mails reporting hours.
 - (c) The system used by the e-mail recipient (i.e. FGP Project Director) is capable of storing and retrieving the e-mails reporting FGP volunteer hours.

11.3 PROJECT COMPLIANCE MONITORING SITE VISIT

CNCS is required to conduct a Compliance Monitoring visit to each project site at least once every six years. CNCS may conduct additional compliance monitoring or site visits based on risk assessments, project operational issues, or training and technical assistance needs in the interim years. Site visits are conducted for the following purposes:

- Test compliance with Senior Corps legal, regulatory, and policy requirements
- Identify and minimize potential risks to the Corporation
- Identify specific technical assistance needs
- Document effective practices
- Recognize accomplishments
- Improve quality of programming
- Determine effectiveness of performance measurement
- Provide guidance
- Analyze recurring problems.

The CNCS program officer/portfolio manager will send a letter prior to the site visit confirming the visit and provide a copy of the “Senior Corps Guide for Quality Assurance and Compliance Monitoring Site Visits” (also called simply the “Compliance Monitoring Guide”) to the sponsor’s Chief Executive Officer (CEO) or Executive Director (ED) and the project director. The CEO/ED and project director are encouraged to read this document in advance of the planned visit, as it provides details on the questions to be answered by the visit, the form in which information is reported and retained in the CNCS project files, and suggests the types of documentation the project should have readily at hand during the visit.

Following the visit, within 30 calendar days, the CNCS staff responsible for the compliance monitoring will send a follow-up letter to the ED/CEO of the sponsoring organization with a copy to the project director. The letter will include but is not limited to:

- Outcomes of the visit
- Areas of non-compliance or potential risk
- Corrective actions to be taken
- Effective practices found

Any fiscal findings or audit recommendations are provided to the grant official in the FFMC or portfolio Manager. A signed copy of the project Compliance Monitoring Guide is retained in the project file.

11.4 EFFECTIVE PRACTICES IN REPORTS AND RECORDKEEPING

- A. The project is familiar with the reports required to fulfill the grant terms and conditions, and regularly submits accurate reports by the required deadlines, including:
 - 1. Semi Annual and Annual Progress Report
 - 2. Progress Report Supplemental (Annually);
 - 3. Federal Financial Report (Every 6 months).
- B. The project discusses reports and requirements with its CNCS Portfolio Manager or Program and Grants Officers if any information requested is unclear.
- C. The project designates accounting professionals within the sponsoring organization to take the lead in financial reporting.
- D. The project develops an overall information collection and reporting system plan.
 - 1. The project uses the Project Work Plans and Performance Measures as blueprints to guide systems that will capture information and data for reporting.
 - 2. If possible, the project invests in a volunteer management software tool to streamline and automate its ongoing data collection and volunteer tracking. See Appendix A.6 for a list of software packages available and vendor contact information.
- E. For performance measurement data collection and reporting, the project:
 - 1. Works in conjunction with the volunteer stations hosting the volunteers. The project coordinates with volunteer station supervisors to link into the station's data and reporting systems, rather than independently establishing its own unique systems. Volunteer stations exist to deliver specific services to the community and those served, and will likely have methods and resource persons available that can be utilized to track volunteer accomplishments without having to start from scratch.
 - 2. Ensures that the volunteer station supervisors and personnel who will assist with data and information collection understand the needs related to the Senior Corps volunteers if the project's request includes or anticipates new data elements or types of information.
 - 3. Incorporates data and information collection into the Memorandum of Understanding with the volunteer station.
- F. The project directors are encouraged to communicate with other Senior Corps project directors to share ideas, receive recommendations, trade tips, and provide suggestions and support.

12 COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS AND COLLABORATION

12.1 COORDINATION WITH OTHER CNCS PROGRAMS AND COMMUNITY ORGANIZATIONS

Days of service and special initiatives are an integral part of the way that CNCS meets our mission. They allow us to showcase at a national and local level how our service supports specific issues. Each grantee can participate in these events in a variety of ways that range from hosting an event that aligns particularly well with the sponsoring organization's mission to collaborating with other CNCS streams of service to remain engaged and connected to our shared vision.

The sponsor is highly encouraged to coordinate activities with other CNCS programs, including AmeriCorps State and National, AmeriCorps NCCC, AmeriCorps VISTA, and the Volunteer Generation Fund. Moreover, the sponsor can coordinate activities with other project-related groups and individuals that have strategic objectives similar to those of CNCS, such as those representing state and local governments, State Service Commissions; industry, labor, and volunteer organizations; programs for children; programs for the aging; and health-care organizations. The goal of such coordination is to facilitate cooperation with existing or planned community services and to develop community support. These coordination activities are specifically encouraged around the following programmatic activities:

- a) National Days of Service: Each year CNCS spearheads the effort to encourage Americans to volunteer in their communities during the Martin Luther King Jr. Day of Service and the September 11th National Day of Service and Remembrance. On these days of service, CNCS provides tools and resources for organizations and individuals to become engaged in service activities. Joining together with regional or local national service programs increases the visibility of the service projects, and reduces duplication of administrative efforts to coordinate events.
- b) Special Initiatives: CNCS supports a variety of special initiatives such as National Service Recognition Day and National Mentoring Month. These events and priorities, like National Days of Service, are best implemented in your community in partnership with other national service projects serving in your region.
- c) Coordinated Recruitment: In some communities national service programs are looking to recruit distinctly separate candidates in the same communities. Coordinating around recruitment efforts and encouraging referrals when a candidate is not a good fit for your program but maybe a good fit for another program strengthens the national service network and helps everyone meet their recruitment goals.

Sponsors should use sound planning and preparation to generate local support. Development of cost sharing support can be facilitated by integrating the project into the community. Suggested steps toward achieving coordination are:

- a) Prepare a brief summary of the project, its plans and accomplishments, its value to the community, and a statement of the types and amounts of support it needs.

- b) Conduct a thoughtful assessment of the stakeholders of your program. Stakeholders include all organizations, businesses, and municipalities, which are benefiting from the impact of your program. Stakeholders could also include any organizations that are working toward the same goals in your service area.
 1. Schedule meetings with stakeholders and individuals or groups who can contribute to the project or who can influence others to contribute.
 2. Follow up the meeting with each person or group contacted with a thank you, additional information, or an opportunity to continue to work together.
 3. Strengthen the above activities by involving selected members of the FGP advisory council.
 4. Collaborate with other Senior Corps projects to generate statewide, citywide, countywide, and multi-county support.

12.2 PUBLIC AWARENESS

- 1) A strong community relations program ensures public awareness of start-up activities and continuing project development.
- 2) The project sponsor should keep social service agencies; city, county, and state elected officials; governmental department heads; community organizations, including those serving senior citizens; and the media updated about the project's development, services, growth, and accomplishments.
- 3) Public awareness can be advanced through public speaking appearances by staff and advisory council members before service clubs, fraternal organizations, religious groups, and meetings with local, county, and state governmental units. Public relations materials about CNCS's programs and media kit materials are available at the CNCS website.
- 4) Active support of the FGP advisory council enhances community interest in project activities. Some FGP advisory councils have formed community relations or publicity and marketing committees which assist the project in building awareness, coordinating with other community groups, and speaking about FGP volunteers before organizations in which they are active.
- 5) FGP is included in the CNCS national advertising program. Through CNCS's Office of External Affairs, continuing efforts are made to place program information and human interest stories in national and local publications.
- 6) Public awareness of the nationwide program and of the local project should be promoted regularly through local media, a project website and social media accounts. Systematic contacts with newspapers, radio, and TV should be established and maintained. Announcements of local news value should be prepared and forwarded to the media. (See Chapter 1, Office of External Affairs, for more information and tools.) Some examples of newsworthy announcements are:
 - a) The establishment of a new volunteer station at a site that is of significant importance or well recognized in the community.

Foster Grandparent Program Operations Handbook Chapter 12: Community Partnerships and Collaboration

- b) The appointment of new members to the FGP advisory council or the establishment of a special committee of the advisory council that addresses issues that are significant to your community.
 - c) Statements made by elected officials, and other governmental and civic leaders in support of the project.
 - d) Achievement of a measurable impact on a critical community need.
 - e) Any special FGP project event, such as key community service projects and the presentation of awards to the volunteers or to the project staff for significant achievements.
 - f) Engagement of the community and the volunteers around the National Days of Service or other CNCS Special Initiatives.
- 7) Engaging in social media is a vital part of a modern public engagement plan. With the popularity of social media many community members are learning about the news in their community through social media platforms. For many projects, social media engagement is the driving vehicle for recruitment, recognition and communicating the impact of their program.
- 8) Particularly in smaller communities, the news media are usually interested in providing time or space for interviews with FGP volunteers or project staff. They are especially receptive to human interest stories.

12.3 EFFECTIVE PRACTICES IN COMMUNITY RELATIONS

I. Effective Practices for Increasing the Visibility of Service to the Community by Older Volunteers

The project:

- A. Develops, implements, and periodically updates a plan to promote ongoing community awareness of and support for the project.
- B. Makes presentations about the project to community organizations and interested parties;
- C. Has a media awareness campaign to promote community awareness and support;
- D. Has a presence on social media platforms;
- E. Develops active roles for all stakeholders, including sponsor staff, project director, sponsor Board, volunteers, FGP advisory council , and volunteer station staff, in promoting the project in the community;
- F. Can demonstrate that the community recognizes the project's contributions to meeting community needs by acknowledging the project or individual volunteers;
- G. Broadly disseminates information on project accomplishment and impact to the community, volunteer stations, volunteers, funding supporters, other community agencies, the general public, the Senior Corps, and other key stakeholders so that:
- H. The community perceives the project as a leader in effectively meeting critical community needs; and
- I. The community perceives FGP volunteers as active seniors who meet critical community needs.

