“Colleges and universities are called upon to prepare students to be active, engaged leaders in our communities. AmeriCorps, in partnership with higher education, helps build the kind of leaders our local and global communities need to thrive in the 21st century. In addition, AmeriCorps has been particularly effective at helping to improve retention of students because, through their experience in AmeriCorps, students develop a greater sense of purpose while cultivating strong personal and professional networks on their campus and in their local communities where they serve.”
