

National Service in New Mexico

MEETING COMMUNITY NEEDS IN NEW MEXICO

More than 4,500 people of all ages and backgrounds are helping to meet local needs, strengthen communities, and increase civic engagement through national service in New Mexico. Serving at more than 680 locations throughout the state, these citizens tutor and mentor children, support veterans and military families, provide health services, restore the environment, respond to disasters, increase economic opportunity, and recruit and manage volunteers.

This year, the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) will commit more than $8,020,000 to support New Mexico communities through national service initiatives. CNCS invests in cost-effective community solutions--working hand in hand with local partners to improve lives, expand economic opportunity, and engage citizens in solving problems in their communities. Serving in many of the state's most impoverished communities, CNCS provides vital support to schools, food banks, homeless shelters, community health clinics, youth centers, veterans service facilities, and other nonprofit and faith-based organizations at a time of growing demand for services. Through a unique public-private partnership, this federal investment will leverage an additional $10,440,000 in other resources to strengthen community impact, build local support, and increase return on taxpayer dollars. Nationwide, CNCS, its grantees, and project sponsors generated more than $1.25 billion in outside resources from businesses, foundations, public agencies, and other sources in FY 2015.

AmeriCorps: This year AmeriCorps will provide more than 670 individuals the opportunity to provide intensive, results-driven service to meet education, environmental, health, economic, and other pressing needs in communities across New Mexico. Most AmeriCorps grant funding goes to the New Mexico Commission for Community Volunteerism, which in turn awards grants to nonprofit groups to respond to local needs. Most of the remainder of the grant funding is distributed by CNCS directly to multi-state and national organizations through a competitive grants process. Other individuals serve through AmeriCorps VISTA, whose members help bring individuals and communities out of poverty by serving full-time to fight illiteracy, improve health services, create businesses, and increase housing opportunities, and AmeriCorps NCCC (National Civilian Community Corps), a 10-month, full time residential program for men and women between the ages of 18 and 24. In exchange for their service, AmeriCorps members earn an education award that can be used to pay for college or to pay back qualified student loans. Since 1994, more than 9,800 New Mexico residents have served more than 11 million hours and have qualified for Segal AmeriCorps Education Awards totaling more than $23,580,000.

Senior Corps: More than 3,800 seniors in New Mexico contribute their time and talents in one of three Senior Corps programs. Foster Grandparents serve one-on-one as tutors and mentors to more than 1,200 young people who have special needs. Senior Companions help more than 950 homebound seniors and other adults maintain independence in their own homes. RSVP volunteers conduct safety patrols, renovate homes, protect the environment, tutor and mentor youth, respond to natural disasters, and provide other services through more than 300 groups across New Mexico.

Social Innovation Fund: The Social Innovation Fund transforms lives and communities using limited federal investment as a catalyst to grow the impact of nonprofits with evidence of strong results. It harnesses the expertise of grantmaking intermediaries to identify, evaluate and expand effective nonprofits and engages funding partners to contribute nearly three dollars to every one federal dollar invested. As the Social Innovation Fund network grows programs that work in New Mexico, more people are able to overcome their most pressing challenges in the areas of economic opportunity, health, and youth development. The Social Innovation Fund is investing more than $410,000 in expanding the impact of 4 nonprofits in New Mexico.

The Corporation for National and Community Service is a federal agency that improves lives, strengthens communities, and fosters civic engagement through service and volunteering. CNCS annually engages more than five million Americans in service to meet local needs through Senior Corps, AmeriCorps, and national days of service; improves communities through the Social Innovation Fund, and leads President Obama's national call to service initiative, United We Serve. Notes: The data shown represents a snapshot in time. CNCS project sites, participants, and funding change throughout the year, so the data may not reflect current conditions.