II. Effective Practices for Coordinating FGP Services

The project and volunteer stations:

- A. Collaborate with other CNCS funded national service programs, including AmeriCorps VISTA, AmeriCorps State and National, AmeriCorps NCCC, the Volunteer Generation Fund, and other Senior Corps programs, to meet critical community needs;
- B. Participate in the National Days of Service and CNCS Special Initiatives in partnership with other national service projects in their service area; and
- C. Build broad-based relationships in the community, including the business sector, to gain their support for older volunteers.

14 DESCRIPTION AND LIST OF APPENDICES

In the January 2017 revision of these handbooks, Senior Corps revised the organization of the handbook appendices to clarify when appendices were the same across workbooks and improve our ability to update them quickly and accurately. Specifically, we combined the appendices of all three handbooks (the Foster Grandparent Operations Handbook, Senior Companion Operations Handbook and RSVP Operations Handbook) into one list.

You can view the full list of appendices in both PDF and, when applicable, editable Word or Excel formats at the Managing Senior Corps Grants page.

In addition, we introduced a numbering system to indicate what appendices would be relevant for what programs. The appendices are organized as follows:

- Section A: These appendices apply equally to all Senior Corps programs.
- Section B: These appendices apply only to the RSVP Program.
- Section C: These appendices apply equally to the Foster Grandparent and Senior Companion Programs
- Section D: These appendices apply only to the Foster Grandparent Program
- Section E: These appendices apply only to the Senior Companion Program

In the printable version of this handbook, we have included only the appendices that are relevant to your program. In the case of Foster Grandparent Programs, this includes Sections A, C and D. A full list of the appendices included in this document follows.

Appendix A.1 - Guidance on Recognition Costs

From the CNCS Field Financial Management Center (FFMC)

OVERVIEW

Recognition, a direct benefit to Senior Corps volunteers, is a cost category allowed by Senior Corps regulations (45 CFR 2551.46\(e\), 45 CFR 2552.46\(e\), 45 CFR 2553.43\(c\)). It covers a wide range of potential costs. Any costs charged to this direct benefit to the volunteer must be in accordance with the applicable OMB cost principles (2 CFR 200, Subpart E) and expended using sound business practices. Any costs charged to recognition should be reasonable and prudent, properly valued and consistent with your organizational accounting practices. Consideration should also be given to the appropriateness of the expenditure.

CRITERIA

- Recognition should be related to the volunteer's service.
- Recognition costs should have appropriate limits. Things to consider are budgetary limits and organizational policies on reasonableness of costs. If your organization does not have a policy on reasonableness of costs, one should be developed by your management and/or accounting department.
- Recognition should be applied equally among all volunteers. If there are limited resources some method should be devised to insure all volunteers are included in recognition activities and actions. Planning for distribution of limited resources should be accomplished at the time of your budgetary planning and included in your organizational policies and procedures.
- Recognition should be program specific and recognize the Senior Corps volunteer for their service in the CNCS designated project.
- Recognition should not include any costs to the volunteer.
- Recognition should take place at least annually for formal public recognition of volunteers to the community. If formal recognition takes place, a sign-in sheet documenting attendance of the volunteers being recognized should be prepared.

ITEMS GENERALLY ACCEPTED AS RECOGNITION EXPENSES

- Special ceremonies, teas, breakfasts, luncheons, and recreational outings can also include a per person cost which includes items other than room rental and food. If the cost per attendee includes other amenities in an inclusive package this is acceptable so long as:
 - The cost is reasonable
 - There is budgetary availability
 - The expenses are not expressly prohibited by either the OMB cost principles or a determination by a CNCS Official.

Appendix A.1 - Guidance on Recognition Costs

- Small (nominal value) gifts are allowable:
 - So long as:
 - The cost is reasonable
 - There is budgetary availability
 - The gift is not something that is expressly prohibited by either OMB cost principles or by a determination by a CNCS Official.
 - A gift is any item that has monetary value.
 - Your organization should establish policies on how you determine reasonableness of cost and determine limits based on sound accounting practices.
 - CNCS would define the value of a gift using “Market Value.” Market value means the retail cost the organization would incur to purchase the gift.
 - An organization who cannot ascertain the market value of a gift may estimate its market value by reference to the retail cost of similar items of like quality.
 - For example: The market value of a gift of a ticket entitling the holder to food, refreshments, entertainment, or any other benefit would be the face value of the ticket.
- Recognition items such as trophies, plaques, certificates, and pins are acceptable. Attention should be given to the fact that the cost of some of these items will increase depending on the cost of engraving, sometimes significantly, so these recognition items may be limited to budget availability.
- Birthday cards are acceptable, even though they are not technically a recognition item related to a volunteer’s service. They are of a nominal value and therefore can be used as a form of recognition.
- Senior Corps encourages grantees to invite special guest, elected or other officials to show appreciation to the volunteers. Costs for these special guests can be paid for from grant funds.
- Gifts cards are acceptable forms of recognition. It is important that these should be treated as cash in your accounting system, however, they do not take the form of a cash payment and are not as liquid.
 - Because anyone can use a gift card, they should be treated as cash and documented in accordance with sound business practices, including a receipt signed by the volunteer being recognized.
 - Refer to 45 CFR 2543.21 for Standards for Financial Management Systems. Gift Cards are usually designated for a specific purpose and a specific item. Organizations should have a policy and procedure in place to account for the distributions and accounting of gift card.
- Additional leave may be used as a form of recognition. Foster Grandparent and Senior Companion Programs that intend to use leave as a form of recognition must also abide by the Senior Corps Guidance on Leave as a Form of Volunteer Recognition.

ITEMS GENERALLY NOT ACCEPTABLE FORMS OF RECOGNITION

- Holiday or Christmas gifts are not acceptable. Recognition should be based on a volunteer's service only.
- Cash is not acceptable as recognition. Cash can be seen as a payment or a bonus and volunteers serving in CNCS programs are not to be paid other than the allowable stipend payments in the CNCS Foster Grandparent / Senior Companion programs.
- Paid speakers at recognition events are usually not allowable, although exceptions may be permitted. Some things to consider are:
 - Would the event still be a success if the speaker does not attend? Is the speaker an integral and vital component to the success of the event?
 - Would your organization pay for the speaker or raise money to include the speaker if federal funds were not available?
 - Can you substitute the speaker for someone without a speaking fee but with similar ability and qualifications?
- Guests of volunteers are not permitted to be paid for from federal or non-federal expenditures. If volunteers bring guests, the sources of funds to be used should come from a source not counted toward your required match. A best practice is to have a sign in sheet for all attendees present at the recognition event.
- Certain forms of entertainment are not acceptable. If you are planning to expend funds for recognition please consult with a CNCS Program Officer, Grants Officer, or Portfolio Manager prior to expenditure for further clarification.

ITEMS THAT ARE QUESTIONABLE AND WOULD NEED PRIOR APPROVAL FROM CNCS

- Tickets to events in normal instances would be deemed unallowable based on the OMB Cost Principles which state "Costs of entertainment, including amusement, diversion, and social activities and any costs directly associated with such costs (such as tickets to shows or sports events, meals, lodging, rentals, transportation, and gratuities) are unallowable."
- However, since our regulations do view recognition as a legitimate cost, showing recognition in the form of tickets to events may be deemed appropriate based on reasonableness of cost and appropriateness of the venue. These type of costs should be discussed with your CNCS Program Officer, Grants Officer, or Portfolio Manager prior to expenditure.

SPECIAL VOLUNTEER RECOGNITION

- Singling out a volunteer for exceptional or special service is allowable. Examples include acknowledging a milestone in service (example: 20 years of service, 30 years of service) or supporting a program in ways that go beyond service activities, such as efforts to recruit other volunteers.
- Special recognition items can be given for this purpose if the following is demonstrated:

Appendix A.1 - Guidance on Recognition Costs

- The cost is reasonable
- There is budgetary availability
- The gift is not something that is expressly prohibited by either OMB cost principles or by a determination by a CNCS Official.
- When recognizing individual volunteers, an organization should have a written policy that includes:
 - What constitutes exceptional or special service
 - What milestones or achievements in service will prompt special recognition
 - What will be given for this purpose if different than typical recognition awards.

Appendix A.2: Primer on Civil Rights Compliance

Civil rights laws are complex, and neither direct evidence of discrimination nor direct proof of intent to discriminate is needed for discrimination to be found. Therefore, past actions -- e.g., patterns in decisions, statements made in any contexts, or rules followed/not followed -- or actions taken regarding other persons -- e.g., sent to training, given warning in lieu of a reprimand or termination -- may determine the outcome of a claim of discrimination, even if the past action appears to have no relationship to a present discrimination claim.

DEFINITION OF DISCRIMINATION

Dictionary Definition: Different treatment

Legal Definition: Different treatment because of a difference in race; color; national origin; gender; sexual orientation; religion; age; disability; political affiliation; marital or parental status; or military service.

Regulatory Expansion: Different treatment because of reprisal for: (a) participation in the discrimination complaint process, or (b) expressing opposition to an action made illegal by the civil rights acts or other applicable laws.

DETERMINATION OF DISCRIMINATION

When direct, straightforward evidence of discrimination exists, it is relatively easy to determine whether legally discrimination occurred. Such evidence could include:

- Racial epithets, sexual slurs, repeated jokes about accent or heritage.
- A recruitment brochure which describes a job as "Fit for a Queen," or a recruitment poster asks, "Are you the right man?"
- Interview notes read "too old for this job" or qualification requirements call for "trainee between the ages of 21 and 24."

Such evidence is not needed, however, for discrimination under the law to have occurred. Discrimination may be inferred when two persons of different race, sex, etc. groups receive different treatment. Different treatment is determined by comparing persons who are similarly situated, i.e., they are so situated that it is reasonable to expect they would receive the same treatment in the context of a particular employment or service decision.

The determination as to whether an action was because of race, sex, etc., uses the following disparate treatment analytical model:

Step One: Complainant must establish a "prima facie" case of discrimination, i.e., establish enough so that the case is not immediately dismissed, and the employer or grantee must respond to the allegation(s). This establishes a rebuttable presumption of discrimination. Often comparative evidence is presented that a similarly situated person of another race, sex, etc. group was treated more favorably than the complainant. That is, the complainant was treated less favorably than a person who is so situated that it is reasonable to expect he or she would receive the same treatment in terms of a particular employment or service decision.

If the complainant establishes a prima facie case, the employer's or grantee's response is examined. If the complainant does not do so, a finding of no discrimination must be made.

Step Two: The employer or grantee must set forth a legitimate, nondiscriminatory reason for its action. If the employer or grantee does this, pretext is examined. If employer or grantee does not do so, a finding of discrimination must be made.

Step Three: The complainant must establish the employer's or grantee's stated reason is pretext for prohibited discrimination, i.e., stated reason is not credible or it masks/cloaks the real reason which is prohibited discrimination. If the complainant establishes pretext, a finding of discrimination must be made. If the complainant does not do so, a finding of no discrimination must be made.

BURDEN OF PROOF

Generally, the complainant carries the burden of proof and must establish his or her case by a preponderance of the evidence, i.e., if evidence is a football field, complainant must carry the ball over the 50 yard line, into the employer's territory.

Exception One: Direct, straightforward evidence of discrimination shifts burden of proof to the employer or grantee, who must prove it did not discriminate by clear and convincing evidence (a much higher standard than preponderance of the evidence)

Exception Two: Mixed motive cases (both discriminatory and nondiscriminatory motives established). The employer or grantee must prove, by the higher level clear and convincing evidence, that, absent discrimination, the same action would have occurred (e.g., same person would have been selected); if the employer or grantee meets its burden of proof, it is still liable for discrimination, but relief is limited to declaratory relief, certain injunctive relief, and attorney's fees and costs (relief may not include personal relief such as retroactive hiring, reinstatement, and compensatory damages).

INTERVIEW QUESTIONS

Interview or application questions (i.e., questions during the selection process) which are not directly job or position-related are oftentimes considered direct evidence of discrimination. (There is no problem requesting necessary information after the selection process is complete, however.)

At a minimum, to protect from liability, it is always advisable to avoid certain types of questions during the selection process. If a manager does not have information available during the selection process, the manager will always be able to legitimately state that the selection was not based on that information.

Non job- or position-related questions, i.e., questions that do not directly address the applicant's ability to perform the essential duties of the position, include the following:

- Questions related to marital status (also preferred forms of address).
- Questions related to children (also ages of children and child care arrangements made or needed) or to pregnancy and/or reproduction (including future family planning).
- Questions related to the ability to work overtime or to travel (with reference to dependents or family life). When overtime and/or travel are duties of the position, it is acceptable, however, to describe duties and ask if applicant foresees any problem in fulfilling the duties.
- Questions related to disability or medical conditions (including questions on nature or origin of a disability, commuting arrangements, sick leave usage, or ability to perform marginal duties of the position).

SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS RELATED TO DISABILITY OR MEDICAL CONDITIONS

General Rule: The employer or grantee may not conduct a pre-employment or pre-service medical examination or ask applicant prior to employment or service whether he or she has disabilities or question the nature or severity of a disability.

Essential Functions

The employer or grantee may, however, make pre-employment or pre-service inquiry into applicant's ability to meet the essential functions of the position, with or without reasonable accommodation, or to fulfill bona fide medical qualification requirements, if applicable.

Essential functions are the minimum abilities necessary for safe and efficient performance of the duties of the position in question.

Care must be exercised, however, in inquiring about the ability to perform essential functions, with or without reasonable accommodation, because a selection decision may not generally consider whether an accommodation is required or how much it will cost. That is, unless an accommodation constitutes an undue financial or administrative burden or fundamentally alters the nature of the program or activity, the need for or cost of an accommodation may not influence a selection decision.

It is acceptable to exclude an applicant with a disability, even though the person can perform the essential functions of the position, only if the disability endangers the health and safety of others or if performing the essential functions endangers the health and safety of the applicant.

Persons with contagious diseases (e.g., tuberculosis) in remission may not be passed over for selection based on their disability if they can perform the essential functions of the position. Further, all HIV-positive persons are persons with disabilities, and not selecting an applicant solely on the basis of this illness is discrimination.

Medical Examinations

Nothing prohibits employer or grantee from conditioning offer of employment or service on results of a medical examination conducted prior to person's entrance on duty, provided all entering persons are subjected to such an examination regardless of disability and results of such an examination are used only in accordance with these guidelines.

Records Maintenance

Information concerning the medical condition or history of applicants must be collected and maintained on separate forms that are treated as confidential medical records, except that:

- Supervisors and managers may be informed regarding restrictions on duties of disabled persons and necessary accommodations;
- First aid and safety personnel may be informed if the condition might require emergency treatment;
- Government officials investigating compliance with laws, regulations, and instructions relevant to equal opportunity must be provided information upon request; and
 - Statistics generated from information obtained may be used to manage, evaluate, and report on equal opportunity.

ACCESSIBILITY AND REASONABLE ACCOMMODATION

General Rules:

1. No qualified individual with disabilities shall, on the basis of disability, be denied the benefits of, be excluded from participation in, or otherwise be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving federal financial assistance.
2. All programs and activities must be accessible to, and usable by, persons with disabilities.
3. Persons with disabilities shall be provided reasonable accommodation to participate in the program or activity.

Statutes: Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act prohibits disability discrimination in federally assisted programs. The CNCS is responsible for enforcing this provision in terms of its grantees and subgrantees. (For civil rights purposes, all programs, projects, and sites funded or receiving volunteers or service members under CNCS statutes are programs or activities receiving federal financial assistance.)

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) applies to virtually all CNCS grantees and subgrantees, but the CNCS does not enforce it. The ADA's nondiscrimination, accessibility, and reasonable accommodation standards for state and local governments are identical to Section 504 standards. Public places like museums, day care centers, schools, have lower accessibility and reasonable accommodation standards under the ADA (and religious institutions are exempt), but by virtue of receiving federal financial assistance, the higher Section 504 standards apply to them.

New construction and alterations (built or altered since May 30, 1979): Each building or part of a building that is constructed or altered by or for the use of any grantee or subgrantee shall be designed, constructed, or altered so as to be readily accessible to and usable by disabled persons.

Existing facilities (built before May 30, 1979): Grantees must operate each program or activity so that, when viewed in its entirety, it is readily accessible to and usable by disabled persons. For this purpose, a project plus all sites is considered. Grantees are not necessarily required to retrofit to make each existing facility accessible or to take action that would result in undue financial or administrative burdens, but the overall program must be accessible. Programmatic modifications are acceptable to achieve and maintain accessibility in buildings built before May 30, 1979.

Communications: Grantees must ensure program and employment communications are available to persons with impaired vision and hearing, and that no disabled person is denied benefits or participation because no auxiliary aids were provided for persons with impaired sensory, manual, or speaking skills.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

Definition: Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

- a. Submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or service.
- b. Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment or volunteer or participation decisions affecting the individual.
- c. Submission to or rejection of such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or service performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or service environment.

The key is that the conduct is unwelcome.

Examples: Sexual harassment includes, but is not limited to, the following work or service conduct:

- a. Explicit or implicit demands for sexual favors in return for job or service benefits.
- b. Unwelcome letters, telephone calls, or distribution or display of materials of a sexual nature.
- c. Physical assaults of a sexual nature.
- d. Unwelcome and deliberate touching, leaning over, cornering, or pinching.
- e. Unwelcome sexually suggestive looks or gestures.
- f. Unwelcome pressure for sexual favors or dates.
- g. Unwelcome sexual teasing, jokes, remarks, or questions.
- h. According favorable treatment to those who grant sexual favors.

Relationships vis-à-vis Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is not limited to prohibited conduct by a male toward a female or by a supervisor toward a subordinate. It includes prohibited conduct by a CNCS employee towards a volunteer, service member, project director, or program beneficiary, as well as such conduct by grantee employees.

- A man may be the victim of sexual harassment.
- A woman may be the harasser.
- The victim does not have to be the opposite sex from the harasser.
- The harasser does not have to be the victim's supervisor. The harasser could be:
 - a supervisor who does not supervise the victim,
 - a non-supervisory employee, volunteer, or service member, or
 - a co-worker or another volunteer or service member.
- The victim does not have to be the person toward whom the unwelcome sexual conduct is directed, but may be someone who is affected by such conduct when it is directed toward another person.

For example, the sexual harassment of an employee, volunteer, or service member may create for another employee, volunteer or service member an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment.

- Sexual harassment does not depend on the victim's having suffered an economic loss as a result of the harasser's conduct.

For example, improper sexual advances which do not result in the denial of a promotion or the discharge of the victim may, nonetheless, constitute sexual harassment where they interfere with the victim's work or service, or create an intimidating, hostile or offensive work or service environment.

Harassment on sexual, racial, national origin, religious harassment, or on any other grounds is strictly prohibited in CNCS or grantee offices, other work- or service-related settings, including, but not limited to site visits or work- or service-related social events and training.

CNCS OR GRANTEE RESPONSIBILITIES REGARDING HARASSMENT

The CNCS or grantee is ultimately responsible for violations of prohibitions against any form of prohibited harassment and for taking corrective action and/or disciplinary action if violations occur. They are responsible for:

- (1) Acts of "quid pro quo" sexual harassment, wherein a supervisor demands sexual favors for employment or service benefits, regardless of whether the CNCS or grantee, its agents or supervisory employees knew, or should have known, of the acts.