- ¹ This figure represents the number of awarded positions available to be filled in the 2015 - 2016 program year. For AmeriCorps VISTA, this represents the actual number of VISTA members in active service.
- ² This figure represents the maximum potential value of Segal AmeriCorps Education Awards that can be earned by AmeriCorps members serving in New Mexico. The award can be used in any state to pay for college, graduate school, vocational training, or to pay back student loans. The education award total is included in total CNCS funding.
- ³ AmeriCorps National figures may include national programs headquartered in the state and/or operating sites of national programs that are headquartered in other states. Funding reflects the estimated proportionate share of the national grant associated with operating sites in this report. Some national organizations do not report operating site data, or it was not available at time of publishing, so figures may not reflect current conditions.
- ⁴ New Mexico is served by the AmeriCorps NCCC campus located in Lakewood, Colorado. In the past year, AmeriCorps NCCC teams have served on projects in Taos, Truth Or Consequences, Fort Stanton, Albuquerque, Ojo Encino, Las Cruces, Farmington, Roswell.
- ⁵ The service location total may contain multiple counts of unique locations where multiple CNCS programs are operating.
- ⁶ As part of its public-private partnership approach, CNCS requires grantees to leverage additional resources to strengthen community impact and increase the return on the federal investment. This figure reflects non-CNCS cash and in-kind resources that CNCS grantees and project sponsors have committed to raise or other revenue used to support their programming activities across the state. Last year, CNCS, its grantees, and project sponsors generated more than $1.25 billion in outside resources from businesses, foundations, public agencies, and other sources.

Since 1994, more than 9,800 New Mexico residents have served more than 11 million hours and have qualified for Segal AmeriCorps Education Awards totaling more than $23,580,000.

State Commission

The New Mexico Commission for Community Volunteerism manages a portfolio of nine AmeriCorps State programs with more than 400 AmeriCorps members serving across the state addressing critical needs in the areas of education, health, environment, economic opportunity, disaster, and capacity building. In the 2014-2015 program year, more than 2,000 students demonstrated academic improvement due to the efforts of AmeriCorps members. Additionally the New Mexico Commission for Community Volunteerism trained programs and AmeriCorps members in volunteer recruitment and retention, conflict resolution, public speaking, and life after AmeriCorps.

AmeriCorps State

Rocky Mountain Youth Corps' AmeriCorps members served at the Bandelier National Monument, which is one of the oldest Native American ruins in the state. The AmeriCorps members, who are all youth of Native American descent, participated in preservation work on some of the most cherished ruins at the monument. Members learned techniques that were used by their ancestors centuries ago when the structures were built. They reported a deep connection with not only the preservation work but their ancestry.

Earth Care Cadre's AmeriCorps members have helped implement a program allowing Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program recipients to use their EBT cards at farmers markets. Among the many benefits of the program, SNAP recipients can scan $50 off of their EBT card and receive a total of $100 in tokens. This is meant to further encourage recipients to eat healthy and buy locally, which benefits the recipient and the farmer.

AmeriCorps National

New Mexico's response to the HIV epidemic is challenged by the state's rural nature and limited HIV-specific resources. To help address HIV in their communities, 10 full-time AIDS United AmeriCorps members provide direct services, including HIV testing and counseling, health care access, prevention outreach, prevention education, and emotional and social services to at-risk populations in Albuquerque and Santa Fe. Since 2007, AmeriCorps members have informed more than 4,000 people of their HIV status through HIV rapid testing and counseled them on their risk behaviors. Members have reached almost 30,000 people through community outreach and education, providing information about HIV/AIDS risk reduction, community resources, and how to access medical care. AIDS United AmeriCorps members have mobilized more than 1,300 volunteers in New Mexico.

The Southwest Conservation Corps Ancestral Lands AmeriCorps programs are based out of Acoma Pueblo in the Navajo Nation, and, starting in 2016, the Zuni Reservation in partnership with the other Ancestral Lands offices. In 2015, nine crews and eight interns improved 74 miles of trails and 597 acres of tribal and federal land. The Corps doubled the size of Ancestral Lands programs this year and expanded to include an internship opportunity for Native youth. AmeriCorps members in National Park Service units engage local Native youth, develop partnerships to support a future corps, and learn about career opportunities with the National Park Service. The Corps has a strong cadre of crew leaders that have developed and advanced through the program. As it grows and expands, the program will continue to mentor and develop leadership from within. Local corps leaders are the backbone of the organization, and training and investing in them continues to be a top priority.