- (2) Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature which have the purpose or effect of creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working or service environment, where the CNCS or grantee, its agents or supervisory employees knew, or had reason to know, of acts and failed to take immediate and appropriate corrective action.
- (3) Acts of prohibited harassment toward fellow employees, volunteers, or participants (co-workers), where the CNCS or grantee, its agents or its supervisory employees knew, or should have known, of the conduct, unless it took immediate and appropriate corrective action.
- (4) Acts of prohibited harassment by non-employees, where the CNCS or grantee, its agents or its supervisory employees knew, or should have known, of the conduct and failed to take immediate and appropriate corrective action.

DISCRIMINATION CLAIMS

Any volunteer, service member, client, employee, or beneficiary of a program or project who believes he or she has been subjected to discrimination in violation of nondiscrimination provisions of applicable laws, regulations or this policy may raise a claim with the CNCS's Office of Civil Rights and Inclusiveness (OCRI). However, discrimination claims not brought to the attention of the OCRI Office within 45 days of their occurrence of the alleged discriminatory event may not be accepted in a formal complaint of discrimination and may be procedurally dismissed.

We first attempt to resolve discrimination claims through the informal counseling process. In addition, although people are not required to do so, we encourage people to try first to resolve discrimination claims directly with programs and projects, and most service members may use their grievance system to do so. However, raising matters through a program or project grievance system does not stop the running of the 45-day time frame.

THE CNCS'S OFFICE OF CIVIL RIGHTS AND INCLUSIVENESS

The CNCS's Office of Civil Rights and Inclusiveness (OCRI) is available to provide further information to any CNCS or grantee official, volunteer, or service member. The OCRI may be reached at (202) 606-7503, (voice), (202) 606-5256 (TDD), eo@cns.gov, or through <http://www.nationalservice.gov>.

CIVIL RIGHTS COMPLIANCE EVALUATION DURING SITE AND MONITORING VISITS

The following is designed to allow evaluation of civil rights compliance during any type of on-site visit. Most items can be observed during the regular course of a visit, thereby taking no additional time or effort.

1. Is there a flat, non-gravel route from parking/street through the front entrance? Does the parking lot have spaces reserved for persons with disabilities?
2. Are doors (entrance, rest room, etc.) no heavier to open than refrigerator door? Are door knobs throughout push/pull or lever-type, not twist knobs?
3. Are halls and passageways at least one yard wide? Are they level, with non-slip, stable surfaces and no trip hazards?
4. Are there no steps without alternate routes (elevators, ramps, other entrance) available?
 - a. Are stairs of uniform heights?
5. Do publicity information, brochures, handbooks, etc. state they are available in alternate formats upon request and do they identify how to request formats?
6. If eyes are closed or sound turned down during a video or PSA, do you still receive the message?
7. Is there adequate maneuvering clearance at entrances, especially rest rooms?
8. Does an accessible restroom have an accessible stall 5' x 5'? (There are other legal configurations, but check to see if a person in a wheelchair can close the door)
9. Does an accessible restroom have a sink with lever faucets, hot water pipes wrapped to prevent burns, and paper towels lowered?
10. Are emergency alarms both audible and visual? Are evacuation plans and areas of rescue assistance accessible to individuals with mobility impairments?
11. Is there a non-discrimination policy statement that applies to services provided by the site, and addresses nondiscrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, and political affiliation? Have they received any claims or complaints of prohibited discrimination?
12. Are there any policies, procedures, or technology which excludes, directly or indirectly, a person with (a) mobility impairments, (b) visual impairments, (c) hearing impairments, (d) mental or emotional impairments, or (e) diseases (including HIV but excluding currently contagious diseases) or addictions (other than current illegal drug use, or current alcohol or legal drug abuse which prevents performing duties or is a direct and current threat to self or others)?

Appendix A.3 - Guidance on Closing-Out Your CNCS Grant

From the Field Financial Management Center (FFMC)

In order to close-out a CNCS Grant, CNCS requires the following four items. 1. A final FFR (Federal Financial Report) with CNCS, 2. Cash Transaction Report with PMS (Payment Management System), 3. Inventory Report (if required), 4. Final PPR with CNCS. These documents should be completed and returned to CNCS no later than 90 days after the grant expiration date.

1. A final Federal Financial Report (FFR) in the CNCS electronic grants system. This must show that the required match was met and the Total Federal Share of expenditures must match the total drawdowns from PMS. If the final PMS drawdown has not been completed, please wait to file the CNCS FFR, until the final amount has been confirmed. If there are leftover CNCS funds, these should be indicated on the FFR (unobligated balance of federal funds) and will be de-obligated during the close-out process. Please note there cannot be any “un-liquidated obligations” listed on a final FFR. Please contact your CNCS Grants Officer if you have questions about this report.
2. A Federal Cash Transaction Report must be submitted in the Payment Management System (PMS). This can only be done during the open periods for filing (January, April, July, and October). Please ensure the final drawdown of CNCS funds from PMS is completed as soon as possible.
 - a. Example: Your grant ends March 31, the final drawdown in PMS should be done before June 30, so it can be accounted for during the July open reporting period that covers April, May and June. If the final drawdown is not completed until July, those funds cannot be reported until October. This will make the close-out late and could result in a hold being placed on your current grant funds.

In order to close-out the grant, the amount drawn from PMS must match the amount disbursed (on the cash transaction report) in PMS, to the penny. If $365,002.65 was drawn down, then $365,002.65 must be disbursed and $365,002.65 must be the Total Federal Share of Expenditures reported on the CNCS FFR. For assistance with PMS, please contact the help desk at 1-877-614-5533 or PMSSupport@psc.gov.

3. In the event that you have more than $5,000 in supplies left over from the grant, you must notify your grants officer.
4. A final Program Progress Report (PPR) must also be submitted, please contact your CNCS Program Officer/Portfolio Manager if you have questions about this report.

Checklist for Completing Progress

Reports General tips

- Keep good records during the year
- Schedule plenty of time to write reports
- Organize all documents needed for the report before getting started
- Do not leave anything blank (“NA” stands for “not acceptable”)

Some best practices for reporting in the Performance Measure section:

- Remember that clear, concise work plans in the grant application is the key to good, simple reporting
- Keep reporting aligned with original work plans
- If you have not fully reached a project milestone, report on the progress to date
- Include statistics in reports, not just descriptions
- Include real numbers with percentages. For example, say “75% of respondents (45 out of 60)” instead of only “75% of respondents”

Some best practices for reporting in the Narrative section:

- Challenges: What are you doing to address challenges? Do not wait for the progress report if you need support from your program officer/portfolio manager.
- Training/technical assistance needs: What are the training and technical assistance needs of your project?
- Partnership/Collaboration development: In addition to listing new partnerships, describe how activities with partners relate to achieving project goals

- Non-federal share development: If the resource leveraged is an in-kind donation, has it been documented in compliance with federal regulation?
- Other accomplishments: Provide specific information
 - Example- Training Events: Describe how many participants were involved, what the training covered, and who conducted the training.
- Do not wait until progress report is due to notify the CNCS Program Officer/Portfolio Manager of major accomplishments

Appendix A.9 – Sample Checklist for Station Accessibility

This questionnaire is designed to allow evaluation of the overall accessibility of the ABC program by looking at where we send volunteers to serve. Appendix A.10 – Senior Corps Minimum Insurance Coverage Requirements

This document summarizes the minimum insurance requirements for Senior Corps volunteers, specified by CNCS. Minimum required levels may change from time to time.

Accident Insurance

- Accident insurance must cover FGP, SCP, and RSVP volunteers for personal injury during travel between their homes and places of assignment, during their volunteer service, during meal periods while serving as a volunteer, and while attending project-sponsored activities. Protection shall be provided against claims in excess of any benefits or services for medical care or treatment available to the volunteer from other sources, including:
 1. Health insurance coverage.
 2. Other hospital or medical service plans.
 3. Any coverage under labor-management trusted plans, union-welfare plans, employer organization plans, or employee-benefit organization plans.
 4. Coverage under any governmental program or provided by any statute.
- When benefits are approved in the form of services rather than cash payments, the reasonable cash value of each service rendered must be considered in determining the applicability of this provision. The benefits payable must include the benefits that would have been payable had a claim been duly made. The benefits payable must be reduced to the extent necessary so that the sum of such reduced benefits and all the benefits provided for by any other plan must not exceed the volunteer's total expenses.
- The sponsor must provide Senior Corps volunteers with the following accident insurance coverage:
 - $50,000 or more for accidental medical expenses.
 - $50 for repair or replacement of damaged eyeglass frames and $50 for replacement of broken prescription eyeglass lenses or contact lenses.
 - $500 for repair of dentures; $500 per tooth for treatment of injury to natural teeth, limited to a total of $900.
 - $2,500 for accidental death or dismemberment.

Personal Liability Insurance for Volunteers

Protection is provided against claims in excess of protection provided by other insurance. It does not include professional liability coverage. Protection must be provided against claims in excess of protection provided by other insurance. The sponsor must provide third-party protection for volunteers against injury or property damage claims arising out of their volunteer service activities. For each sponsoring organization, the amount of protection must be $1,000,000 for each occurrence of personal injury or property damage and must be in excess of any other valid and collectible insurance, and $3,000,000 annual aggregate.

Excess Automobile Liability Insurance

To avoid a gap in coverage between that provided by a volunteer's personal vehicle insurance and liability claims in excess of that coverage, the sponsor must provide Excess Automobile Liability Insurance coverage of not less than $500,000 each accident for bodily injury and/or property damage.

The sponsor will provide protection against claims in excess of the greater of either:

1. The liability insurance volunteers carry on their own automobiles
2. The limits of the applicable state Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Law or
3. In the absence of a state financial responsibility law, $50,000 for each person, each accident, and for property damage

Table 1. Examples of evidence-based programs supported by volunteers

This table contains programs developed or adapted for volunteer engagement in which eligible research studies have already been reviewed by a federal agency. It reflects programs identified by CNCS as of 2017 and should not be construed as a comprehensive list of all evidence-based programs that may potentially be relevant to Senior Corps grantees.

Appendix A.12 – Guidance on Prohibition of Fee-for-Service Activities

As set forth in Section 404(c) of the Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973 (DVSA), there is a general prohibition against grantees and volunteer stations requesting or receiving any compensation for the services of SCP, FGP, or RSVP volunteers. This prohibition is sometimes referred to as the “fee-for-service” prohibition. Section 404(c) provides the following:

(c) Compensation of supervising agencies or organizations

No agency or organization to which volunteers are assigned hereunder, or which operates or supervises any volunteer program hereunder, shall request or receive any compensation from such volunteers or from beneficiaries for services of volunteers supervised by such agency or organization.

In some cases, determining whether a payment requested or received by a grantee or volunteer station is permissible in light of the prohibition is relatively straightforward. In other cases, however, making determinations as to whether the arrangement is permissible in light of the prohibition requires a more in-depth review, including an assessment by CNCS.

Please see the examples below.

Examples:

Scenario 1:

An RSVP grantee has a volunteer station that provides program activities, including a personal safety/first aid course available to the local community. The course is taught by RSVP volunteers assigned to that volunteer station, and each student enrolled in the course is required to pay a $20.00 fee, which covers the course materials (i.e., workbook on first aid/CPR). The $20.00 fee is solely a reimbursement to the volunteer station for the expenses it incurs for purchase of the course materials.

This arrangement results in a volunteer station requesting and receiving payments from all members of the local community (i.e., beneficiaries) who enroll in the course. Moreover, under this arrangement, the teacher of the course is an RSVP volunteer.

Is this arrangement permissible?

Yes, this arrangement is permissible.

Although the volunteer station is requesting and receiving payments from everyone who takes the course, and the teacher is an RSVP volunteer, the volunteer station is not receiving payment for the services of the RSVP volunteer. Rather, the $20.00 fee is solely to reimburse the volunteer station for the costs of the course materials. Therefore, this arrangement is permissible and does not violate the DVSA statutory prohibition.

Scenario 2:

An RSVP grantee has a volunteer station located at a local elementary school. As part of the volunteer station's service activities, it prepares and serves children lunch meals at the school cafeteria twice a week. RSVP volunteers help to prepare and serve the children the meals. The volunteer station requests and receives from each child's parent or guardian a fee of $7.00 per meal. The volunteer station receives all the food to prepare the meals as in-kind donations from the school. Because all the food is donated, the $7.00 fee received is not used at all to reimburse the volunteer station for expenses incurred. Rather, the $7.00 fee is entirely profit for the volunteer station.

Is this arrangement permissible?

No. This arrangement is not permissible.

Here the volunteer station requests and receives payment for each child who receives a meal (i.e., each beneficiary). The meals are prepared and served by non-salaried RSVP volunteers. In addition, the payment does not reimburse the volunteer station for the expenses it has incurred for the food. Rather, the $7.00 fee is used by the volunteer station to pay other expenses; the $7.00 fee is not used to cover the cost of employing people to prepare and serve the meals. Under these facts, the volunteer station appears to be receiving a profit for each meal served – i.e., $7.00 per meal in profit. Moreover, the $7.00 per meal fee is not nominal. Therefore, this arrangement is not permissible. The arrangement violates the "fee-for-service" prohibition.

Scenario 3:

Assume the same facts as the example immediately above, except that the RSVP volunteer station requests and receives from the child's parent or guardian a fee of $2.00 per meal.

Is this arrangement permissible?

The grantee should seek review and a definitive answer from CNCS. Explanation: Here, the volunteer station requests and receives payment for each child who receives a meal (i.e., each beneficiary). The meals are prepared and served by RSVP volunteers. In addition, the $2.00 per meal payment does not reimburse the volunteer station for expenses because the food has been donated. The volunteer station is receiving the $2.00 per meal payment which the volunteer station uses to cover station expenses other than the preparation and serving of the food. However, the $2.00 per meal charge is a nominal fee. While the $2.00 per meal charge may be deemed profit, the amount is nominal, and the beneficiary receives a plain benefit at a reduced rate.

The grantee should seek CNCS's review and assessment of the specific facts to ensure that the grantee is in compliance with the statutory provision. If CNCS determines that the amount received by the volunteer station is nominal, the arrangement would be permissible.

Scenario 4:

As a final example, assume that an RSVP grantee has a volunteer station within a county. The RSVP grantee receives state grant funds that permit payments to the grantee to reimburse it for transportation-related expenses to transport eligible disabled adults to medical appointments within the county. RSVP volunteers have assignments that include driving these adults to and from their medical appointments within the county. The volunteer drives a vehicle that is owned and operated by the sponsor or the station. Those eligible disabled adults who participate in this service are required to pay the RSVP grantee directly $6.00 per ride roundtrip. Of the $6.00 fee, the adult who is being given the ride (i.e., the beneficiary) pays $4.00 per roundtrip ride that covers some but usually not all of the actual fuel costs. The other $2.00 is intended to cover, as appropriate, other costs that may be associated with operating the vehicle (e.g., maintenance, repairs). Finally, the RSVP volunteer who is driving the adult receives no payments for his or her driving services. The RSVP grantee receives all payments related to the driving services.

Is this arrangement permissible?

The grantee should seek review and a definitive answer from CNCS. Explanation: Here, the RSVP grantee receives payment from beneficiaries in the county who receive rides to medical appointments from RSVP volunteers. Of the $6.00 per roundtrip ride, $4.00 is meant to reimburse some but usually not all of the fuel-related expenses. The other $2.00 paid by the beneficiary is intended to cover costs that may, or may not, be associated with repair and maintenance of the vehicle operating the vehicle. However, regardless of how the volunteer station uses this $2.00 amount, and even though the amount may be deemed profit, the amount is nominal. Also, the roundtrip ride that costs $6.00 provides the beneficiary a plain benefit at a reduced rate.

The grantee should seek CNCS's review and assessment of the specific facts to ensure that the grantee is in compliance with the statutory provision. If CNCS determines that the amount received by the volunteer station is nominal, the arrangement would be permissible.

Appendix A.15 – Final Rule Overview

Overview

Senior Corps implemented updated program regulations, 45 CFR 2551, 45 CFR 2552, and 45 CFR 2553, in the Federal Register on January 31, 2019. Many of the updates were to reword regulations for clarity and to make technical changes such as numbering. Other updates which more significant to change are highlighted below.

Foster Grandparent Program/ Senior Companion Program

- Reduces the minimum requirement of ongoing in-service training annually from forty (40) hours to twenty-four (24) (45 CFR 2552.23 (f) and 45 CFR 2551.23(f)).
- Removes annual service plan and annual assessment requirements as these processes are duplicative of work required to assess community need for national performance measure requirements (45 CFR 2552.23 (i),(j) and 45 2551.23 (i),(j)).
- Removes annual volunteer physical examination requirement (45 CFR 2552.41(a)(2)/ 2552.46(d) and 2551.41(a)(2)/ 2551.46(d)).
- Clarifies that Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits, public assistance, child support, and disability payments are not considered income for eligibility verification purposes (45 CFR 2552.44(a),(b) and 45 CFR 2551.44(a),(b)).
- Changes the service hour requirement to volunteers must serve at least five (5) hours weekly or 260 hours annually (45 CFR 2552.51/ 45 CFR 2551.51).
- Removes the Direct Benefit Ratio or “80/20 rule” which required that a sum equal to at least 80 percent of the amount of the Federal share of the grant award shall be expended on cost reimbursements that are provided directly to volunteers such as stipend payments, transportation reimbursements, meals, and recognition (45 CFR 2552.92(e)/ 45 CFR 2551.92(e)).
- Removes the requirement that FGP and SCP projects coordinate with local RSVP projects when enrolling over-income FGP and SCP volunteers (45 CFR 2552.101/45 CFR 2551.101).
- Revises non-stipend volunteer service requirement to mirror stipended volunteer service requirements (45 CFR 2552.102(e) (f)/45 CFR 2551.102(e) (f)). The new regulations no longer recommend that non-stipended volunteers serve at separate volunteer stations from stipended volunteers and no longer recommend an average weekly service hour requirement for non-stipended volunteers that differed from the requirement for stipended volunteers.
- Removes the requirement to separate any administrative cost related to non-stipend volunteers (45 CFR 2552.104/ 45 CFR 2551.104).

RSVP

- Removes annual service plan and annual assessment requirements as these processes are duplicative of work required to assess community need for national performance measure requirements (45 CFR 2553.23(f)(g)).
- Clarifies cost reimbursements such that recognition and insurance must be provided; meals and transportation may be provided (45 CFR 2553.43).

Appendix A.15 – Final Rule Overview

- Removes language that “no more than 5% of the total number of volunteers budgeted for the project are assigned to it in administrative or support positions” (45 CFR 2553.61).
- Broadens the RSVP performance measurement language (45 CFR 2553 Subpart J).

Appendix A.16 – Final Rule FAQs

Overview

Below are questions and answers related to the Senior Corps Final Rule that became effective on January 31, 2019. The following questions were gathered from public comments and clarifications requested; and questions we heard from Senior Corps Grantees and CNCS Program Officers/ Portfolio Manager since the initial notice was posted. You can review the full regulations here.

General- All Senior Corps Programs

1. If a program was in the middle of a grant year when the updated regulations went into effect on January 31, 2019, would it follow the old or new regulations?

Senior Corps programs will follow the new regulations for the entire grant year. Effectively, this means that sponsors may consider the rule retroactively from the start of the grant award. For example, if an FGP or SCP program’s annual budget period begins in July 2018 (and the final rule is effective in February 2019), then the program will not be required to meet the Direct Benefit Ratio rule for its whole budget year beginning in July 2018.