FoodCorps has 10 AmeriCorps members serving in Albuquerque, Anthony, Gallup, Paso Del Norte Region, Santo Domingo Pueblo, and Silver City. FoodCorps is a nationwide team of AmeriCorps leaders who work under the direction of local partner organizations to connect children to real food and help them grow up healthy. They teach children hands-on lessons about food and nutrition build and tend school gardens, teach cooking lessons, and help change what's on lunch trays so that children can eat healthy food from local farms. In the past year, the FoodCorps members in New Mexico served 7,475 children, built or brought back into use 36 school and community gardens, harvested 1,295 pounds of produce, and recruited 472 community volunteers.

AmeriCorps VISTA

In 2015, the YDI Family Connections AmeriCorps VISTA project has built community capacity by recruiting more than 300 volunteers who have served approximately 3,000 hour. They have held 102 family engagement events focused on education and healthy futures and provided a wide range of support services to historically marginalized families throughout Albuquerque and Laguna. YDI Family Connections continues to attract strong candidates to sustain the program and is branching out into building social media capacity with the addition of an AmeriCorps VISTA member dedicated to media and outreach. In the past three months, the VISTA has increased the project's digital reach by more than 1,500 percent.

National Service Impact in New Mexico

Boys and Girls Clubs in Indian Country (BGCIC) AmeriCorps VISTA members provide tangible impact by creating targeted cultural and educational programs for Native youth. New programs in 2015 included Story Time with local Tribal elders, a Big Littles mentoring program, a garden project with traditional Native plants, and a Cooking Club. An AmeriCorps VISTA member at the Penobscot Boys & Girls Club developed a Youth Science Camp focusing on combining science with traditional Native ecological knowledge. A member at the Boys & Girls Club of Brookings has worked to establish a partnership with the local Native high school and develop a college readiness program, incorporating college visits across the state of New Mexico. Another member at the Penobscot Boys & Girls Club built a website to promote the Club in the local tribal community. AmeriCorps VISTA members serving with the project report that service gave them the opportunity to “bring together elders and children in the community” to “be part of a project dedicated to expanding the success of the Club” and to “be part of something bigger in the community.”

AmeriCorps NCCC

The mission of the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) is to sustain the health, diversity, and productivity of the public lands for the use and enjoyment of present and future generations. The Roswell Field Office manages almost 1.5 million acres of public lands in Southeast New Mexico. An AmeriCorps NCCC team was requested to support the BLM's efforts. For thirteen weeks, a team served in the Fort Stanton-Snowy River Cave National Conservation Area (FS-SRC NCA) in Fort Stanton. Members completed a variety of projects around the area, including building new, sustainable trails; repairing the boundary fence; removing abandoned cattle fences; thinning wildland fuels; and treating for invasive species. The work completed will have lasting positive effects on the region. The team's service will lower the burden of trail maintenance, reduce risk of wildfire, provide a more open environment for wildlife, and secure the National Conservation Area's boundary from nearby ranches. Increasing the sustainability of trails, removing excess fencing, and treating for invasive species will ultimately allow future visitors to enjoy the area in the most pristine conditions.

Conservation Legacy's mission is to serve underserved communities and people throughout the USA and its territories. The organization focuses its work on providing those communities with the resources they need to make their communities cleaner, healthier places to work and live. An AmeriCorps NCCC team was requested to join Conservation Legacy and support their efforts. Members served with Conservation Legacy and seven other partnering organizations on several one-to-two-week projects. Despite the varied nature of tasks completed with each organization, all communities benefited in similar ways. The food grown at each of the organizations' gardens was primarily donated to local school cafeterias, with an additional portion of the food being donated to low-income students. The fact that each of the three organizations has a staff of fewer than ten people who are available to tend hundreds of square feet of growing space makes planting efficiently and installing garden accessories a difficult task. Thus, the team's greatest contribution to these organizations was simply helping with tasks that will increase local children's access to healthy food.