2. How long will a Senior Corps grantee have to develop new policies that reflect the updated regulations?

Most of the updated regulations result in a reduction or elimination of rules; therefore, sponsors may create new policies if/when determining that a change is necessary. For those that require immediate change, policies should be in place when updated regulations are effective. For example, updated regulations related to income eligibility rules, such as the changes related SNAP benefits or 401ks, may need policy updates ahead of the effective date of January 31, 2019.

3. What is the meaning of “vulnerable populations” as used in the definition of proprietary health care organizations (45 CFR 2551.12, 45 CFR 2552.12, 45 CFR 2553.12)?

CNCS defines vulnerable populations in its grant terms and conditions to include children age 17 or younger, persons age 60 and older, and/or individuals with disabilities. Individuals with disabilities are defined as having a physical or mental impairment which substantially limits one or more major life activities, has a record of such impairment, or is regarded as having such impairment.

4. With the elimination of the requirements to “develop, and annually update, a plan for promoting service by older adults within a project service area” (45 CFR 2551.23(i), 45 CFR 2552.23 (i), and 45 CFR 2553.23 (f)) and “to annually assess the accomplishments and impacts the (SCP, FGP, or RSVP) project on the identified needs and problems in the community” (45 CFR 2551.23 (j), 45 CFR 2552.23 (j), and 45 CFR 2553.23 (g)), what are projects still required to do to assess community needs?

Senior Corps grantees complete this work when detailing the community needs as part of performance measurement requirements in the grant application. A separate report or plan is no longer required.

5. Can an exception be made to the requirement that a SCP, FGP, or RSVP project director work full-time?

The language in regulation for all three programs explicitly state that “a sponsor may negotiate the employment of a part-time project director with CNCS when the sponsor can demonstrate that such an arrangement will not adversely affect the size, scope, or quality of project operations” (45 CFR 2551.25(c), 45 CFR 2552.25(c), and 45 CFR 2553.25(c)).

6. Are sponsors no longer required to compensate project directors at a level that is comparable with other staff positions in their organization?

CNCS considered the comments received during the public comment period on the proposed rule and added language to the final rule that a sponsoring organization shall “to the extent practicable, compensate project staff at a level that is comparable with similar staff positions in the sponsor organization and/or project service area” (45 CFR 2551.25(e), 45 CFR 2552.25(e), 45 CFR 2553.25(e)). CNCS made this change so that sponsors have the discretion to negotiate with their project staff regarding appropriate compensation levels.

7. How do these changes affect Senior Demonstration Program (SDP) grants?

SDP grants are not governed by these regulations, and so, not affected by them directly. However, specific grants may make reference to some aspects of regulation in their Terms and Conditions. Grantees should review their Terms and Conditions and discuss any potential implications with their CNCS Program Officer/Portfolio Manager.

8. How do these changes affect grants that receive no federal funding?

Grants that do not receive federal funding, but that are awarded under FGP, RSVP, or SCP are subject to that program’s regulations. Changes to the regulations that govern those programs apply to these awards as well.

Senior Companion Program (SCP)/ Foster Grandparent Program (FGP)

9. Is there a maximum stipend level (45 CFR 2551.12(s), 45 CFR 2552.12(v)) and/or can a maximum stipend level be set by projects locally?

The current definition of “stipend” for SCP and FGP ensures that stipend amounts are not subject to a specified maximum. In addition, because the amount of the stipend is required to be set nationally, a maximum stipend level may not be set by projects locally.

10. Are SNAP benefits considered as income for SCP and FGP volunteer eligibility?

No, the updated regulations clarify that Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits, public assistance, child support, and disability payments are not considered income for eligibility verification purposes (45 CFR 2552.44(a),(b)).

11. I understand that SNAP benefits are not considered income for the purposes of stipend eligibility in the SCP and FGP program. Do I need to take any action with respect to my current volunteers?

This update to the non-exhaustive list of funds that are not considered income for volunteer eligibility verification purposes clarifies that food and nutrition programs, like the SNAP program, as well as public assistance, child support, and disability payments, are not considered income. In light of this clarification, your local policies and procedures may need to be updated. Moving forward, please update as necessary your local policies and procedures to ensure these types of funds are excluded from consideration in your annual reviews of volunteer income eligibility.

12. Is a 401(k) considered income for SCP and FGP volunteer eligibility?

Yes, CNCS has updated the list of what is considered income for purposes of determining eligibility to include retirement savings plan in the updated regulations (45 CFR 2551.44(a)(b), 45 CFR 2552.44(a)(b)).

13. I understand that a 401(k) is considered income for the purposes of stipend eligibility in the SCP and FGP program. Do I need to take any action with respect to my current volunteers?

This update to the non-exhaustive list of funds that are considered income for volunteer eligibility verification purposes clarifies that retirement savings plans, such as 401(k) plans, are considered income. In light of this clarification, your local policies and procedures may need to be updated. Moving forward, please update as necessary your local policies and procedures to include these types of funds for consideration in your annual reviews of volunteer income eligibility.

14. Does the reduction in ongoing, in-service training hours to a minimum of 24 hours annually (45 CFR 2551.23(f), 45 CFR 2552.23(f) affect the pre-service training requirement?

No, the expectation that SCP and FGP volunteers receive at least 20 hours of pre-service orientation when they begin service continues.

15. Does the ongoing, in-service training requirement of 24 hours annually need to be conducted monthly?

No, the requirement is for 24 hours annually and not 2 hours monthly (45 CFR 2551.23(f), 45 CFR 2552.23(f)). Sponsors may determine how to allocate time for in-service trainings during the year to meet the requirement. Additional information on planning and conducting in-service training is found in the Program Handbooks, located at the Managing Senior Corps Grants webpage.

16. Can SCP and FGP programs still require an annual physical even though they are no longer required in the new regulations?

No, programs may not require an annual physical as a requirement for SCP and FGP volunteers. Programs may, however, provide a physical examination or assistance with the cost of a physical examination prior to assignment and annually thereafter as a benefit for volunteers. CNCS removed the requirement as it was burdensome and costly and was frequently cited as an administrative barrier to recruitment. However, CNCS recognizes the value of offering physical examinations to volunteers who may not otherwise have the resources or means to obtain them, therefore, this direct benefit is retained as an allowable grant expense. As such, CNCS has added “Physical examination” to the articulated cost reimbursements for SCP and FGP in the final rule

(45 CFR 2551.46(f), 45 CFR 2552.46(f)).

17. Will programs be able to set their own requirements for volunteer service hours even though the new regulation now states that the minimum hours are at least five (5) hours weekly or 260 hours annually (45 CFR 2551.51, 45 CFR 2552.51)?

Yes, projects are still able to set local policies that define hours of service for volunteers. Indeed, because sponsors are able to set local weekly hours of service policies, they may elect to establish the minimum weekly hours of service expected at any level in between the 5 hour weekly minimum and the 40 hour weekly maximum.

18. Do programs need to abide by both the hourly and annual volunteer service hour requirement, or may they choose one? May they use either the hourly or annual requirement for different volunteers? (45 CFR 2551.51, 45 CFR 2552.51)?

Sponsors may choose to abide by either the hourly or annual minimums. A sponsor must also document how it chooses to meet the requirement above in local policies that define hours of service for volunteers and the sponsor must implement its policies consistently.

19. What if a volunteer goes on medical leave and doesn't meet the requirement of 260 hours annually? In this scenario, is the grantee out of compliance?

The requirement is a minimum of 5 volunteer hours per week OR 260 volunteer hours annually. Sponsors should set policies that define leave, in accordance with applicable regulations. When developing leave policies, sponsors should consider applicable rules and regulations that may impact volunteer management, like the hours of service requirement, criminal history check requirements, etc.

20. Do SCP or FGP volunteers who aren't serving five hours per week due to medical reasons, summer programming, inclement weather, or other reasons need to be put on administrative leave?

Sponsors should set policies that define leave, in accordance with applicable regulations. When developing leave policies, sponsors should consider applicable rules and regulations that may impact volunteer management, like the hours of service requirement, criminal history check requirements, etc.

21. How does the change to the service hour requirement (45 CFR 2551.51, 45 CFR 2552.51) affect a Senior Corps sponsor's volunteer leave policy?

Sponsors should set policies that define leave, in accordance with applicable regulations. When developing leave policies, sponsors should consider applicable rules and regulations that may impact volunteer management, like the hours of service requirement, criminal history check requirements, etc.

22. Is there minimum amount of hours a volunteer must serve each day to receive a meal reimbursement?

Sponsors set policies locally that define when a volunteer may receive a meal or meal reimbursement.

23. If a program is in the middle of a grant year when the removal of the Direct Benefit Ratio is effective, on January 31, 2019, can they make adjustments to their budget?

Sponsors may consider the final rule retroactively from the start of the grant award and may therefore make adjustments to their budget, come February 1, 2019. If the federal share of a grant is greater than the Simplified Acquisition Threshold amount of $150,000 and the grantee's cumulative changes exceeds 10% of the total budget, the grantee must request prior approval to submit an amendment. In addition, a sponsor must request prior approval if seeking to adjust the grant's VSY level, regardless of the Simplified Acquisition Threshold.

24. Does the new minimum requirement of volunteer service hours include all stipended hours?

FGP/ SCP volunteers serve 5-40 hours a week for 260-2080 hours annually. Though minimum service hours have reduced, the stipend is still paid for the hourly service schedule that volunteers spend with assigned clients, for earned leave if applicable, and for the attendance at official project events, e.g., orientation, in-service training, Advisory Council meetings (as members or official observers), recognition events, and travel time between individual assignments.

25. May sponsors use CNCS funding on any/all administrative cost's related to non-stipend volunteers?

While the CNCS has eliminated/ reduced requirements related to implementing a project with non-stipended volunteers, federal funding and non-CNCS match funding may not be used to support cost reimbursements for non-stipended volunteers, like meals, transportation, physical exams, etc. With the new regulations, grantees are no longer required to track administrative costs and split out time dedicated to non-stipend volunteers.

Senior Companion Program (SCP)

26. What is the impact of the regulation changes related to the Senior Companion Leaders?

Overall, the purpose of the regulation revisions related to Senior Companion Leaders was to create its own section and consolidate all regulations so that all the references to leaders were in one location and easier to understand (45 CFR 2551, Subpart G). However, there is updated language added to clarify that Senior Companion Leaders, through recognition, may receive an additional monetary incentive (45 CFR 2551.73(c)).

Foster Grandparent Program (FGP)

27. What specifically changed in the definition of the children that FGP volunteers can serve?

The new regulations expand the FGP definition of "Children having exceptional needs" to include "behavioral disorders" and "math and other educational needs" (45 CFR 2552.11(f)).

RSVP

28. Can an RSVP project serve as a volunteer station in addition to the RSVP sponsor?

Yes, CNCS has expressly stated in the new regulations that RSVP sponsors and RSVP projects themselves may serve as volunteer stations (45 CFR 2553.61).

29. Did the performance measurement requirements change for RSVP in the new regulations?

The updated regulations broaden the RSVP performance measurement language and eliminate certain definitions related to performance measures. (45 CFR 2553.101 – 45 CFR 2553.109). CNCS made these changes to make it easier for CNCS and for sponsors to keep pace with evolving industry standards. CNCS will continue to provide information on performance measures through guidance and training rather than in regulation.

30. With the elimination of the requirements to “develop, and annually update, a plan for promoting service by older adults within a project service area” (45 CFR 2553.23(f)) and “to annually assess the accomplishments and impacts the RSVP project on the identified needs and problems in the community” (45 CFR 2553.23(g)), are RSVP projects still required to perform annual safety assessments?

RSVP Sponsors are still required to ensure the safety of their volunteers at volunteer stations (45 CFR 2553.23(v)). Rather than annually assessing the safety of stations via a separate email or report, RSVP sponsors should maintain an MOU “that states the station will provide for the safety of the RSVP volunteers assigned to the station” (45 CFR 2553.23(v)).

The Station's Responsibilities

1. (FGP only) In partnership with the project staff, the station staff will develop an assignment plan for each Foster Grandparent and for each child served. The sponsor's representative, and the volunteer must sign the written assignment plan that: identifies the children to be served; the role and activities of the volunteer; the expected outcomes for each child; and addresses the period of time each child should receive such services. Volunteer station staff, FGP project staff, and the volunteer will review the Foster Grandparent's assignment as well as the impact of the assignment on the child's development.
2. (FGP only) Assign children with designated special or exceptional needs to each volunteer.
3. (FGP only) Exclude Foster Grandparents as supervising adults when calculating state-mandated adult-to-child ratios.

11. (if applicable) Arrange for annual physical examinations for up to ___ FGP/SCP volunteers (including a 20% turnover rate) at $___ per examination. Donor verifies funds are not from other federal sources unless authorized under law. For these volunteers, the Volunteer Station will obtain, and provide the sponsor with a certificate signed by the examining medical professional confirming that the volunteer is capable, with or without reasonable accommodation, to either himself/herself or the children/clients served.
12. (if applicable) Provide meals for up to # ___ volunteers each day and provide a regular accounting to the FGP/SCP of the value of meals provided. 13. (if applicable) Provide transportation for up to #___ volunteers each day and provide a regular accounting to the FGP/SCP of the value of the transportation provided. What is considered income for determining volunteer eligibility?

According to Section 2552.44 of the FGP Regulations and 2551.44 of the SCP Regulations:

- (a) For determining eligibility, "income" refers to total cash or in-kind receipts before taxes from all sources including:
 - (1) Money, wages, and salaries before any deduction;
 - (2) Receipts from self-employment or from a farm or business after deductions for business or farm expenses;
 - (3) Social Security, Unemployment or Workers Compensation, strike benefits, training stipends, alimony, and military family allotments, or other regular support from an absent family member or someone not living in the household;
 - (4) Government employee pensions, private pensions, regular insurance or annuity payments, and 401(k) or other retirement savings plans; and
 - (5) Income from dividends, interest, net rents, royalties, or income from estates and trusts.
- (b) For eligibility purposes, income does not refer to the following money receipts:
 - (1) Any assets drawn down as withdrawals from a bank, sale of property, house or car, tax refunds, gifts, one-time insurance payments or compensation from injury;
 - (2) Non-cash income, such as the bonus value of food and fuel produced and consumed on farms and the imputed value of rent from owner-occupied farm or non-farm housing;
 - (3) Regular payments for public assistance including the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP)
 - (4) Social Security Disability or any type of disability payment; and
 - (5) Food or rent received in lieu of wages.

What are allowable medical expenses that may be deducted from income?

According to the FGP Regulations, 2552.43(c) and SCP Regulations, 2551.43(c):

Allowable medical expenses are annual out-of-pocket medical expenses for health insurance premiums, health care services, and medications provided to the applicant, enrollee, or spouse which were not and will not be paid by Medicare, Medicaid, other insurance, or other third party pay or, and which do not exceed 50 percent of the applicable income guideline.

Examples of allowable out-of-pocket medical expenses include but are not limited to:

Health Insurance Costs:

Private insurance, Medicare/Medicaid premiums, co-payments and deductibles, long term care insurance

Prescription Drugs:

Pharmacy program co-payments and deductibles

Medical Bills for Dr. Visits:

Included, but not limited to: medical care, dental care, vision care not covered by health insurance

Other out-of-pocket Medical expenses:

One-time medical expense: equipment, supplies for dentures, hearing aids, eyeglasses, wheelchairs, canes, etc... Over the counter drugs and supplies not covered by health insurance: pain relievers, antacids, hearing aid batteries, vitamins, non-prescription eye glasses

When and where are the current income eligibility guidelines published?

CNCS publishes the annual income eligibility guidelines shortly after the issuance of the HHS Poverty Guidelines, usually in February or early March. When issued the income eligibility guidelines are posted at Senior Corps Resources under "Manage Senior Corps Grants." The guidelines clarify that for eligibility purposes, income does not include the value of food stamps provided under the Food Stamp Act of 1977, as amended.

If you have questions or need further clarification on determining income eligibility, please contact your CNCS State Office.

Appendix D.1 – Sample FGP Volunteer Assignment Plan

Assignment Plan

Instructions: It is a federal requirement that all Foster Grandparents have an assignment plan for the children with whom they are assigned to work. The children they are assigned to must have documented exceptional or special needs, verified by an appropriate professional. Your organization should retain on file documentation of the verifying professional’s qualifications to assess the children’s needs. The Foster Grandparent is assigned to your organization to provide one-on-one assistance and perform activities based on needs of selected children.

Please complete all sections, documenting the child’s needs, the activities you want the volunteer to perform, and the desired results of those activities. The completed assignment plan becomes the volunteer’s “job description.” Please review it with the volunteer to ensure that the required activities and the desired outcomes are understood. Obtain all signatures indicated on page 2 and send to the FGP project office for approval.

This Assignment Plan should also be used to review the volunteer’s performance as well as the impact of the assignment on the children’s development.

The Foster Grandparent Program recognizes and respects the confidentiality of all of the children involved in the program. Please be assured that all of the information that you provide will only be used in aggregate and no specific child will be identified.

Appendix D.3 – Senior Corps and FGP in Times of Disaster

Overview

Disaster Services is one of the key focus areas of the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS). With its expansive network of volunteers across the country, Senior Corps is committed to working within the communities it serves to respond to and recover from disasters when they strike. Each of the three Senior Corps programs can provide disaster services to their communities in times of need. However, Senior Corps grantee operations and volunteers are themselves sometimes impacted and unable to function as normal. This document is intended to provide a framework to guide grantees who either wish to assist with response and recovery operations or who have been affected by a disaster.

What to Do When Disaster Strikes

The primary concern of Senior Corps during a disaster is the immediate safety and security of its grantees and volunteers. It is important for grantee staff and volunteers to follow all community, office, or building disaster preparedness plans for your location. Monitor your local news sources for the most up to date information and follow local or state emergency services guidance.

In order to ensure that all volunteers are accounted for before or after a disaster, Senior Corps suggests that its grantees establish a phone tree as part of any disaster preparedness planning. Program Directors or the assigned disaster preparedness staff member will contact grantee staff members, who should each be assigned an equal number of volunteers in advance to contact before a known potential disaster—such as a hurricane—and/or after the immediate danger of a disaster has passed. Grantee staff will then report back to the relevant phone tree coordinator. Senior Corps program directors should expect to be contacted by CNCS Program Officer or Portfolio Manager who will be gathering information and updates on affected programs.

Responding to and Recovering from Disasters

Once Senior Corps volunteers and grantee staff are accounted for, grantees should assess whether or to what degree operations are impacted. Senior Corps provides flexibility to grantees to revise work plans and performance measures in the aftermath of disasters in cases when original plans are no longer feasible and/or Senior Corps volunteers can respond to emerging community needs in disaster response and long-term recovery. A set of FAQs has been provided as an appendix to this document outlining some of the ways that disaster affected programs may wish to adjust their work, as well as details on allowance and reassignment of volunteers.

For Senior Corps programs with the desire or capacity to assist in disaster response and recovery efforts in their communities are strongly encouraged to consult with their CNCS Program Officer/Portfolio Manager and the CNCS Disaster Services Unit (DSU). Coordination with these key CNCS offices helps coordinate, track, and promote the full national service response and ensure that Senior Corps activity is highlighted. Furthermore, these offices have experience, training, and access to resources to support Senior Corps projects in effective service delivery. The response to a disaster will vary depending on Senior Corp program and the local project design, but we know that national service is a powerful tool for helping to meet the needs of communities when disaster strikes.