Senior Corps Foster Grandparent Program

The City of Albuquerque Foster Grandparent Program provided services to 172 children in the 2014-2015 school year. Albuquerque Foster Grandparents helped 123 elementary school children with word analysis and acquisition of vocabulary in writing and speaking, reading fluency and comprehension, and grade level numerical problem solving. Of the children that completed the program with assistance from a Foster Grandparent, 80 percent demonstrated improved academic performance in literacy and/or math. Foster Grandparents helped 20 children in Head Start programs with self-control, peer relations, conflict resolution, self-help tasks, patterns, shapes, colors, numbers, and phonetic awareness. Of the children that completed the program with assistance from a Foster Grandparent, 90 percent demonstrated gains in social and/or emotional development. City of Albuquerque Foster Grandparents also assisted 12 students in summer school programs to prepare them for the next school year.

Senior Corps RSVP

The Otero County RSVP program recognizes its Holloman Air Force Base Medical Clinic Pharmacy volunteers. These 26 dedicated RSVP volunteers contributed 4,542 hours in 2015 to help the staff of the 49th Medical Group pharmacy serve thousands of clinic patients. The pharmacy not only serves American active-duty military and their families, but hundreds of retirees and their families, as well as active-duty members of foreign militaries and their families who are either stationed at Holloman Air Force Base or are temporarily stationed here for training and education purposes. Whether they are doing intake, processing prescriptions, stocking shelves, helping maintain and track the inventory, returning patient phone calls, or providing face-to-face customer service, the RSVP volunteers travel from all over Otero County, sometimes more than 40 miles in each direction, to help the 49th Medical Group fulfill this important mission to active duty and retired service men and women from all branches of the military who call Otero County home.

Senior Corps Senior Companion Program

The City of Santa Fe's Senior Companion Program continues to play a vital role in providing care services for elderly adults who would otherwise end up in a nursing home or skilled nursing facility. Based on individualized care plans, Senior Companions provide respite two to four hours per day, two to five days per week. This past year, ten caregivers received services from our program, and all report that they continue to have a better quality of life because of the assistance that they receive. One client is diagnosed with having dementia. Prior to the Senior Companion volunteer providing care, the client was at home alone, fending for herself and mainly sitting in a wheelchair all day worrying about her son's health and waiting for him to get home. The Senior Companion assists her with light meal preparation, light exercises, and much-needed companionship.

Social Innovation Fund

The Social Innovation Fund (SIF) transforms lives by using evidence to find what works and make it work for more people. The SIF Classic and SIF Pay for Success programs harness the expertise of grantmaking intermediaries to identify, evaluate and expand effective nonprofits serving low-income communities across America. SIF Pay for Success program expanded to New Mexico and is working diligently towards establishing programs that aim to help individuals in institutional settings transfer to community-based supportive housing. The Social Innovation Fund is investing $415,329 in expanding the impact of three nonprofits in New Mexico.

Albuquerque, NM	Central New Mexico College AARP Foundation (2014)	Over the course of three years, Central New Mexico College plans on providing core services to 280 people with the goal of obtaining work for 120 people, which is the ultimate outcome to be achieved. Central New Mexico College serves the Albuquerque area.
Santa Fe, NM	Santa Fe Community College AARP Foundation (2014)	Over the course of three years, Santa Fe Community College plans on providing core services to 156 people with the goal of obtaining work for 63 people, which is the ultimate outcome to be achieved. Santa Fe Community College serves Santa Fe County and surrounding Native American Pueblos (Nambé, Picuris, Pojoaque, San Ildefonso San Juan, Santa Clara, Taos and Tesuque). Because New Mexico is a rural state, the college anticipates even more participants 45-50 miles from locations such as Taos.
Santa Fe, NM	State of New Mexico, Human Services Department Corporation for Supportive Housing (PFS)	The State of New Mexico is part of a cohort of state governments all interested in the use of the PFS model to provide persons residing in institutional settings with the opportunity to transition to community-based supportive housing. Specifically, this project will target residents of health care institutions who prefer to live in the community and people who are at-risk of institutionalization. Further, members of the target population will be adults with diagnosable mental, behavioral, or emotional disorders of sufficient duration to meet diagnostic criteria for Serious Mental Illness (SMI) and whose eligible diagnosis has resulted in functional impairment which substantially interferes with, or limits, one or more major life activities. The project will target the counties of Bernalillo, Santa Fe, and San Miguel.