RSVP

In consultation with the CNCS Program Officer/Portfolio Manager, RSVP volunteer service activities and work plans may be modified to add additional work plans to meet the new community needs resulting from a disaster. RSVP projects that already have service activities and work plans in the disaster services focus area may consider expanding these service activities to meet the increased needs resulting from a disaster in their geographic service area.

Foster Grandparents

Foster Grandparents who are unable to continue to serve their previously assigned children may be assigned temporarily to other children in shelters or other settings and may serve groups of children, while seeking to provide one-on-one assistance wherever possible.

Senior Companions

Senior Companions who are unable to continue to serve their previously assigned clients may be assigned temporarily to assist other adults with special needs. Assignment plans in such cases may be written generically in recognition of the temporary nature of the assignments.

Additional Questions and Answers for FGP

Project Operations in the Affected Area

- 1) We have lost all or a great many of our project files and other records as a result of the disaster. What should we do?

Please contact your Program Officer/Portfolio Manager and advise them of the extent of the damage. It is important to document for your records when the damage occurred, how it occurred, the extent of the damage, and what types of files were lost. Where possible, include photographs.

- 2) Due to the impact of the disaster, we cannot deliver the required in-service training for our Foster Grandparents for at least the next month or two. May we defer this training and deliver it at a later time?

Yes. This must be documented and approved by the Program Officer/Portfolio Manager. The approval will be for a specific period of time that can be extended after approval by the Program Officer/Portfolio Manager.

- 3) We will be unable to achieve one of more of our performance measures because the disaster has interrupted or changed our project operations. What should we do?

Please contact your Program Officer/Portfolio Manager and discuss the revisions of your performance measures and negotiate revised or new performance measures. After agreement is reached, amend your eGrants application.

- 4) As a result of the redirection of volunteer effort to support emergency disaster response activities, one or more of our project work plans will no longer be valid. What should we do?

Please contact your Program Officer/Portfolio Manager and discuss how your redirected activities will result in new work plans. Changes in programmatic activities must be reflected in your grant via an amendment in eGrants. If a work plan is no longer valid, please indicate in the community needs section. If a new work plan is needed, it would be added in eGrants as an amendment. If the work plans to be modified include performance measures, discuss the revisions of your performance measures and negotiate revised or new performance measures. After agreement is reached, amend your eGrants application.

- 5) If a project in our state is unable to access eGrants, how should we process the required amendments?

Contact your Program Officer/Portfolio Manager to troubleshoot the issue.

Foster Grandparents in the Affected Area and Their Stipends

- 1) How can we appropriately involve Foster Grandparents in relief efforts when their assigned children and adult clients are temporarily not accessible and some of the volunteer stations to which they are assigned may not be operating normally, if at all?

Foster Grandparents who are unable to continue to serve their previously assigned children may be assigned temporarily to other children in shelters or other settings and may serve groups of children, while seeking to provide one-on-one assistance wherever possible.

- 2) Our project has some Foster Grandparents who have no remaining leave time and who are temporarily completely unable to serve due to circumstances caused by disaster. May we use project funds to assist them with a temporary allowance?

Yes. In exceptional circumstances, where a Foster Grandparent is unable to serve and has exhausted all available leave, the Corporation authorizes the payment of a temporary allowance for Foster Grandparents. The primary reason for authorizing such an allowance is that these volunteers are trained and experienced service providers. Rather than risking the eventual loss of valuable Senior Corps volunteers because of their inability to serve during this brief period, it is more advantageous to the respective Senior Corps programs, as well as to the individual program sponsors and volunteer stations, to provide this temporary allowance. In addition, the provision of this allowance should also help ensure the continuity of operations for these programs.

3) Our project has Foster Grandparents who were not scheduled to serve at this time. May they receive a temporary allowance?

No. The temporary allowance may be paid only to Foster Grandparents who are not able to serve because of the declared disaster.

4) What is the amount of the temporary allowance and how long may it be paid?

The amount of such a temporary allowance may not exceed $60.00 per week (calculated at $3.00 times an average service week of 20 hours). The temporary allowance may be paid at this flat rate for up to 10 weeks beginning as approved by the Program Officer/Portfolio Manager (See Question 6 in this section for the approval process).

5) How is the temporary allowance funded?

The temporary allowance may be funded by rebudgeting Volunteer Expense funds in the grant budget. Stipend funds may be rebudgeted for this purpose, with a corresponding temporary reduction in the grantee's VSY level. Such a reduction will not reduce the base level of grant funding.

6) What are the steps in obtaining Program Officer/Portfolio Manager approval for and implementing a temporary disaster allowance to Foster Grandparents who are unable to serve due to the declared disaster?

Step 1: Write your Program Officer/Portfolio Manager providing the following information:

- The date your project began to be affected by the disaster;
- A general description of how the disaster affected your service area;
- The number of volunteers for whom you are seeking approval to pay a temporary disaster allowance and the specific reasons they are unable to serve; and
- For each volunteer, the proposed start and end dates for payment of the temporary allowance.

Step 2: Your Program Officer/Portfolio Manager will provide a written response approving or disapproving your request. If the request is not approved, you will receive an explanation of the reason and may provide additional information if the request is based on an initially incomplete request.

Step 3: When you receive your Program Officer/Portfolio Manager's approval to pay a temporary disaster allowance, you may begin paying it as of the approved date. Be sure your records document that these payments correspond to the temporary allowance and are not stipend payments. Stipends may only be paid to serving volunteers and must be documented by time sheets. Temporary disaster allowance payments do not require time sheets.

Step 4: Immediately initiate a budget amendment in eGrants. At the budget screen, create a new Volunteer Expense line item labeled “Temporary Disaster Allowance.” Off line, for each volunteer, calculate the number of weeks for which the allowance has been approved, find the total number of weeks for all volunteers receiving the allowance, and multiply the total number of weeks by $60.00 to get the total of the approved allowances to be paid. Then reduce the stipend line item by this amount and add this amount to the new Temporary Disaster Allowance line item.

Step 5: Submit your proposed amendment.

Note: If you do not have access to eGrants, the Program Officer/Portfolio Manager may initiate the amendment on your behalf. The FFMC will make the amendment award in e-Grants.

- 7) Some of our Foster Grandparents are evacuees in another location outside our service area (or even in another state) where there is another FGP project. May they temporarily serve with the local project where they are located and receive a stipend?

Yes, provided the local project where the volunteers have relocated is able to accept them. The local project should, if possible, obtain copies of the original volunteer application records documenting eligibility kept at the local project where the individual was serving, or re-qualify the volunteer as age and income eligible. The receiving project must have sufficient volunteer expense funds available and be able to find an assignment appropriate for the particular volunteer.

Projects in Non-Affected Areas

- 1) Evacuees from a disaster area are in my community living in temporary housing. Our project would like to shift some of our volunteers to support the evacuees. Can we do so?

Yes. Please contact your Program Officer/Portfolio Manager to discuss how your redirected activities will result in changes in your work plans. Changes in programmatic activities must be reflected in your grant via an amendment in eGrants. If a work plan is no longer valid, please indicate in the community needs section. If a new work plan is needed, it would be added in eGrants as an amendment. If the work plans to be modified include performance measures, contact your Program Officer/Portfolio Manager and discuss the revisions of your performance measures and negotiate revised or new performance measures. After agreement is reached, amend your eGrants application.

- 2) May our volunteers respond to needs outside the project's service area resulting from a disaster, either by transporting or accompanying evacuees from where they are currently housed to the project service area or by serving at a distant location?

The service of Senior Corps volunteers should focus on needs in their communities, including helping with the local response to the needs of evacuees.

- Grant funds should not be used to transport evacuees.
- Grant funds may be used to reimburse meals or transportation costs for a Senior Corps volunteer who is requested by a disaster response organization to accompany a child or adult who is being relocated.
- Grantees are encouraged to check with their insurance carrier concerning any limitations on liability coverage.

Appendix D.4 – Previous Change Logs

This table lists all changes made in previous revisions of this document, beginning with January 2017. For the most recent changes, please see the Change Log in the front of the current Operations Handbook. All page numbers are accurate at the time of the original revision. Some content may shift in future revisions.

| Edits Made in Version 2017.1 (January 2017) | | |
| Change Number | Chapter and Page Number | Change |
| 1 | This change is not related to a specific chapter. | A new method of tracking versions has been implemented, labeling each revision by the calendar year and calendar quarter of the publication. For example, CNCS published this revision in January (Quarter 1) of 2017, so this is Version 2017.1 |
| 2 | This change is not related to a specific chapter. | We have combined the appendices of each program’s handbook (the SCP Operations Handbook, FGP Operations Handbook and RSVP Operations Handbook) and introduced a new numbering system. This simplifies the use of appendices for sponsors with multiple programs, allows for greater consistency among the programs and will enable CNCS to update them quickly and accurately in the future. We have added a new chapter, Chapter 14: Description and List of Appendices, with more information. Internal references to specific appendices have been updated accordingly. |

| A Note on Changes Resulting from the Final Rule: On December 17, 2018, the Final Rule for the Foster Grandparent Program (FGP), Senior Companion Program (SCP), and RSVP was posted to the Federal Register. After a 45-day public review period, updated regulations for all three programs became effective on January 31, 2019. These regulations affect many aspects of program operations described in this handbook. Due to the scope of the changes, it is not practical to identify each change by page number. Instead, the major changes in each chapter are listed below. In addition, the changes in this Handbook focus on compliant, effective practice going forward, so that this document remains relevant in the future. In general, they do not make explicit before-and-after comparisons of regulation prior to and following the effective date of the Final Rule. Additional resources that do focus on this transition are available at Senior Corps’ Final Rule Headquarters. You may suggest additional changes or guidance by emailing SeniorCorpsHandbooks@cns.gov. This update also contains some changes that are not directly related to the Final Rule. As a result, the changes below are presented in two sections. The first outlines the changes directly related to the Final Rule. The second contains all other changes. Changes that are not directly related to the Final Rule are identified by page number, as in prior change logs. | |
